ITALY'S AIR FLEET IS READY

NEW DEAL HAILS HAMILTON WITH 'BILLION' BOAST

Texas Hears Reply of G. O. P. Chief.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—As an advance counterirritant for the Texas visit today of Flying John Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national committee, New Dealers staged an early ballyhoo for the Roosevelt administration and so the day became one of alternating political currents.

In thus taking the defensive 12 hours before Hamilton's scheduled speech the New Deal surprised both Democrats and Republicans. Texans were reminded, formally and officially, that the Roosevelt administration has given the Lone Star state more than one billion dollars in relief grants, loans, bonuses, etc. It was a rather new note in politics.

Warns Against Usurpation.

Later in the day G. O. P. party workers from all parts of Texas heard Hamilton declare that the threat faced in the November election is "the threat of change by usurpation."

Hamilton spoke at the $25,000,000 Texas centennial exposition as a part of the Hamilton day celebration. He told the Texans that the history of the Lone Star state—the defenders of the Alamo, the victors at San Jacinto—stands with Lexington, Valley Forge, and Saratoga as a reminder that the struggle for true representative government as against usurpation and dictatorship goes on in 1936 as in the days of Washington, and Jefferson, and Sam Houston, Davy Crocket, and James Bowie.

Santa Claus in Texas.

It was in Austin, the state capital, this morning that word was released that a survey had just been received from the national emergency council by the Democratic campaign headquarters, of which Myron Blalock and Congressman Sam Rayburn are chairmen and Roy Miller director of organization and finance. It showed $1,000,000,000 spent in Texas and argued that what the hat passers are seeking for the New Deal war chest is only a drop in the bucket.

Austin Statement Quoted.

The statement of the New Dealers in an effort to counteract what Hamilton might say tonight, as published in tonight's newspapers here, says:

"When this fund of $1,000,000,000 sent to Texas is analyzed, compared, and contrasted, it presents an unusual picture.

"For instance, the Roosevelt-Garner administration gave to Texas 4,000 times the amount sought as a campaign contribution in this state, which is only $250,000. Expressed in another way, Texas is asked to give but .0025 per cent of the $1,000,000,000 toward the campaign war chest. Again, it means $167 per capita, that sum going to every man, woman, and child in Texas.

"Another side of the picture: The Washington government gave to Texas ten times the total annual expenditures of the state government, for in round numbers state government costs $100,000,000 a year."

After this foreword, the New Dealers gave a box score enumerating the benefits given Texas.

Whacks the New Deal.

Hamilton in his speech tonight came back at the New Dealers with charges of uncontroled spending and a growing dictatorship. He argued that the campaign is not so much between two great political parties as it is a political conflict between one group of citizens representing popular opinion in support of constitutional government and a political clique, "dependent for its spokesman upon its own members and supporting itself by straining every connection which that clique may have with the prestige of government and draining every channel it can find into the public purse."

"By trickery and by force," he said, "the Roosevelt administration is skilfully attempting to have the American taxpayers sign their own death warrants and dig their own graves.

"What Will the Voter Choose?"

"What will the voter choose if he votes to support the Roosevelt administration? Will he give his approval merely to a group of high sounding phrases of which he does not know the implication? Or will

Louis Knocks Out Sharkey in Third

PLOWED UNDER

BROWN BOMBER POUNDS FOE TO FLOOR 4 TIMES

29,331 See Fight at Yankee Stadium.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—Joe Louis took his first firm step on the comeback trail tonight. In the same ring in Yankee Stadium, where two months ago he had been thoroughly whipped for the first time in his life, the Brown Bomber knocked out the 33 year old veteran, Jack Sharkey, in the third round of their scheduled 10 round bout.

There was no doubt of the outcome even during the cautious first round when each feinted and waited and Sharkey stabbed his left repeatedly to Louis' face. In the second round Louis carried the attack to Sharkey, thumped him to the floor for two nine counts. Jack barely escaped disaster by holding on tightly in successive clinches.

Sharkey Takes Count.

Then, without delay at the start of the third round Louis thundered short, sharp lefts and rights to Sharkey's head to score another nine count knockdown. The same attack once more sent the aged sailor to the floor. This time, resting on his gloved hands and knees, with bowed head, Sharkey listened to the count of ten. The bout ended after one minute and two seconds of the third round.

The knockout marked the start of Louis' comeback which may bring him to his goal, the heavyweight championship of the world. This knockout also marked the conclusion of Sharkey's long and frequently disappointing career during which he once relinquished the heavyweight title with a far less show of courage than he displayed tonight.

Crowd Cheers Louis.

Louis was the magnet for the crowd of 29,331. These thousands came to see Joe Louis, to watch his reaction after his terrific whipping by Max Schmeling. This was clearly indicated by the cheer accorded Louis and the wave of boos which greeted the scowling Sharkey when he entered the ring. And these spectators paid $159,982 for this fight.

Two things stood out in tonight's fight. First was Louis' actions before the start of hostilities. Joe entered the ring before the announcer had completed his set phrase indicating the feature bout was next on the program. He sat through seemingly endless introductions and for once his usually inscrutable mask did not hide his feelings.

Schmeling Greets Joe.

Among those introduced was Schmeling. After shaking hands with Sharkey, the German came across the ring to greet the lad he had knocked out in this ring.

Joe shook hands, and grinned sheepishly as he murmured a reply to the German's salutation. Louis looked just as if he had been caught pilfering his mother's pantry and a smothered rumble of surprise and amusement rippled through the ring side sections. Quite definitly Louis did not seem afraid of the Lithuanian who sat across the way and stared intently at his chocolate colored opponent. But Joe was quite embarrassed in meeting Schmeling.

Sharkey signed the articles for his

Admits Hotel Murder; Taxed with 2 Others

Investigators for the state's attorney's office announced last night that they had solved the murder of Mrs. Mary Louise Trammell with the confession of a south side policy game operator.

Mrs. Trammell, the wife of a dining car steward, was choked and beaten to death Saturday night in her room at the State hotel, 553 South State street. Her husband, Thomas, found her body Sunday on his return to the hotel from one of his regular train runs.

The policy game operator who confessed is Rufo Swain, alias James Gray, colored. He surrendered to the police voluntarily early yesterday afternoon.

Questioned Six Hours.

Assistant State's Attorney Morris Meyers, Capt. Daniel Gilbert, chief investigator for the state's attorney, and Lieut. Otto Erlanson of the police department's homicide squad questioned him for more than six hours. At the end of that period they issued an announcement of his confession and said he had signed it.

After being taken to the scene of the murder to reënact it, Swain was quickly returned to the Criminal Courts building for further questioning. Capt. Gilbert said the nearly identical methods used in the killing of Mrs. Trammell and two other women in recent months led to a suspicion that Swain may be responsible for one or both of the other slayings.

Hostess Slain by Dark Man.

Mrs. Florence Thompson Castle, a night club hostess, was killed June 29 in much the same manner as was Mrs. Trammell. Mrs. Castle lived in the Devonshire hotel, 19 East Ohio street. She was found dead in bed, her head crushed with a brick. Her son, Jimmie, 7 years old, told police he was present when his mother was killed, and that the murderer was "a dark man."

On May 29 Mrs. Lillian Guild, 59 years old, was beaten to death with a brick in her room in the former Y. W. C. A. hotel at 830 South Michigan avenue. Thomas Starr, 31 years old, a Negro of dull mentality, was arrested and confessed the crime. Pleading guilty, he was sentenced to 199 years in the penitentiary.

Similarity of Murders.

Capt. Gilbert pointed out that the three murdered women all lived in hotel rooms which could be reached by a strong and agile man from fire escapes. All were beaten to death. These similarities, he said, point strongly to the supposition that the murders were committed by the same person. He said the possibility that Starr's conviction may have been based on an erroneous confession will not be overlooked.

Swain, in the confession attributed to him by the investigators, gave the State hotel's fire escape as his means of entrance to Mrs. Trammell's room. Assistant State's Attorney Meyers an-

"I wanted money. Standing on the covering of a basement stairway, I reached the fire escape, pulled myself up, went up it, and climbed in the window. The woman was in a corner. She asked me what I wanted and I told her I wanted cash. She said, 'I haven't got any.' She looked like she was going to scream, so I grabbed and choked her. Then I threw her on the bed and hit her five or six times with the water pitcher."

Kills and Sleeps in Park.

Meyers said Swain told him he left the room quickly and went to Grant park, where he spent the remainder of the night. The murder, as Swain's

May Recognize Rebels

[Copyright: 1936: By the Associated Press.]

REBEL HEADQUARTERS, BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 19.—[Wednesday.]—Italy and Germany were described by a high official of the Fascist rebellion today as ready to give full recognition to the rebel government if its armies capture Madrid.

Representatives of the two governments, the Associated Press was informed, gave promises "semi-officially" that if and when the Socialist régime is ousted from the Spanish capital indorsement of the Fascists will be forthcoming.

The assurance, it was reported here, was advanced by commanders of German and Italian warships on "courtesy calls" to Rebel Commander-in-Chief Francisco Franco at his Morocco and Cadiz headquarters.

The announcement here followed closely after authoritative reports from Rome that Italy's great air armada of 1,500 planes was ready to aid the Spanish Fascists if France continues asserted aid to the Madrid government.

(Picture on Back Page.)

ROME, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Italy's mighty air fleet was in a state of readiness tonight and pilots were ordered to be prepared for flight at a moment's notice as well informed sources said Premier Mussolini would help openly Spanish Fascist rebels if France continued openly aiding the loyalist Madrid government.

All strategic airdromes along the Tyrrhenian coast were ordered kept prepared for any developments.

Aviators were told to remain within call, all planes were ordered tuned for a takeoff, and a canvass was made to learn which pilots speak or understand Spanish.

Unconfirmed reports said Italian troops already had landed at Malaga to protect Italian nationals and the consulate there.

Intercept Radio Messages.

Radio messages from both sides in Spain were being intercepted by the powerful government radio station near Rome, which was ordered to devote its activities to this in order to follow the situation from minute to minute.

It was boasted here among aviators that the Spanish loyalist battleship Jaime I. had been sunk by a bomb dropped squarely upon it from the plane of an Italian major.

[A Gibraltar dispatch last night said the Jaime I. was reported undergoing repairs at the Cartagena naval docks.]

It was learned that a group of Italian aviators recently went by boat to the rebel headquarters of Gen. Francisco Franco. There they were given German airplanes which had been shipped without pilots, it was understood.

The aviators had been placed in the reserve forces by air authorities so that their presence on Spanish soil might not have any official character.

Aerial Clash Reported.

An aerial battle between Italian and French planes in the service of Spanish combatants was believed to have taken place already over Gibraltar. A swift S-81 Italian bomber was said to have fought off two French pursuit planes which attacked it without resultant casualties.

Italian resentment against French activities in favor of the Socialist Madrid government was kindled by bitterly sarcastic comment in the Italian press.

Newspapers spoke of "two faced play" and devoted front page space to speeches, visits, and encouragement by French officials and private citizens toward the Madrid loyalist cause at the same time that the French government was negotiating for a neutrality pact.

Arrest Eight in Drive to Rid City of Quacks

The state department of registration and education opened an intensive campaign last night to rid Chicago and the suburbs of medical quacks who have conducted a profitable racket by preying on uninformed persons.

Six men and two women were arrested on charges of practicing medicine without licenses. Seven of the eight were locked up for the night. The other was released on bond.

Fifteen department inspectors and deputy sherifs were seeking five other persons who have been named in identical warrants. The raiders were under the supervision of John J. Hallihan, director of the department, who came here from Springfield yesterday, and of Anton Cichowicz, chief deputy sherif.

Persons Held in Raids.

The eight prisoners taken last night are:

ROY DRANGLE, of the Dra-So health center, 1111 North Ashland avenue, where he was arrested. He was held at the county jail.

MORITZ H. FLEISHMAN, 60 years old, connected with the Pur-Herb store at 1851 West Chicago avenue, who was arrested at his home, 4515 Magnolia avenue. He was released on $750 cash bail at Town Hall police station.

MRS. BURD GREY, arrested in her home at 115 South East avenue, Oak Park, while prescribing for patients. She was lodged at the county jail.

A. L. ROSS, 46 years old, arrested at the Natural Health institute, 1869 North Damen avenue, and taken to the county jail.

Swept into deep water by an undertow and unable to swim against the waves whipped up by a brisk wind, three 8 year old Evanston girls were saved from drowning at the Davis street beach yesterday by Ronald Ford, chauffeur for Fire Marshal A. N. Hofstetter of Evanston.

Ford, off duty, was driving past the beach when two men called to him that a swimmer was in difficulties. Running to the beach, Ford saw Mary Lou Wahlman, 1010 Noyes street, clinging to a piling some distance from shore. Without removing his clothing, Ford dashed into the water, waded and swam to the child and brought her safely to the beach.

Mary Lou pointed out one of her friends, Geraldine Whitehead, 819 Gaffield place, struggling in the waves 150 feet offshore. Ford plunged in again, reached Geraldine, and swam to shore with her.

The third child, Agnes Ann Meyer, 2155 Ridge avenue, was clinging to a broken piling as waves broke over her. Ford swam out for the third time. Too exhausted to attempt the return to the beach with the Meyer child, he pushed her atop the piling. Meanwhile the two men on the beach had procured a boat. They and Ford rowed out and made the third rescue.

CAREY HAS LEAD IN WYOMING FOR G. O. P. SENATOR

Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 18.—(AP)—United States Senator Robert D. Carey, seeking renomination on the Republican ticket, polled almost a five to one lead over his Townsend indorsed opponent, A. F. Brubaker, in the first scattered returns from the Wyoming primary election today.

Returns from 13 of the state's 676 precincts gave Carey 215 votes to 56 for Brubaker, a Glenrock rancher.

Negro Shot to Death by Three White Men in Auto

The killers were riding in an automobile and their shots narrowly missed two colored women who were standing near Adams. The building where Adams lived is the only one occupied by colored people in the district.

Britain Skeptical.

LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—British official sources said tonight that Premier Mussolini's reported action in holding his air force ready and in being prepared openly to aid Spanish Fascists was directly contrary to what Count Galeazzo Ciano, Il Duce's foreign minister, had said Italy's policy would be.

Ciano, British official spokesmen said, had agreed to carry Britain's plea in behalf of the French neutrality pact directly to Mussolini, who was vacationing outside Rome.

Germans Reply on Neutrality.

PARIS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—French officials were not satisfied tonight with Germany's response to the proposal for nonintervention in the Spanish civil war. The Nazi answer, modified by reservation, was described in Paris as at best only a "semi-reply."

Latest reports from Berlin said the reich as a third condition of acceptance of the neutrality accord, originated by the French and intended to include all major European powers, demanded the sending of volunteers to Spain be prohibited—a condition paralleling the Italian reply.

The two other reservations in the German answer, sent during the day, were:

First, the agreement must be signed and applied by all powers producing and exporting arms.

Second, differences between Berlin and Madrid over seizure of a German airplane must be settled satisfactorily to the German government.

It was presumed the German request that munitions producers be made a party to the pact included only European powers. As for the reservation respecting Berlin-Madrid differences over seized aircraft, it was believed the liberation of aviators and the return of their plane taken at Badajoz would satisfy the reich at least partially.

The United States stand on neutrality was believed sufficient to satisfy European powers.

IL DUCE GRANTS FARM WORKERS HIGHER EARNINGS

ROME, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini will announce tomorrow new agricultural contracts with workers in the Pontine reclaimed area, as "evidence" that Fascist doctrins are better than those of communism. The new agricultural contracts follow increases averaging 10 per cent in the wages of all industrial workers.

Fascist leaders say it is Il Duce's method of proving to Italian workers they have nothing to gain from communism.

Il Duce was to return to Rome tonight from a vacation in his home neighborhood, Forli. His program includes visits to Littoria and Sabaudia to view reclaimed marsh lands. He will participate in the grain harvest and then announce the new contracts, which radically change the position of tenant farmers and farm laborers, giving them a larger share of farm earnings.

K. OF C. LEADER CHARGES MEXICO EXECUTED FIVE

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Supreme Knight Martin Carmody of Grand Rapids, Mich., told delegates to the 54th international convention of the Knights of Columbus tonight that the order had "authentic reports" that two priests and three laymen had been executed in Mexico last June for "no other offense than their adherence to the Catholic faith."

His charge was contained in his report to the convention on the status of the Catholic church in Mexico, whose government, he asserted, has with deliberation embarked on a program aimed at the destruction of the Roman Catholic church and with it the destruction of all religions.

Spanish Mob Shoots 500 Prisoners and Burns Bodies

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HENDAYE, France, Aug. 18.—A new chapter of horrors is being added to the history of the month old civil war in Spain as loyalists in coastal towns from Irun to Bilbao, abandoning hope of checking the rebel offensive, have begun a wholesale massacre of hostages.

A ghastly report of the execution of 500 hostages, including women and children, at Gijon Saturday was given today by a young German girl, Elfrieda Brand of Bammern on Ruhr, who was evacuated with fifteen other refugees, mostly Austrians and Czechs.

Victims Shot and Burned.

Fraulein Brand's account, unlike most atrocity stories of refugees, was so detailed and precise that it was difficult to doubt its authenticity, and it was confirmed by other refugees of the same group.

The massacre, Miss Brand explained, was not cold bloodedly ordered by Popular Front [loyalist] authorities, but was a spontaneous explosion of the people after a rebel air bombardment had left streets of the town littered with dead and wounded civilians.

A mob, Miss Brand said, rushed to the Sacred Heart church, where the hostages were being guarded, carried them to the edge of town, shot them, and then burned them in heaps.

Blast Rebels with Dynamite.

This massacre, Miss Brand said, was the culmination of two weeks of horror and blood. The loyalists had blasted out two rebel garrisons with dynamite, then finally stormed the Jesuit seminary after a 15 day siege, killing all the survivors.

The shelling of the town by the rebel cruiser Almirante Cervera and the bombing by five rebel planes followed. The loyalist losses, according to Miss Brand, were considerable.

She said she was caught in the middle of the fight and spent two days crouched in a doorway and two more hiding in a stairway without food or water. Finally she was rescued by workers' militiamen, who, she said, treated her kindly and arranged for her evacuation along with other foreigners.

Fear for Other Hostages.

The opening yesterday of the combined rebel offensive by land and sea on the Irun-San Sebastian line was the signal for further massacres. Authorities in coastal towns had given forewarning that if rebel ships shelled the towns, rebel hostages would be executed. The battleship Espanna, the cruiser Almirante Cervera, and the destroyer Velasco shelled Irun and San Sebastian yesterday.

Details of reprisals for the shelling are unknown, but between 600 and 700 hostages were known to be held in the Santa Maria church at San Sebastian. As many hostages were held in other towns of this region and there have been some reports of rebels being burned alive.

Sailors of the German destroyer See-Adler, visiting Saint Jean de Luz, France, yesterday reported that 500 rebels held prisoners in a warehouse at Bilbao were burned to death when waterfront storage tanks were set afire by the Espanna's shelling Saturday, and the flaming oil flowed to the warehouse.

57 Fascist Officers Shot.

Besides mass executions, it is learned that every night for the last two weeks at Irun, Fort Guadelupe, and San Sebastian Popular Front chiefs picked out four or five hostages at random and shot them. The toll had run to 200 in San Sebastian, one refugee reported. Included in this number were fifty-seven Fascist officers shot in one batch at the time the rebel garrison surrendered.

Loyalists were said to have heaped their bodies on a pile without bothering to make sure all the victims were dead, poured gasoline over the pyre, and set fire to it.

The fall of San Sebastian and loyalist villages between it and the French border now appears inevitable. Even the defenders themselves are pessimistic. The Carlist [royalist rebel] land forces have made daily gains. Their batteries are in position to cut off the Irun-San Sebastian road. Defenders of the two towns have been depending on French supplies for food. Rebels have cut off their water and electric service.

Women Flee in Rowboats.

There has been a constant stream of women and children in rowboats crossing the Bidassoa to French territory for refuge.

With the battle right up against the French border there has been great fear of possible border incidents. One rebel plane did drop bombs at Biraitou, but without serious damage. A British girl was wounded by a stray bullet while walking along the frontier near Behobie.

French border guards have been reinforced and two French planes patrol the frontier. Rebel warships have been careful to aim their guns at an angle away from French territory.

While the San Sebastian front is of secondary importance from a military standpoint, the rebels are counting heavily on the demoralizing effect its capture will have on Madrid and Barcelona.

PRESIDENT DE VALERA WINS SECOND VICTORY IN FREE STATE VOTE

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

DUBLIN, Aug. 18.—With the announcement tonight of the victory of Denis Allen, Fianna Fail candidate in the Wexford by-election, President de Valera's administration has won its second notable victory in less than a week. Martin Niland, Fianna Fail candidate, won the recent contest in Galway by a comfortable margin.

The Wexford and Galway by-elections were made important tests of political feeling with regard to De Valera's policies of the last few years.

Not only has the government party obtained two new members in the Dail Eireann at the expense of William T. Cosgrave's party, but it also has received an indorsement of its policies which will enable it to complete its last year and a half in office with a fresh popular mandate.

VANDALS SMASH WINDOWS.

Vandals yesterday broke windows in a drug store at 702 West 69th street and in a grocery at 6959 Lowe avenue, apparently using ball bearings propelled by a sling shot. The store owners told police they knew of no reason for the attacks.

SPANISH KILLINGS EMBARRASSING TO EUROPE: VATICAN

VATICAN CITY, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Osservatore Romano, official Vatican newspaper, today said advocates of nonintervention in Spain are "embarrassed" by executions and massacres attendant upon the civil war. The killings, said the newspaper, could not be attributed to "an irresponsible mob."

They place in an embarrassing position not only the opposing Spanish forces and the partisans of Socialist intervention, but also those who want nonintervention as long as "this horrible cataclysm of bestiality continues," the Vatican organ added.

The killings, the Osservatore asserted, have not yet been impressed sufficiently upon a world which contents itself with discussing the political aspects of the situation.

FIGHT FASCISM TO FINISH, CRIES 'SPANISH LENIN'

Calls Madrid Defense a "Rising of People."

BY HENRY BUCKLEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service]

MADRID, Aug. 18 [Passed by Censor].—"There will be no truce. We are out to fight the Fascist movement to the finish."

Francisco Largo Caballero, Socialist leader who has earned the title of "Spanish Lenin," thus assured me there is no truth in reports circulated abroad that a foreign diplomat had arrived in Madrid charged with the mission of arranging a truce between rebel and government forces.

Caballero spoke while seated on the ground by a picturesque small river with the enemy only five miles away up in the mountains. He had stopped here for lunch during the course of his daily round of the defenses of Madrid. For a man of 64 he has a hearty appetite.

Civilians vs. Army.

"Foreigners do not for the most part understand what is going on here in Spain," he said. "They think it is impossible for civilians to fight an army. That is because they do not realize what it means when a people really get up in arms. The histories of other peoples show that all great movements have been carried through by the impetus of the masses and not by any other means."

He paused and added dryly, "But perhaps one can hardly blame foreigners for not understanding when there are people here in Spain who have not comprehended this."

Probably not even the war minister knows the secret of the defense of Madrid so well as Caballero. Some of his supporters say openly this war would be much shorter if Caballero were in office, but for the time being the Socialists prefer to remain in the background.

Guard Entire River.

This correspondent then motored to the front which guards the principal Madrid water supply and against which Gen. Emilio Mola, northern rebel commander, has launched attack after attack in the month's hostilities. This is a front over 20 miles long, guarded by many thousands of militiamen and loyal soldiers. It would be easier if this were just a matter of guarding a reservoir. But the river Lozoya must be guarded from its source in the mountains until it runs into the purifying station.

The main militia on guard is commanded by Capt. Francisco Galan, brother of Fermin Galan who became a national hero when the monarchy executed him for the 1930 Jaca rebellion, as one of its last acts.

"The last serious attack we had to stand was by cavalry," he said. "It was tragic business for the rebels. They sent 200 cavalrymen galloping across open country right under the noses of our machine guns. We didn't move an inch, but simply raked them with our fire and almost every one of the 200 was either killed or wounded."

The winding road from the village of Lozoya took us to a height over 5,000 feet to Puento de Luzoya, a pass over the mountains, near which the river rises.

Here we found Maj. Pera of the "Invincible Battalion," whose militiamen wear the sign of the skull and crossbones. Maj. Pera took this pass from the rebels with a loss of only eight dead and later repulsed an attack with a loss of four men, the rebels losing thirty. He chatted with me in a machine gun redoubt on top of the peak.

Maj. Pera's men are not short of food. Ten of them yesterday went down the pine woods into enemy territory, captured 200 sheep destined for the rebels and drove them safely back to camp. Three days ago a similar expedition took fifty cows from the rebels, thus assuring plenty of milk and butter for some time to come.

Line Near Guadarrama.

At the village of Guadarrama we ran into an artillery duel. Government batteries were shelling rebels up in the mountains furiously. Guadarrama continues to be the point where Gen. Mola concentrates his efforts to break through the government defenses. The new commander of the sector, Col. Ricardo Ascensio, told me:

"The enemy line is just a mile above Guadarrama. We have large reserves at hand to meet any attack and we have strong protective forces stationed around the village to prevent the possibility of any flanking movement. The situation will not remain at a stalemate long."

RichSpaniards Live in Luxury Safe from Perils of Revolt

BY DAVID DARRAH.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CERBERE, Franco-Spanish Frontier, Aug. 18.—Hotels and inns of Banyuls, Port Vendres, Perpignan, Vernet, and dozens of other French towns about here overflow with rich Spanish refugees.

Red nailed and bejeweled women and men in white linen suits occupy de luxe apartments and the terraces of cafés and restaurants, laughing, talking, and amusing themselves while their compatriots wage an internecine warfare in Spain.

Expect Fascists to Win.

Among the aristocrats and rich bourgeoise here the belief is held that the Spanish Fascists [rebels] are sure to win, and they expect only a brief and enjoyable interlude on the French side before returning to their homeland.

Some of the young men seen in the streets would make valuable recruits for the rebel generals if they followed out their political convictions, "but they are philosophers, they don't like to fight," said a French waiter, watching a group of rich Spanish refugees drinking on a café terrace.

Everywhere one is struck by the lightness and unconcern of these people at their own plight and at that of their country. This attitude is beginning to cause adverse comment here.

Value of Peseta Falls.

But it is also costing them money to stay here. French banks in this locality exchange the peseta at 100 francs for 115 pesetas, a rate of about 6 cents per peseta. Normally the peseta is quoted at 13.2 cents.

Twelve American passengers who arrived at Port Vendres on the American export liner Exchester told exciting tales of being caught in shell fire at Ceuta, Spanish Morocco, ten days ago. No one was hurt and the ship was not hit. The Exchester proceeded to Casablanca, French Morocco, today.

HERE'S WHAT IL DUCE HAS READY FOR ANY EUROPEAN CONFLICT

Premier Benito Mussolini backed his readiness last night for possible intervention in the Spanish civil war with this array of armaments:

More than 1,200,000 men under arms, reserves of 5,800,000 men, an additional reserve of 2,500,000 students in officers' training corps; one of the largest armies in the world.

An air corps of around 1,500 fighting ships, 1,750 commissioned pilots, 1,400 students pilots, 41,900 air corps enlisted men, all with some 35,000 flying hours gained in the Ethiopian campaign.

A navy of 189 ships, including 69 submarines and 88 destroyers, with 119 of the ships of the latest type. In addition there were 34 destroyers, submarines, light cruisers, and battleships under construction at a recent date.

MOSCOW TO GIVE MADRID CREDIT ON WAR SUPPLIES

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

BUCHAREST, Aug. 18.—It became known today the soviet government had declared its readiness to supply the Spanish government with gasoline and other supplies on credit. The Spanish oil tanker Remedier arrived Aug. 6 at Constanza, a Black Sea harbor. While entering the port the tanker damaged the Rumanian destroyer Queen Marie to the extent of several thousand dollars, upon which the authorities seized the Spanish ship pending payment for the damage.

The latter's captain received orders from Madrid today to pay the sum claimed and leave forthwith for the soviet port of Batum to take aboard 6,500 tons of gasoline which originally he would have bought in Rumania.

It was asserted here the soviet is supplying this on credit. It was also said the Russian legation at Bucharest had intimated the Moscow authorities will permit further supplies on similar terms.

Czechs Seize First Aid Supplies Sent to Madrid

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Attempts by the leftist organization "Solidarity" to ship first aid supplies worth about $1,500 to Spain as a gesture of sympathy with the Socialist government were frustrated by police today who confiscated the shipment. The police also banned further mass meetings for promoting support of the Madrid government.

President of Philippines Pardons 31 Radical Rebels

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 18.—(AP)—On the eve of his 58th birthday, President Manuel Quezon granted conditional pardons today to 31 Sakdalista extremists convicted of sedition in connection with the May, 1935, uprising which cost 54 lives.

MADRID MUSTERS DEFENSE FOR NEW REBEL ADVANCE

Fears Raid by Fascists from Mountains.

MADRID, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The government tonight buttressed the capital against a rebel onslaught from the adjacent Guadarrama mountains, believed imminent. An appeal was made for new army recruits and for women to do their bit in ammunition factories as rebel leaders at Burgos declared that two-thirds of Spain already was under their dominance.

Enlistment of the new volunteers was carried out under the ministry of war. They comprised men of the "first reserve," between the ages of 25 to 30.

Each will receive 10 pesetas [about $1.30] daily and may rise to the rank of general through outstanding acts of merit. Pensions will be given all disabled men or the families of those killed in action.

Leaders Prepare to Flee?

Outwardly tranquil, the capital city was shaken by reports from reliable sources that government leaders were keeping three airplanes in readiness at Baraja airdrome in which to flee if the tide of the awaited crucial battle should turn against them. Rebel air raiders tried unsuccessfully to destroy the machines but succeeded in blowing up four truckloads of ammunition.

The government abandoned the practice of turning off the city's electric lights at nightfall as a precaution against nocturnal air raids. Under cover of darkness many loyalists have been killed by rebel sympathizers still remaining within the capital.

Will Use Poison Gas.

LISBON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Madrid radio announced tonight loyal forces will continue gas bombardments. The broadcast said poison gas will be used in attack on native Moroccan troops and tear gas against Spanish rebels.

Rebels to Move Staf.

WITH THE REBEL ARMY, BURGOS, Spain, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Rebel leaders announced tonight their headquarters would be shifted from Burgos to Valladolid, which is nearer to Madrid. Officers said the transfer meant early action against the capital by troops under Gen. Emilio Mola, rebel commander for the north.

Two batallions of the Moroccan Foreign Legion entrained from Valladolid for the Bilbao front, where an attempt will be launched, officers said, to capture that city as quickly as possible.

Rebel headquarters asserted that constant communication was being maintained between the commander-in-chief, Gen. Francisco Franco, in the south and Gen. Emilio Mola in the north. This was made possible by the rebel capture of strategic Badajoz, it was said.

Warship Active.

HENDAYE, France, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The rebel battleship España today renewed bombardment of San Sebastian and also shelled Fort San Marco in the hills near the city.

Citizens were said to have been panic stricken by deafening explosions when the warship rained 12 inch shells in the streets in the first really effective rebel sea attack. The toll was believed to be heavy.

An intercepted radio message from the rebel cruiser Almirante Cervera indicated it had been hit by a shell from loyalist guns at Fort Guadelupe and was proceeding to Ferrol for repairs.

Rebel land forces at Alza and Irun held their positions, while a third column moved up from Tolosa toward Azpeita, the birthplace of Ignatius Loyola, founder of the Jesuit order. Two loyalist planes bombed the rebel positions near Endarlaza.

CHARGES NUNS ARE STRIPPED AND SHOT DOWN BY SPANIARDS

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The outside world cannot adequately appreciate the extent of horrors and brutalities seen throughout Spain, passengers aboard the Italian liner Vulcania, which docked here today, declared.

One of the passengers who fled before the fury of the revolt was Father William F. Sheehan of Fulton, N. Y.

"If you magnify ten times the things you see in the papers here," he said, "you won't even approach the horror of the troubles in Spain. Priests are being killed by the scores, in many cases in the streets. Nuns are being seized in convents, taken into the streets, stripped, and then shot. The only hope for Spain is the success of the rebels."

IMPORTATION OF SPAIN'S SHERRY WINE IS HALTED

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Baltimore importers said today that shipments of Spain's famous sherry wine ceased when the rebellion started and that if the civil war continues price of the wine will be increased because of scarcity.

Shipping of all kinds between Baltimore and Spanish ports is practically at a standstill. One steamship company, the American Export line, has completely suspended its Spanish service.

The Baltimore mail liners, it was said, often brought in transshipments from Spain, but had not carried any for several weeks. Many of the transshipments were sherry. The last one, a consignment of about twenty cases, arrived in late July.

ESCROW SWINDLE DIPS INTO COUNTY TREASURER FUND

Fraud on Probate Court Confessed by Ring.

Swindlers have dipped into funds held in escrow in the county treasurer's office and in the Probate court. This fact was revealed yesterday by investigators who already have uncovered similar frauds in the offices of the clerks of the Circuit and Superior courts and have gained confessions from eight of the conspirators.

The newly revealed fraud in the treasurer's office involves $2,200 of the $350,042 held in trust there pending court determination of its disposition. The $2,200 represented the share of Ralph Kent of San Diego, Cal., in the $30,000 estate of Alfred S. Kelly, who died on Nov. 17, 1928.

After a futile search for Kent, the money was held in escrow in the Probate court for several months. Then, in accordance with custom, it was turned over to the county treasurer, where it remained unclaimed for several months longer.

Claimant Seeks His Money.

Eight months ago Kent appeared to claim his money. Then it was learned that the money had been paid out on April 5, 1932, to a false Ralph Kent, on the strength of an order from the Probate court which, it was later learned, had been forged. The record indicated that the fraudulent order was presented in court by a woman lawyer from Detroit. The order is now missing from the files.

The fraud was disclosed by Kent's lawyer, Herman Waldman, who reported it to Jack Rubens, investigator for the public administrator. The fraud was verified when Rubens made formal demand for the money upon County Treasurer Joseph L. Gill.

Eugene J. O'Connor, investigator for the state's attorney, said yesterday that the Kelly estate fraud has not been connected with the activities of the ring of swindlers who have obtained at least $25,615 from the escrow funds held in trust by the clerks of the Superior and Circuit courts. Two conspirators besides the eight who have confessed are still being sought.

Confesses Nine More Swindles.

One of the plotters, Clarence A. Bales, 50 years old, who on Monday confessed his part in ten swindles, yesterday admitted participation in nine additional frauds, one of which was perpetrated on the Probate court. Bales, an attorney licensed in Tennessee but not in Illinois, conducts a "missing heir bureau" at 105 North Clark street.

Bales told O'Connor that he and his associates got about $500 from the estate of an Amanda Jones, colored, by presenting a forged judicial order in the Probate court where the money was held.

Besides Bales, the confessed plotters in custody are: James Tilton, 74 years old, a disbarred attorney and leader of the ring; Benjamin Shear, a WPA worker; John A. Dicks, suspended acting cashier in the office of Clerk John E. Conroy, clerk of the Circuit court; Ernest Eckels and Arvil Nichols, tavern owners; Nichols' sister-in-law, Mrs. Margaret McAllister, and Rocco de Besse.

Jack Retires After Pounding Loop Pavement 22 Years

Jack, a horse that has traveled the loop route for the Chicago Linen Supply company, 315 West Grand avenue, for the last 22 years, was retired yesterday by Morris Jepsen, vice president of the company. Jack is to go to a farm in Wisconsin to be in clover for the rest of his life. The horse and his predecessor were used on the route for a total of 40 years, withstanding the competition of trucks until yesterday.

NIGHT LIFE BARGE IN LAKE RAIDED; TWO ARRESTED

Two policemen from Commissioner Allman's office paid a surprise visit last night to the Sea Dog, a night life barge anchored a mile in the lake off Ohio street. The raiders confiscated three nickel slot machines and arrested the owner and the bartender.

About 35 men and women were standing at the bar or dancing on the upper deck when Policemen John O'Brien and George Barnes arrived in the speed boat which provides commuting service from the Navy pier. The policemen previously had obtained search warrants in the Municipal court.

This time also the raiders made certain that the speed boat stood by to take them ashore. Last year in a raid on the Showboat Sam, another gambling barge, the policemen were stranded and had to effect a truce with the boat operators. The two men arrested on the Sea Dog were Allan Kargard, 32 years old, 2726 North Albany avenue, the owner, and Henry Weimer, 55 years old, 867 North State street, the bartender.

Argentine President's Son Reported Jailed in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A high official said tonight that Liborio Justo, son of Gen. Augustin Justo, president of Argentina, was arrested this morning at Santanna do Livramento while preparing to deliver what authorities there considered a communistic address. The same official said state authorities at Rio Grande do Sul would escort Justo to the Argentine border. "No steps" were contemplated at present, it was said, that would call for action through the Argentine embassy.

FLYER SAVED AFTER SUFFERING FIVE DAYS IN WILDS OF ONTARIO

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—After lying unconscious for three days, racked with thirst and the pain of a broken arm and leg for two more days, Bill Tweed, an Ontario forestry service flyer who had been missing since Wednesday, was rescued today from a northern Ontario forest. He was taken to the Red Cross hospital at Makina and is expected to recover.

Tweed crashed into a tree Wednesday night in a small clearing in the wilds. On Saturday night, after three days of coma, rain revived him. His plane, a complete wreck, lay only four feet away, but he could not reach it or the water still in one of its pontoons.

Fortunately, a package of rations, a first aid kit and a blanket had been thrown out of the ship almost on top of him. With these and a few swallows of rain water, which he was able to catch in a hollowed cushion, he was able to hold out and even build a tiny signal fire with moss and rotten wood.

Today Jim Westaway, a fellow pilot seeking the lost flyer, saw a thin column of smoke. A ground crew cut through the brush to Tweed's side, a doctor set the broken bones, and he was carried in to the hospital.

Train Engineer Spies Wife at Crossing; Asks Divorce

3 HIJACK TRUCK WITH SHOTGUNS; RELEASE DRIVER

Three hijackers, wearing green sun glasses and armed with shotguns, yesterday held up a truck en route to Chicago from Wisconsin and escaped in the truck with 161 cases of eggs and ten crates of chickens valued at $1,450. The driver, Felix Veth, 35 years old, 1113 Webster avenue, told Sherif Lawrence Doolittle of Lake county that the hijackers released him on the Harris road four miles west of Libertyville.

Two confessed members of a $100,000 hijack gang were held to the federal grand jury in $5,000 bond by United States Commissioner Walker yesterday on a charge of stealing from interstate shipments. They are Walter Longdon, 26 years old, of 5042 Winthrop avenue, and Albert Hoppe, 33, of 2021 Eastwood avenue.

Hearing on a similar charge against Frank Massa, 21, of 3817 West Huron street, was continued, as were the cases of Sam Cosentino, 42, of 5406 Kamerling avenue and Frank Guiffre, 33, of 829 North Keller avenue, who are charged with receiving goods stolen by the gang. A sixth hijacker, George Feht, 29, was turned over to Kane county authorities to face charges of robbery.

COUNCIL GROUP VOTES TO LET 'L' RUN 2 BUS LINES

Plan 7c Fare for Foster and Kimball Feeders.

The city council committee on local transportation recommended by an 11 to 2 vote yesterday that the elevated lines be given the right to operate feeder buses in Foster avenue and in Kimball avenue. It is expected that the council will act on the proposal at its meeting today.

In approving the elevated lines' request for the franchise, the committee rejected the surface lines' offer to establish a similar service. The two aldermen who voted against the recommendation are James R. Quinn [50th], chairman of the committee, and Walter J. Orlikoski [35th].

The elevated lines are bound by their proposal to petition the Illinois commerce commission immediately for the right to inaugurate a 7 cent fare for travel on the feeder buses alone, with transfer privileges to street cars. A passenger desiring to transfer to elevated trains would pay the regulation 10 cent single fare, or might purchase three tickets for 25 cents. This fare will cover his ride both on the bus and on the elevated.

Special Rates for Pupils.

High school pupils would be sold twenty bus tickets for $1, and children from 7 to 12 years old would ride for 3 cents. The 3 cent fares and high school pupils' tickets carry the privilege of transfer to elevated trains only.

The commerce commission controls the schedule of fares, but the city, under the new home rule legislation, has the right to delegate use of the streets.

The Kimball avenue route over which the elevated line buses would operate begins at Peterson avenue, extends south to Wrightwood avenue and east to connect with elevated trains at the terminus of the Logan Square branch at Logan and Kedzie boulevards.

The Foster avenue buses would run from Milwaukee avenue to the Berwyn avenue elevated station on the Evanston branch, with a spur going south in Ashland avenue to Leland, east in Leland to Racine, south in Racine to Wilson, east in Wilson to connect with the Wilson avenue station, and thence east in Wilson to the Montrose bathing beach.

Elevated lines officials said about 20 single deck buses, to cost about $8,000 each, would be ordered for service on the routes. In the 90 days required for their manufacture, the company expects to have hearings before the commerce commission for approval of its fare schedule.

The buses would be the first operated by the elevated lines, except temporary ones run during the Century of Progress Expositions of 1933 and 1934.

BURGLAR CAN'T WRESTLE, BUT HE THINKS FAST

Bernard Hahn, 23 years old, entered his father's apartment at 6344 Wayne avenue last night wearing rubber soled shoes. The quietness of his entry took a young burglar by surprise. Hahn bested the prowler in a wrestling match and pinned him to the floor. The burglar then persuaded young Hahn to let him up, saying he had entered the apartment by mistake. Hahn's father, Herman L. Hahn, 56 years old, a real estate dealer, who was in another part of the home, heard the scuffle and entered the room. He refused to believe that the burglar was not a burglar and made a lunge for him. The thief drew a gun and shot the elder Hahn, wounding him in the left side, then made a getaway through the front door. Physicians at the Rogers-Post hospital said Hahn's wound was not serious.

ARREST EIGHT IN DRIVE TO RID CITY OF QUACKS

State Raiders, Deputies Report Odd Treatments.

complicated muscle twitching machines, or by the curative qualities of bitter herb draughts, the "doctors" promised to cure every imaginable ailment of the human race, it was charged by investigators for the state department. The investigators said that voluminous office files of the prisoners showed many of their clients had been taking weekly treatments, in some cases for as long as three years.

Money appeared to be the prime motive of the services rather than devotion to medical duty, according to the inspectors who visited each "health center" for treatment. In one instance a young woman patient's record card showed she had been paying regularly sums ranging from $25 to $69.

The most elaborate office was that of "Dr." Ross in a three story brick building at 1869 North Damen avenue. On the first floor was "Mother Helen's" store. Her products were sold by "Dr." Ross on the second floor in his Natural Health institute, where patients were diagnosed and treated.

Describe Offices of Suspect.

As they entered Ross' suite, according to the raiders, they observed first a copy of the famous oath of Hippocrates, sworn to by authentic physicians. It was hanging on a wall and was tastefully set off by several Maxfield Parrish pictures. There were twelve treatment rooms, in one of which Ross was studying a woman patient's heart with a stethoscope.

In the treatment rooms, while undergoing ministrations under an imposing array of electrical devices, patients could gaze at the wall where appeared instructions what to do in case the current was "too strong or pinched you anywhere."

"Dr." Ross, a graying man with a nervous smile, spoke in a rich southern accent. Asked what education he had, he replied: "Plenty. I went through the Roanoke, Va., high school."

Remedies and Prices Listed.

A price list posted inside a cabinet offered the Pur-Herb body builder, Leek-O, or an anti-obesity compound, guaranteed to cure "diabetes, indigestion, coughing in the lungs, children's diseases, or low blood pressure."

"Dr." Perley Johnson was belligerent when the raiders entered his Health institute, No. 2, in Des Plaines [No. 1 is in Barrington.] After threatening the deputies he broke into tears and was finally quieted by Miss Louise Hoffman, in whose home his institute was located.

"He said his health was better than it had ever been. Asked me if I ever attended dances. I said I did. He said he attended several dances in the vicinity, and if I would come over some Saturday night he would show me that a man of his age was able to stand up with the best of them."

Report Prescriptions Given.

Mrs. Grey was busy prescribing herbs to 25 men and women patients when the raiders arrived, according to their accounts. A straggly gray haired woman, she told the deputies in militant manner, "I'm a friend of Gov. Horner and as soon as he hears of this I'll be cleared. My crowd also put Courtney in office."

It is very simple to cure any ailment, she explained. If the patient complains of stomach pains, Mrs. Grey declared, why of course, the trouble is gall stones, and the proper herb cures it.

Ray Drangle attempted without success to bribe two deputies and a state inspector, they reported. They said he offered them $15 to forget about the case, and then called his lawyer.

Woman Tells Heroic Treatment.

What was in store for the unwary at Drangle's Dra-So health center was told in a report by one woman investigator. She got the electrical treatment after complaining that the bitter herb medicine he had previously given spoiled her meals.

"He connected one machine, attached a glass tube, and when the current was turned on it buzzed and looked lavender," her report said.

"Another electric machine made muscles quiver."

Fleishman, who was found at his home, has been associated with the Pur-Herb store at 1851 West Chicago avenue, according to Director Hallihan. Files of the American Medical association also show that he was graduated from the Kansas City, Mo., College of Medicine and Surgery, one of the schools involved in a "diploma mill" scandal, and has been in prison in Oregon and California.

Another woman investigator reported that Fleishman diagnosed her ailments and prescribed some of the herb medicine. This Pur-Herb store is also associated with Mother Helen's herb business, according to investigators.

Two other believers in the power of herbs, said Director Hallihan, were Ruth St. John and "Prof." Strahler.

The woman said she is a dietitian, not a doctor. Investigators said she "cured" the ills of her clients with food pellets.

"Prof." Strahler was another follower of the Mother Helen's herbs. In the warant obtained for his arrest investigators charged he treated a man afflicted with an infectious disease by electrical massage and a prescription of "three teaspoons of Pur-Herb Tonic No. 6 in a glass of warm water three times daily."

Davis, who now lives at 1118 North State street, charged Mrs. Book with petty larceny. Mrs. Book said that Davis paid some old debts to her and had given her $82 additional to keep for him. This money, she said, she returned. Judge Hermes dismissed the case on the ground that it was a civil and not a criminal matter.

LANDON TO MEET STATE LEADERS ON JAUNT EAST

Conferences Scheduled Aboard Train.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Estes Park, Colo., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Conferences with state political leaders will be one of the chief activities of Gov. Alf M. Landon on his first eastern presidential campaign trip, which starts Thursday.

A special lounge car for this purpose has been attached to his train, which will leave La Salle, Colo., at 10:30 a. m. Fifty Republican leaders from Colorado will board the train at Denver and will confer with the governor during the trip to Julesburg, Colo., where their places will be taken by a Nebraska delegation headed by H. A. Butler, national committeeman.

Among Coloradoans who will confer with Gov. Landon are Charles R. Enox, state chairman; Raymond L. Sauter, candidate for United States senator; Charles M. Armstrong, candidate for governor; Dr. Hubert Work, former Republican national chairman, and Clarence C. Hamlin.

Overnight Stop at Omaha.

Thursday night Gov. Landon will remain in Omaha, where a breakfast conference is scheduled for Friday morning. Illinois delegations will meet the governor later Friday, when his train enters the state at Sterling. Gov. Landon will speak at Dixon, where a 10 minute stop has been arranged, and also will stop at De Kalb.

The governor today resisted attempts to induce him to add Republicans of national prominence to his personal party for the trip. He persisted in his decision to confine his intimate advisers on the trip to a group of Kansans and one man from Missouri.

In a press conference at the McGraw ranch where he has been resting the governor announced that former Senator Henry J. Allen of Kansas, who is in Ohio on a speaking tour, would join his party Saturday morning at Canton. Representative Clifford R. Hope, who is scheduled to speak Thursday in Iowa, will board the goveronr's train Friday.

Receives Bids for Trip.

"Have you received any protests since announcing the members of your personal party?" Gov. Landon was asked.

The governor smiled and shook his head.

"Have you received any requests for additions to the list?" was the next query.

"I reckon I have," replied the governor with a grin, "but I guess there won't be any changes."

In avoiding the selection of any person closely connected with "big business," the old guard of the Republican party, or the Hoover, Coolidge, or Harding administrations for his group of personal advisers, Gov. Landon was viewed as again asserting his leadership, just as he did in selecting West Middlesex, Pa., and Chautauqua and Buffalo, N. Y., as the places for his first formal speeches of the campaign.

Gov. Landon will speak Saturday afternoon at West Middlesex, his birthplace. Plans also are under way for a dinner Saturday night at New Castle, Pa., to be attended by 2,000 Republican leaders from Pennsylvania, Ohio, and West Virginia.

The subject of the governor's Buffalo speech, scheduled for next Wednesday, is said to be "The American Way" as contrasted with the threat of gradual change to a European form of dictatorship in this country which is offered by the Roosevelt political school.

Nearly "Mobbed"

BRIDGEND, Wales, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Cheering crowds all but mobbed Princess Nina Mdivani after she was married today to Denis Conan Doyle, son of the late Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, at a register office. The princess won a divorce at The Hague in May from Charles Huberich, international lawyer. The princess is a sister of Prince David Mdivani and the late Princes Serge and Alexis Mdivani.

COL. ROOSEVELT TO HEAD STAF OF DISABLED VETS

In the city yesterday en route to his home in Cincinnati, National Commander Froome Barber of the Disabled American Veterans of the World War announced Col. Theodore Roosevelt has accepted appointment as the organization's chief of staf. The Disabled American Veterans, Barber said, will oppose the payment of government compensation to former soldiers for injuries not incurred in army service.

"Col. Roosevelt and I are in agreement on the policy of this organization," Barber said. "We believe that the government owes a sacred obligation to those who were wounded, gassed, or maimed in line of duty. However, wo do not believe that the mere fact that a man wore a uniform entitles him to live off the taxpayers for the remainder of his life."

Democrat Sends 14 Inch Sunflower in Contest

Since the First Republican club of Zion offered a $10 prize last Wednesday for the largest sunflower brought to the city hall by Sept. 15 twelve of the flowers have been received. The largest one—10 feet tall and with a bloom 14 inches in diameter—was sent in Monday by Mrs. Jeanette A. Black of Winthrop Harbor. She said she was a Democrat, but couldn't resist the opportunity to compete for the prize.

Robert Bean of Zoo Freed of $30 a Month Alimony

The $30 a month alimony payments that Robert Bean, 32 years old, assistant director of the Chicago Zoölogical park at Brookfield, has been paying to his former wife, Janet, since she divorced him last November, were ordered stopped yesterday by Judge Joseph B. David in the Superior court.

500 CARPENTERS WALK OFF WPA PARK PROJECT

Nearly 500 members of the carpenters' union, employed on WPA projects in the Chicago park district, walked out yesterday in sympathy with fellow members of their union who struck on Aug. 10 over a jurisdictional dispute between the carpenters and the cement finishers' union. The original strikers were employed in Grant and Burnham parks. A hearing on the dispute was opened but continued to next Tuesday.

EXPECT 50,000 AT BIRTHPLACE TO HEAR LANDON

Town of 1,600 Prepares for Crowd.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

West Middlesex, Pa., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—This town, the birthplace of Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, is undergoing a transformation for the reception here Saturday of the Republican candidate for president. A little old village on the Shenango river is being converted into a shrine of political freedom.

Transportation plans anticipate that in this borough of 1,600 population and on its outskirts will assemble approximately 50,000 persons from the hilly farms and mines of western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio and from the large industrial centers within three hours' driving distance, including Pittsburgh, Pa., Youngstown, and Cleveland, O.

Telegraph Lines Set Up.

Telegraph, telephone, and radio wires are being installed for the nation to hear and to read of Gov. Landon's speech.

It can't be the simple homecoming that Landon probably would enjoy. He doubtless would like to sit in the small study of the Rev. Henry H. Shilling, on the first floor of a modest two story frame parsonage. It was in that room on Sept. 9, 1887, then the home of her father, the Rev. W. H. Mossman, that Ann Mossman Landon, gave a son, Alf, to her husband, John, then a tool dresser in the new oil fields at Elba, O.

He doubtless would enjoy an unannounced and unnoticed visit to the two story, 75 year old, red brick First Methodist Episcopal church where his grandfather was pastor. Gov. Landon will see these scenes of his babyhood on Sunday, after a night in the nearby city of New Castle, Pa., but he is no longer as a private citizen. In his party will be advisers, 125 newspaper men, photographers, United States secret service men and police.

Platform Near Golf Tee.

There was no place within the corporate limits of West Middlesex large enough even for an outdoor assemblage of the size expected. So a speakers' platform, press benches, camera tower, and radio booth are being erected near the first tee on a golf course just outside the borough.

Gov. Landon, when he makes his first campaign speech for the presidency, will be looking down a narrow 300 yard fairway. The crowd will sit on the grass in this fairway and under the shade of tall oaks and elms near the tee, as at an old time political picnic.

Nearby fields of hay and wheat stubble are being staked out for automobile parking. The one pavement between the railroad station and the golf course will be closed to all vehicular trafic except the marching bands and delegations, official cars, and buses shuttling between special trains and the meeting place.

Nearby side roads, paved with cinders from almost a century of coal mining and concommitant industry in these parts, will carry one way trafic to the parking lots for three hours before and three hours after the speech.

DOOLING'S SELECTION OF AIDS PRECIPITATES TAMMANY HALL FIGHT

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Precipitating a fight within the organization, James J. Dooling, Tammany Hall leader, today announced he had designated three district leaders to assist him in administering the affairs of Tammany during his illness. The three named were Stephen A. Ruddy, Representative Christopher D. Sullivan, and Charles H. Hussey.

When William P. Kenneally, chairman of the Tammany executive board, heard of Dooling's move he let it be known he would fight to break up the triumvirate.

Kenneally indicated he would fight against the Dooling leadership, possibly with the view of seeking the leadership himself. In other quarters Kenneally's reaction was seen as drawing the battle lines between the Farley and anti-Farley factions in Tammany.

BAIN DEPOSITORS DENIED WAIVER OF COUNTY CLAIM

The finance committee of the county board declined yesterday to recommend that the county waive its claim as a preferred depositor to $770,000 tied up in six of the twelve Bain banks, which failed on June 9, 1931. Before the crash, property owners were allowed to pay their taxes to banks. When the Bain banks closed, they held $902,000 of such funds, which the Illinois Supreme court ruled was a preferred claim, and of which $132,000 has been paid to the county treasurer.

William P. Stelzer, chairman of the Lawn Civic association and of the Bain Banks' Volunteer committee, submitted to the finance committee a petition signed by 200 depositors in the six banks, who asked for "moral justice." Stelzer said 100,000 depositors in the six banks had not received a dime after five years, but that if the county waived its claim, or 50 per cent of it, the Reconstruction finance corporation would grant a loan and other depositors could get a 10 per cent dividend.

The finance committee, however, contended that the claim is the property of all 425 taxing bodies in Cook county, and that the board lacked authority to waive their rights.

TEAMSTERS JOIN VOLUNTEERS TO WHIP NEW DEAL

Declare for Horse Sense in Government.

Sixty members of the Chicago General Teamsters' union were added to the rolls of THE VOLUNTEERS yesterday when they appeared at the headquarters on the 17th floor of Tribune Tower, 435 North Michigan avenue. Interested in the aims of the movement, the teamsters went out with cards on which to enlist other members of their organization.

The attitude of these men on THE VOLUNTEERS' aim to return the country's government to sane principles and elect Alf M. Landon and Frank Knox was expressed by them in a succinctly worded statement.

They Retain Horse Sense.

"Although trucks largely have replaced the use of horses in our business," they said, "we still have horse sense. We will vote Republican this fall to beat the foolish deals the New Deal has given us so we can keep some of our wages for ourselves."

Teamster officials present with the group included Michael J. Galvin, president of the Chicago General Teamsters' union and secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Truck Drivers' union, local 705; P. J. Lavelle and T. D. Doyle, business agents of local 705; and Frank Schmidt, business agent of local 752 of the Chicago Teamsters and Chauffeurs' union.

Plan Songfest Friday.

One of the first large songfests under the auspices of THE VOLUNTEERS will be held at 8 p. m. Friday at 624 West North avenue, the headquarters of the 43d ward Republican organization. James B. Waller, Republican committeeman of the ward, is coöperating with THE VOLUNTEERS in the meeting.

Among the attractions at the songfest will be Claude Lapham, noted musician and composer of a new song entitled, "Our Landon." He will be accompanied by his sister, known professionally as Maida Firmin, who wrote the words. Both were born in Kansas. Mr. Lapham rehersed the song in VOLUNTEER headquarters with Philip Maxwell, director of THE VOLUNTEERS' music division.

Children Reherse Today.

Today at 3 p. m. children will have their second rehersal of Landon songs that have been arranged especially for them, Mr. Maxwell announced. They will meet on the plaza between Tribune Tower and the W-G-N building.

Julius H. Miner, who is in charge of the speakers' bureau of THE VOLUNTEERS, announced several additions to those available for meetings. The new speakers include Attorney David Eisendrath, 33 North La Salle street; Guy L. Caldwell, chairman of the Elmhurst forum and member of the Elmhurst welfare board, and Alfred Haake of Park Ridge, manager of the National Furniture association.

Movement Gains in Florida.

THE VOLUNTEERS' movement is spreading in Florida, J. J. Meredith of Miami has informed headquarters here. Among other visitors have been Mrs. Hanford MacNider, who is going to organize units in Mason City, Ia., her home; Henry W. Stern, president of a company at 399 West Superior street, doing business among farmers, and F. M. Ozinga of Evergreen Park, a law student, anxious to organize the young people in his community.

From Moline, Wayne G. Johnson wrote in and asked for information and literature with which to spread word of THE VOLUNTEERS in that city.

Campaign Notes

Congressman William Lemke, Union party candidate for President, has a dozen addresses definitly scheduled for delivery before Sept. 23, John Nystul, his campaign manager, announced yesterday. Mr. Lemke spoke last night at Benton Harbor, Mich. Today he will address a Farmers' Union picnic at Dewitt, Ia. Other dates follow: Fergus Falls, Minn., Aug. 21; Milwaukee, Aug. 23; Columbus, O., Aug. 23; New Haven, Conn., Aug. 29; Wausau, Wis., Sept. 5; Chicago, Sept. 7; Quincy, Ill., Sept. 9; Bir Island, Minn., Sept. 16; Wapakoneta, O., Sept. 19; Chicago, Sept. 20, and New York, Sept. 23.

Col. Hanford McNider, national chairman of the Republican Service league, yesterday appointed J. William Cummins of Wheeling, W. Va., the West Virginia chairman of the league. The league is now functioning in 36 states.

"Republicans should count Florida for Landon and Knox," Dr. George Henry Bradford, director of the Miami Civic forum, declared yesterday during a visit to headquarters of the Republican national committee here. "Many loyal Democrats in Florida are looking to Gov. Landon as the only hope of saving the constitutional safeguards of personal liberty and state's rights."

Despite the fact that nearly 3,000 TVA employés live and vote in Knox county, Tennessee, every Republican candidate for county office was elected at a recent county election, Myers E. Hartman, chairman of the Republican county committee reported yesterday to Representative Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the Republican congressional committee.

Two Indiana Republican congressional candidates, Charles F. Werner, Evansville, Eighth district candidate, and Fred F. Schutz, Gary, 1st district nominee, predicted yesterday that Indiana will be in the Republican columns in November, by a generous majority. Their reports were received at national committee headquarters.

Third ward republicans will picnic Sunday at Birute's Grove, Archer road and 79th street, Ald. Robert R. Jackson, general chairman, announced yesterday.

FARMERS FORCED BY NEW DEAL TO SELL CORN CHEAP

Dickinson Charges Harsh Collecting of Loans.

United States Senator Lester J. Dickinson of Iowa, in a statement given out by the Republican national committee here yesterday, charged that the New Deal's Commodity Credit corporation forced corn producer-borrowers to liquidate their loans when corn was selling at 40 to 50 cents a bushel.

Yesterday in the cash grain market here, number 2 yellow corn, which is a representative good grade, brought $1.19 a bushel delivered to Chicago. In the growing areas, of course, the quotations were a few cents lower since prices here include costs of handling and transporting.

"I have proof that in one Iowa county alone 136 loans involving about 150,000 bushels of corn were paid prior to July 1, due solely to instructions contained in a letter sent to banks by the Commodity Credit corporation on May 15," Senator Dickinson said. "The majority of this corn was sold at 40 to 50 cents a bushel. [Cash yellow No. 2 in Chicago on May 15 was 64½ cents a bushel.]

Growers Simply Out $75,000.

"Had it been possible to have held this corn the farmers of that county could have realized at least another 50 cents a bushel, or aproximately $75,000.

[Cash yellow No. 2 in Chicago on July 1 was 69¾ cents a bushel; on July 15, 88¼ cents; on Aug. 1, $1.10½.]

"The letter sent by the Commodity Credit corporation directed that 'all 45 cent corn loans will become due and payable July 1, and no extension of this maturity date will be made.

"Further, the letter said that 'in view of corn prices now prevailing, all producer-borrowers are expected to repay fully the amount of their corn loans, plus interest and charges, prior to or at maturity July 1.'

Many Pleas for Extensions.

"Shortly after the receipt of this letter by the banks, Iowa farmers who had sealed corn through their banks, were advised of these instructions from Washington. Many of the farmers came to the banks and wanted an extension of the maturity date of the corn loans. One of the banks, at the request of these hard pressed farmers, put in several long distance calls to the Commodity Credit corporation, asking that the loans be extended.

"The corporation advised the bank that it was to be governed solely by written instructions from Washington. The letter I have quoted was the only written instruction received by the bank.

"In other words, that order by the Commodity Credit corporation cost the corn producers hundreds of thousands of dollars. The only beneficiaries under that order were the corn speculators who now are reaping the harvest of dollars that should have gone to the corn producers."

REPUBLICAN WOMEN OF 1919 COUNCIL ARE CALLED INTO ACTION

The resummoning into active campaign service of surviving members of a pioneer Republican "Women's Council of 100," appointed in 1919 by Will Hays, then chairman of the Republican national committee, was announced yesterday by Mrs. Robert Lincoln Hoyal, assistant chairman of the present national committee.

Among the council members was Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, who recently stated that, despite her friendship with President Roosevelt and his wife, she is a Landon supporter. Other members, many of them still politically active, were Mrs. Joseph Alsop of Avon, Conn., who seconded Gov. Landon's nomination at Cleveland; Mary Roberts Rinehart, the author; Mrs. Walter Damrosch, wife of the noted musical conductor; Mrs. Alice Longworth, Mrs. Ogden Mills Reid, and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt Jr.

O. K. PAY BOOST FOR NURSES AT COUNTY HOSPITAL

The finance committee of the county board yesterday approved a monthly pay increase of $15 for the 500 graduate nurses employed at the County hospital in order to prevent wholesale resignations by the nursing staf. This increase brings the monthly salary of the nurses to $65 with room and board, the minimum offered at private hospitals.

The committee also authorized an additional appropriation of $30,000 to finance the free medical care offered by the county to indigent persons not on relief rolls. All except about $3,000 of the yearly appropriation of $70,000 is exhausted, the commissioners were told.

TOWNSEND SUIT GETS NOWHERE AT HIGH SPEED

Doctor Remains Here, So Opponents Move In.

After 12 hours of rushing to and fro yesterday by mysterious attorneys and auditors connected with a suit for an accounting pending in Cleveland against Dr. Francis E. Townsend, the elderly physician still had a firm grip last night on his plan to pay $200 a month to everybody more than 60 years old. His opponents seemed to have had a lot of exercise.

Dr. Townsend is scheduled to appear in Cleveland tomorrow for a hearing on the suit brought by a former Townsendite, the Rev. Alfred W. Wright, who alleges that some $1,000,000 collected from supporters of the plan at a dime a month has been mismanaged.

He's Likely to Miss It.

On past performances, it appeared a good bet that Dr. Townsend would not be there. Pleading fatigue from his efforts at the convention of Father Coughlin's National Union for Social Justice in Cleveland last week, Dr. Townsend side stepped the hearing when it opened before Judge George Kerr in the Ohio city Monday. The case then was continued till tomorrow.

Although reported at his headquarters to have been ordered to bed for several days, Dr. Townsend found time on Monday to step across Michigan avenue from his suite in the Congress hotel to Grant park for a conference with Congressman William Lemke, third party nominee for President. The meeting was duly recorded by movie cameras.

Fatiguing Things Happen.

Yesterday several things happened which increased Dr. Townsend's fatigue. One was the arrival of Attorney Benjamin F. Sacharow from Cleveland. Mr. Sacharow, accompanied by an auditor, dashed about displaying a letter of authority from Judge Kerr, permitting him to examine the books of Dr. Townsend's Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd., at 720 North Michigan avenue.

What jurisdiction Judge Kerr has in Illinois was also a mystery, but the auditor went to work on the books. Attorney Sacharow then disappeared for the afternoon, bobbing up at 6 o'clock with a demand that the books be held open all night. This was reported to have been refused by Charles H. Hubbell, another Cleveland lawyer, who arose out of nowhere as a representative of the Ohio director of the pension plan, Raymond Jeffries.

Mr. Jeffries now has the job in the Townsend organization formerly held by the Rev. Mr. Wright, institgator of the suit.

Asks New Continuance.

Attorney Hubbell then wired to Judge Kerr, asking continuance of the case until next Monday because Dr. Townsend "has low pulse pressure, indicating a lack of vitality." He quoted Dr. J. L. Earle as saying that he [the doctor] would not like to be held responsible if Dr. Townsend were required to go to Cleveland tomorrow.

"That was too strong," said Dr. Earle, commenting later on Attorney Hubbell's statement. "Dr. Townsend probably could go to Cleveland. His condition is not that serious, but he should have some rest."

Late last night it appeared to be Judge Kerr's move.

Michigan Ave. Trafic Lights Out Four Hours Tomorrow

Trafic lights in Michigan avenue and Lake Shore drive between Wacker drive and North avenue will be out of operation for four hours starting at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. According to Otto K. Jelinek, park district trafic engineer, the current will be turned off while workmen repair sections of the system.

LANDON, KNOX PRAISE ILLINOIS G. O. P. WOMEN

Messages from Gov. Alf M. Landon and Col. Frank Knox congratulating the Illinois League of Republican Women upon its present state-wide organization campaign were received yesterday by Mrs. Walter A. Findlay, chairman of organization.

"You are fighting for a cause which deserves our best efforts and may I urge that you devote yourselves to that cause," Gov. Landon wired. "Never before has a campaign been so vital to the women of America. The decision this fall will affect our homes, families, and the future of our children, which are the life of our country. It is with pleasure that I send greetings to the Republican women of Illinois."

Col. Knox, wiring from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., stressed the necessity of winning Illinois for the Republican party and commended the league's "patriotic, constructive, and forceful steps."

5,000 ASSEMBLE TODAY FOR STATE FAIR'S G. O. P. DAY

TomorrowGovernor'sDay; Apathy Detected.

More than 1,500 Chicago Republicans will leave by special trains for Springfield this morning to participate in ceremonies marking Republican day at the Illinois state fair. Otis F. Glenn, the party's nominee for United States senator, and Wayland Brooks, nominee for governor, will be the principal speakers.

The Republicans will not have left the capital tonight before Democrats start arriving for Governor's day tomorrow, but it is not at all certain that the same sort of unity will characterize both gatherings. There was a likelihood last night that neither Mayor Kelly nor National Committeeman P. A. Nash would be present at the Democratic ceremonies to beat the drum for Mr. Horner.

Nash at Races in East.

Mr. Nash has been attending the races in the east and has not been well for the last few days, according to associates here. They considered it doubtful that he would return in time to join other Chicagoans in Springfield. Mayor Kelly said that he was scheduled to attend the opening of the new North Ashland avenue bridge tomorrow and remarked: "Some of the boys are going to fly down to Springfield; I never fly."

More than a dozen Republican leaders, including County Chairman Edward F. Moore, have chartered special cars on the trains leaving this morning for Springfield. Beside these expeditions, hundreds of others will make the trip by auto. In all about 5,000 Republicans from all over the state are expected to be present at whoop it up for Glenn, Brooks, and other state, congressional, and county candidates.

Leaders Line Up Carloads.

Among the leaders who have engaged cars on the specials which will travel over both the Illinois Central and Chicago and Alton lines are Patrick Sheridan Smith, Sixth ward; National Committeewoman Bertha Baur; Andrew Metzger, Eighth ward; Oscar De Priest, Third ward; State Senator William E. King; Max Landesman, Forty-sixth ward; Francis A. Horrigan, Thirty-seventh ward; Jerry Dolezal, Cicero; Chairman Benjamin H. Miller of Lake county; Casimir Gorny, Thirty-second ward, and John Leonard East, Fifth ward.

Cars may also be added for the Physicians' Brooks for Governor club and the Republican insurance committee of Illinois.

Parade to the Fair Grounds.

The trains will leave at 8 a. m. and will arrive in Springfield at 11 a. m., Springfield time. A parade will form in the downtown section at 11:30 o'clock, to march to the fairgrounds in time for the speaking program, which is scheduled to begin about 12:15 p. m.

The Democratic trains, also traveling over the I. C. and Alton lines, will leave Chicago at 8:30 a. m. tomorrow.

CUMMINGS BEARS OLIVE BRANCH TO PARTY IN ILLINOIS

Will Confer Roosevelt's Blessing on Horner.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Attorney General Homer S. Cummings left Washington this evening for Springfield, Ill., where by proxy he will lay President Roosevelt's hand of approval on the back of Gov. Henry Horner before the state's faction torn Democrats at the state fair on Governor's day Thursday.

In his visit Cummings will attempt to heal the party breach between Gov. Horner and the Kelly-Nash machine with honeyed words. He was the personal choice of the President for the mission, because, as former Democratic national committeeman from Connecticut and one of the Roosevelt floor leaders in the 1932 convention, his genial salesmanship did much for the New Deal cause.

First Open Gesture.

In sending this ambassador with a personal message from President Roosevelt the New Deal for the first time will openly step into the smoldering factional animosity with the olive branch. President Roosevelt has seen both Horner and Mayor Edward Kelly since the primary break, and members of the New Deal political board of strategy have attempted to heal the primary wounds.

During the primary the administration held itself aloof. No public word of support was given Gov. Horner, although he fought the battles of the administration in Illinois. Likewise no encouragement was given the Nash-Kelly group. The administration was prepared to sacrifice Horner for the New Deal cause in November, and when he won renomination New Deal chieftains still stood off, knowing the balance of power rests in Cook county, where Nash and Kelly are supreme in the ranks of Democracy.

President May Step In.

Now that the campaign is nearing, Democratic leaders urged the President to offer a plea for harmony through some spokesman. Cummings was selected for his political talents, and if his mission brings promise of success Mr. Roosevelt may step in to dictate the peace pact during his "non-political" tour of the drouth area, it was reported.

Cummings will work both openly and at star chamber sessions. He will arrive in Springfield tomorrow morning and go directly to the executive mansion, where he will be greeted. During the afternoon he will visit the tomb and home of Abraham Lincoln.

In the evening he will be given a dinner by the Mid-Day Luncheon club. He will speak informally on the work of his department. In the evening he is expected to meet with political leaders.

Thursday morning he will speak at the fair and also deliver the personal message from the President. He will return to Washington Friday evening.

HIS FIRST PAY CHECK USED TO REPAY SUM OBTAINED ON RELIEF

Paterson, N. J., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Amir Hassman, a 47 year old Arabian who believes, he said, that "a man who breaks promises soon breaks friendships," started today to make good a debt of $29.10 to Paterson.

Several months ago Hassman, who has been in this country sixteen years, lost his job. At first he refused to take relief because, he said, it was against his "principles."

Finally, however, Hassman was convinced that at least he should get enough so that he might buy food. So he reluctantly applied to Poormaster James O'Gorman. Insisting he needed little on which to live, he accepted a $1.80 a week food allowance. He lived on that until two weeks ago when he obtained a job at 66 cents an hour. Today he received his first pay check and went immediately to O'Gorman. He turned over $10 of his salary and promised that the other $19.10 would be forthcoming within a few weeks.

DIRECTOR LAYS WPA ART ROW TO UNION SECRETARY

Mrs. Increase Robinson, director of Works Progress administration art projects, said yesterday that the demand of WPA artists for a wage scale of $1.80 an hour was caused by the dissatisfaction of Sidney Loeb, secretary of the Chicago Artists' union.

"Loeb was disgruntled because he was requested to carry on his WPA work in his own studio due to his agitation among his fellow workers here in violation of the rules," said Mrs. Robinson. Other WPA officials said that part of the trouble was caused by the union asking for more jobs for artists than could be supplied.

Loeb heads a group of union artists who have been picketing the WPA art studio at 433 East Erie street for the last three weeks. The WPA artists get 90 cents an hour for 104 hours of work each month and are asking $1.80 an hour for 52 hours a month, claiming the higher figure is the prevailing wage rate.

NEW DEAL HAILS HAMILTON WITH 'BILLION' BOAST

"For increased and still increasing debt!

"For uncontroled spending!

"For the complete cessation of the civil service in government!

"For the total loss of all foreign markets!

"For executive control over the value of money!

"For complete control of the government within the federal executive.

"These are, after all, the policies which make up the New Deal record."

Mr. Hamilton took occasion tonight to reply to the comment made by Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace on the Republican chairman's speech at Albuquerque, N. M., attacking the New Deal farm program.

"Secretary Wallace has said that I know nothing about agriculture," Mr. Hamilton said. "As far as I am concerned, we are both in the same boat. That should end the controversy."

Traces Burocracy Growth.

Earlier in the day at Oklahoma City, Mr. Hamilton made an address in which he traced the growth of burocracy under the New Deal into the "makings of a dictatorship."

He said that the dominant issue next November is whether the American government is to be one of laws or of " men who have fallen victim to the presumptious idea that they alone are capable of directing the private affairs of 130 million hitherto free citizens."

Analyzing the Brain Trust's efforts towards a "planned economy" and the "making over of America," Hamilton spoke of sixty and more new federal agencies with a quarter of a million federal jobholders added to the pay rolls in the marble palaces at Washington and elsewhere.

Points to Flood of Orders.

He sketched the creation of government corporations with bonds of nearly 8 billion dollars; executive orders pouring from the White House at the rate of 492 a year, a flood of orders streaming from burocrats at the rate of 35,000 to 50,000 a year, each an administrative law. He quoted President Roosevelt as saying that in other hands these "new instruments of power" would provide shackles for the people.

Chairman Hamilton was greeted by a swarm of county chairmen and party workers in Oklahoma City. Because of cotton control and the plight of the smaller cotton farmer and share cropper and the oil situation party leaders reported that Oklahoma appears the place where Gov. Alf M. Landon has his largest chance of breaking into the south.

At Albuquerque long after midnight last night party workers were in conference with the chairman. Their general estimate was that New Mexico seems to be in as strong position for the Landon-Knox ticket as any of the mountain states.

BOY, 13, RESCUES 2 CHILDREN FROM HIS BURNING HOME

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Thirteen year old John O'Grady's courage and presence of mind saved two younger children from probable death by fire and prevented his home from being destroyed today.

The youngster fought his way through smoke and flames to the cellar of his house and rescued Walter MacKay, 5, and Harold Brownell, 4, who had been playing in the basement where the fire started.

John's efforts to enter the cellar by a door were blocked by smoke and flames. He crawled through a cellar window and boosted each youngster through the window before escaping himself to sound a fire alarm.

All Horses Reported Saved in Ald. Coughlin Farm Fire

Inspection yesterday of the herd of more than thirty horses owned by Ald. John J. Coughlin [First], on whose farm, about four miles northeast of St. Charles, two barns and a house were burned Monday night, revealed that none of the horses was lost. Earlier it had been believed that six horses were destroyed in the fire. The damage to the farm property was estimated at $10,000.

FIREMAN BACKS INTO KNIFE.

Arthur Milchoefer, 38 years old, 39 Franklin avenue, River Forest, a member of the suburb's fire department, was taken to the Oak Park hospital yesterday with a knife wound in his left shoulder. He told police he was wounded accidentally when he backed against a knife with which his wife was peeling potatoes.

CHARGES G. O. P. PLOT TO WRECK FARM PROGRAM

Wallace Raps Hamilton Over Soil Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace charged that interests now dominant in the Republican party intend to wreck the soil conservation act and are opposed to any effective national program for agriculture.

He made his charge in a statement in reply to the speech of John Hamilton, Republican national chairman, at Albuquerque, N. M., last night attacking the New Deal farm policy.

Wallace said the disclosure by Hamilton that the Republican party is seeking to bring about repeal of the soil conservation act will be a shock "to those who believed Republican leadership had experienced a real change of heart." Hamilton characterized the soil conservation act as a new AAA and predicted great damage to agriculture if it is permitted to remain on the statute books.

"The fact that Mr. Hamilton coupled his attack on the soil conservation act with a sweeping denunciation of the AAA confirms previous indications that the interests now dominant in the Republican party are, as ever, opposed to any effective national program for agriculture," Wallace contended.

"The soil conservation and domestic allotment act is the foundation of the government's long time agriculture program. It was enacted in the interests of the farmer and the national welfare.

"This act establishes a national policy to protect and conserve soil fertility which is as vital to the consumer as it is to agriculture. The Republican purpose to destroy this act is against public welfare."

1,500 DEMOCRAT WARD WORKERS SUPPORT BROOKS

Expect to Take 150,000 Votes from Horner.

BY PERCY WOOD.

Disgruntled Democratic ward and precinct politicians who worked for Gov. Horner last spring in his battle for renomination against Dr. Herman N. Bundesen but who say they were denied patronage after the governor won that fight, have established an "Anti-Boss Rule Democratic organization" and are working openly for Wayland Brooks, Mr. Horner's Republican opponent.

The Brooks Democratic campaign is being managed from Hotel La Salle headquarters by Peter Lavorata, 1817 North Winchester avenue, Horner primary leader in the 32d ward, and Albert Kuhn, 6536 North Francisco avenue, who ran for Democratic committeeman in the 50th ward under the Horner banner.

150,000 Votes Their Goal.

"We have already signed up 1,500 Horner primary workers and we expect to have 5,000 before November," Lavorata said yesterday. "Twelve of the Horner ward leaders are working with us. We think we can draw more than 150,000 votes away from the governor."

Lavorata was one of the organizers of a protest meeting of Horner workers in the Hotel La Salle a month ago, at which a score or more of the 100 attending voiced their bitterness at the governor's alleged perfidy.

"We trusted the governor to give us the patronage he promised us," Lavorata repeated yesterday. "He gave us his pledge last spring that we would be members of a permanent organization, win or lose. We did all we could to help him win renomination. Many of us carried our precincts and our wards for him, but that's all the good it did us. We aren't getting the patronage because the governor is playing along with the bosses."

No Conference with Brooks.

Lavorata said that he had not discussed formation of the organization with Republican Nominee Brooks.

"We didn't talk about it with anybody except ourselves," he declared. "We're out to give the governor what he gave us."

Those joining the organization sign the following pledge:

"I hereby pledge my support to the candidacy of Wayland Brooks for governor of Illinois. In the interest of clean and better government of the state of Illinois and in opposition to political alliances seeking to perpetuate boss rule in this state, I pledge Wayland Brooks my support and coöperation at the election to be held Nov. 3, 1936."

CROWD AT LOCKPORT DEPOT ALMOST SEES SOMETHING HAPPEN

Two postal inspectors, two deputy sherifs, and Chief of Police Andrew Rodeghero of Lockport, heavily burdened with pistols, rifles, and shotguns, met the Chicago and Alton railroad's 10:20 train at the Lockport station yesterday morning. The reason was that Postmaster Sylvester Wierschen had received a penciled note warning him that four dark men, in a dark car, armed with four dark machine guns, intended to steal the $40,000 pay roll the train carried, consigned to the Texas Oil company.

When the 10:20 stopped, station loungers watched the pay roll transferred to a mail truck and transported away. Then the chief and the sherif's deputies suddenly leaped into a police car and sped rapidly out of town. The loungers sort of snickered at all this.

But it was serious business to Chief Rodeghero. His ruse had worked he said; the robbers did appear, and the sudden exit was when he and his men started in pursuit. They didn't catch the bad men, however. The only catch was that of a man from Wilmette, who Rodeghero thought was signaling some one with a handkerchief. The Wilmette man was arrested despite his plea that he was only on a fishing trip. Anyway, every one at Lockport is glad there was no shooting—or robbing.

SHELTERS AN OLD PAL; LOSES AUTO AND PLENTY ELSE

Two days ago James C. Bils of Winfield, Du Page county, listened to the hard luck story of a former acquaintance, Danny O'Neil, an ex-jocky. Then Bils gave O'Neil shelter in his living quarters. Yesterday Bils discoverad that O'Neil had disappeared with his automobile, riding breeches, riding boots, two suits, shirts, socks, a radio, a suitcase, and $30. Before leaving town O'Neil added insult to injury by filling up the car with gasoline at a filling station and charging it to Bils' account.

Ina Claire Given Rebate of $23,331 in U. S. Taxes

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The internal revenue bureau said today that Ina Claire, stage and screen actress, had been granted a $23,331 overassessment on her income tax for 1932. The bureau said $20,219 had been erroneously charged against her as taxable income when investigation determined that that amount represented the separate income of her late husband, John Gilbert, the actor. The remainder of the overassessment, $3,112, represented interest.

ROOSEVELT AIDS STIRRED BY MOVIE CROWD REACTION

Disturbed by Evidence of Landon Popularity.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Disturbing reports from the political front in several states were carried to President Roosevelt today by Charles Pettijohn, general counsel for the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors association. He displayed a summary of audience reactions in 900 moving picture theaters throughout the nation to appearances on the screen of the President and his opponent, Gov. Alf Landon.

Mr. Pettijohn refused to make public the details of the summary other than to assert that the general reaction was in favor of the President. Audiences applauded the President more vigorously in a majority of theaters than they did Gov. Landon, he declared. The attorney is an ardent worker for the Democratic party.

White House Aids Dismayed.

It was learned, however, that Mr. Pettijohn's survey contained several conclusions which produced astonishment and some dismay in the summer White House.

For example, California, claimed as one of the "in the bag states" by Democratic Campaign Manager James A. Farley, is showing a dwindling enthusiasm for President Roosevelt, if the applause of movie audiences is to be taken as a criterion, according to the report. The Townsend movement, always popular in the state, is sapping Democratic strength and Landon stock is being boosted as a result.

Illinois and Ohio are in the Landon column, according to movie audience reaction, but Pettijohn told the President that Indiana seemed to be leaning toward Roosevelt.

Pennsylvania "Stands By."

Pettijohn cheered the President with a report that Pennsylvania audiences gave more applause to Roosevelt than to Landon and then added the somewhat amazing information that Florida was displaying a strange apathy to the smile of the chief executive when it appeared on the screen.

"Sentiment in the movie theaters was decidedly Republican during the convention of that party," Pettijohn told the President. "It swelled upward in amazing fashion. On the contrary, enthusiasm for the Democrats was decidedly wanting during the Democratic convention. It took an upward turn with your speech on the final day."

Report Farley Is "Booed."

The report was declared to have been most frank in recording the audience reaction to various Democratic chieftains other than the President. On a number of occasions, according to Pettijohn, audiences in representative sections of the country applauded Roosevelt, but booed "a prominent Democrat" whom the attorney refused to identify, but who was said to be Mr. Farley.

While White House attachés attributed considerable importance to the Pettijohn report, movie audience reaction has yet to be accepted as an entirely reliable means of judging public sentiment.

The President today worked on the itinerary for his tour of the drouth areas next week. He said he was doubtful about making the Mississippi river excursion trip which was announced by his aids last Sunday. Conditions in Europe are so troublesome that he doesn't want to get "too far from base," he announced, for too long a time.

Will Pause in Capital.

Mr. Roosevelt revealed that he will return to Washington before departing for the west, leaving here next Sunday night and arriving at the White House on Monday morning. He will depart Tuesday night, Aug. 25, for the west, making his first stop either in North or South Dakota, probably at Pierre.

Formal invitations to governors of western states, including Gov. Landon of Kansas, have not yet been dispatched, he said. Neither would he commit himself concerning whether his route will carry him into the home state of his opponent.

Absolutely no plans have been made by Mr. Roosevelt for big political speeches, he insisted. His first formal address after his drouth area trip will be made at Charlotte, N. C., on Sept. 10 at the "Green Pastures" convention of seven southern states.

Will Address Harvard Crowd.

The President will deliver another address on Sept. 11 at the International Power congress in Washington and a third on Sept. 18 at the tercentenary anniversary celebration of Harvard university.

Jim Farley will come up to the Hudson river estate of the President, probably on several occasions this week, the President admitted. Discussions of the campaign will, of course, occupy Mr. Roosevelt and his manager on these visits.

Tomorrow the President will discuss with Acting Budget Director Daniel Bell the possibility of consolidating some activities of federal agencies with a view to simplifying bookkeeping practices.

WHITE HOUSE SILENT ON ICKES' CHARGES OF HOLDING UP WPA JOBS

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—White House assistants declined official comment today on Secretary Harold Ickes' assertion in Washington that the $300,000,000 Public Works program was being delayed until the White House clarified the policy on relief labor. They said there was no evidence the President had changed his mind on the question.

In Washington a week ago Mr. Roosevelt said it was the administration's objective to use the grant portion of PWA allotments strictly for employment of relief labor. He said if the maximum grant of 45 per cent of the cost of a project could not be used entirely for that purpose the grant would be limited to the percentage which could be so used.

Ickes said this policy meant in effect a reduction of the maximum for grants to 33 1-3 per cent of the cost of projects and to an average of around 10 per cent of the total cost.

OLSON INDORSES ROOSEVELT; BACK IN HOSPITAL

Blood Transfusion Given to Governor.

Rochester, Minn., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Suffering intense pain only partly alleviated by opiates, Gov. Floyd B. Olson of Minnesota today underwent blood transfusions given by Mayo clinic physicians at St. Mary's hospital. He was flown here yesterday from his Gull lake summer home near Brainerd after a sudden turn in his condition made hospitalization necessary.

Indorses the President.

During the evening Gov. Olson from his hospital bed dictated a statement urging the reëlection of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The statement, in the form of a telegram to Senator La Follette of Wisconsin, said:

"I have the utmost respect for the Union ticket candidate and for Father Coughlin, whose program of monetary reform is sound." He added, however, that "in this campaign we must choose between President Roosevelt and Gov. Landon.

"I assure you of full agreement that liberals must unite in 1936 to reëlect Franklin Roosevelt and to prevent the election of reactionary Alfred Landon as President."

After approving Father Coughlin's monetary policy, the governor said further: "We Farmer-Laborites have been for the same program for many years and Father Coughlin can rely upon us in helping him to put it over."

Operation a Month Ago.

Gov. Olson underwent an operation here on July 17 in which a tube was placed in his small intestines to permit supplementary feeding in connection with treatment of a stomach ailment.

Following this operation, one of the attending surgeons said in a statement that there was "a 30 per cent chance" that polyps in the dome of the governor's stomach, which had been inspected in an exploratory operation in January, were cancerous.

However, all questions today as to whether Olson is suffering from cancer were met with the answer "no comment" by Dr. William J. Mayo, Dr. A. B. Rivers and A. J. Lobb, clinic executive.

Partial plugging of the tube into the governor's intestines was believed to be the reason that he was rushed here yesterday in a specially chartered plane.

Doctors at Bedside.

Tonight Dr. Rivers and Dr. Waltman Walters, who have been supervising Olson's treatments, were summoned to his bedside. It was reported that the governor was suffering "intense pain."

Dr. Mayo also joined the physicians, who administered another opiate in an effort to relieve the chief executive's pain.

During the afternoon his wife and daughter, Patricia, 15, visited his room for half an hour. They refused to comment as they left but their faces gave no evidence of alarm.

STATE WINDS UP ITS EVIDENCE IN ANN HEWITT CASE

Doctors to Seek Directed Verdict of Acquittal.

San Francisco, Cal., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The prosecution closed its case late today against two physicians accused of mayhem conspiracy in sterilizing wealthy Ann Cooper Hewitt while the defense, which called the case part of an extortion plot against the girl's mother, indicated it would seek a directed verdict of acquittal.

A sharp cross-examination of Russell P. Tyler, Miss Hewitt's attorney in a $500,000 sterilization suit against her mother and the physicians, featured the closing moments of the state's case.

Asked About Legal Fee.

"It's none of your business!" Tyler shouted when Attorney I. M. Golden, representing the accused physicians, asked him how much he had received from the girl for filing the civil suit.

Tyler volunteered to be a witness against the physicians, Dr. Samuel G. Boyd and Dr. Tilton E. Tillman, after Golden charged the existence of a plot against them and the mother, Mrs. Maryon Cooper Hewitt.

Golden asked Tyler whether he had not transferred his "fugitive legal attention" from Mrs. Hewitt to her daughter after he learned the latter was to inherit a large amount of money from her father the late Peter Cooper Hewitt, inventor.

Refuses to Answer.

"I cannot answer," said Tyler. "You don't understand."

Tyler previously testified he received $1,000 from Mrs. Hewitt for doing some work in connection with a $84,000 gambling claim, but denied he had acted as her legal counsel.

Superior Judge Raglan Tuttle excused the jury when the state ended its case and Golden asked for time to prepare a directed verdict argument. Golden indicated his argument would attack the state's case on the contention neither mayhem nor conspiracy had been proved.

Birmingham Votes 15-1 to Legalize Sale of Beer

Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Electors of legally-dry Birmingham in a referendum today voted nearly 15 to 1 to repeal the ordinances prohibiting sale of beer. An unofficial tabulation of votes from 133 of the city's 135 boxes gave 10,837 for repeal and 739 against. State laws prohibit beverages stronger than one-half of one per cent alcohol. Sponsors of the repeal referendum asked the vote as a "mandate to the state legislature."

Constipation

Undermines Children's Health

Your doctor will tell you that constipation is what makes so many growing children sickly. Poisons from the waste matter spread through their bodies and lower their resistance. A little Nujol every night will keep them regular as clockwork.

Mothers are the best friends of Nujol. When their children's health is at stake, they use Nujol—the remedy that medical authorities prescribe because it is so safe, so natural in its action.

Constipation is dangerous for anybody, Nujol safe for everybody. Does not affect the stomach, is not absorbed by the body.

Nujol makes up for a deficiency of natural lubricant in the intestines. It softens the waste matter and thus permits thorough and regular bowel movements without griping.

Just try Nujol regularly for the next month and see if the children don't feel better than you ever suspected they could. Ask your druggist for Nujol.

MEN OF THE FUTURE No. 1

By CALEB

TWENTY-FIVE years ago, the average American farmer lived at least three miles out of town—mud road all the way. A trip to town was a matter of importance. It meant planning and preparation and time lost from farm work. The shortest kind of a stay meant a big nick in the day.

Today, people who live twelve, fifteen, and even thirty or more miles from a city commute to their daily work. There's nothing to it. But our lives are different—not because of the commuting alone, but because of the tempo of the age symbolized by speed.

In July, 1909, the world was agog over Bleriot's crossing the English Channel in an airplane. In 1916, Victor Carlstrom flew from Newport News, Virginia, to New York City in 4 hours and 1 minute. The flight was non-stop, and more than 350 miles—making the longest and fastest flight in the United States to that date.

But farmers were still living in some degree of isolation and the tempos of life were leisurely. Few chickens were being killed on country roads. Speeders' courts were unheard of.

In late 1917, a naval lieutenant named McCann flew a sailor companion over the seas of soil of the midwest from Newport News, landing in Duquoin, Illinois, after only one stop. The distance was 1,023 miles and was made in the dare-devil time of ten hours.

Not long ago, a ship being tested for passenger service flew round-trip-non-stop Chicago to New York and was set down in 8 hours and 5 minutes for the whole jaunt.

That, of course, was a loaded passenger ship—with the motor loafing. Four hours to New York isn't superspeed today, although 20 hours by rail was fast, in memory's yesterday. In 1926, an Italian named de Bernardi roared in a seaplane 246 miles per hour. In 1934, another Italian flew at 440 miles per hour. That's at the rate of New York in 2 hours! One flies to Germany now in less than the time it took to get to the coast by train from Chicago ten years ago.

We wonder what folks of a hundred years from now will be like. How will they insulate themselves against nerve-wracking speed and tension? What will our grandchildren and theirs accept as normal movement over the face of the earth?

Thirty years ago, we were advertising auto dusters, goggles, auto caps, veils, and so on. Today, we sell travel costumes for the air, airplane luggage, and other flying paraphernalia. We cannot guess what men and women of the future will need, but we believe this store will be selling the latest things—whatever they may be—for speedy travel fifty and a hundred years from now.

SPEED FARMER BOUNTY BEFORE ELECTION DATE

AAA Using Planes to Rush Its Acreage Survey.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The Agriculture Adjustment administration is using aerial photography to rush its measurement of the extent to which farmers have complied with the soil conservation program. The measurement of compliance must be completed before the new county checks can be sent out, and the airplane photographic method, used for the first time in this, a presidential election year, admittedly is faster than the old style chain surveying system.

Although readily admitting that the use of airplanes speeds up the work of checking on compliance, AAA officials insist that the primary justification for the change is that it saves money. They plan to begin the distribution of the $500,000,000 in bounty checks under the 1936 crop control program in October, but insist that it will not be practicable to distribute a substantial part of the benefits before the election on Nov. 3.

Eleven Counties in Illinois.

The change to the use of aerial photography, in prairie regions where it is said to be feasible, was disclosed in reports from central Illinois saying that 11 counties—Champaign, Grundy, Livingston, Ford, Iroquois, Vermilion, Douglas, McLean, Moultrie, Piatt, and Logan—were to be mapped by this method. AAA officials said states in the north central region to be photographed from the air included Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, and Missouri, and that the same method would be used extensively in other sections of the country wherever the land is relatively flat.

The county AAA committees, composed of farmers who check up on their own and other farmers' compliance, according to officials here, determine whether they prefer to use the airplane method, but contracts with aerial photographic services, which supposedly are let to the lowest bidder, must be approved by the Washington authorities. They say they will not approve such contracts unless there is a saving of at least 10 per cent.

8 Inch Map Means 640 Acres.

The aerial photographs are said to represent a delnite scale, usually 1 square inch to 10 acres. Thus, the crop of a farmer with a section of land in cultivation would be represented on the map by an 8 inch square. The speed of the method is illustrated by the fact that Charles Dean, a Stamford, Conn., pilot, made 100 pictures, each covering an area of about 10 square miles, in 2½ hours in the vicinity of Bloomington, Ill.

After the photographs are made, county committeemen go out and identify the crops represented on the maps by the varicolored squares and then calculate, according to the scale, the percentage of land the farmer has planted to soil depleting and soil improving crops. Questioned as to the accuracy of the method, AAA officials insisted that it was more accurate than the chain surveying method—"and much less tedious."

The cost of the aerial photographic service is said to be about ½ to ¾ of a cent per acre and the total cost of compliance checking is placed at a little over 2 cents an acre by AAA experts. This cost, they say, comes out of the county committee budget, which in turn comes out of the lump sum sent into a county to be distributed among the complying farmers in the form of benefits.

Boy Is Drowned in Lake After Battle with Rescuer

Robert Schneidt, 13 years old, 1811 Hammond street, was drowned yesterday when he was seized with cramps while swimming in the lake off Burton place. Scores of persons in the water and ashore looked on as a youth whose identity was not learned went to Robert's aid and barely escaped death himself when the drowning boy clamped his arms about his would-be rescuer's neck. Robert's body had not been recovered last night. His father, James, a taxicab driver, said that his son was an expert swimmer.

Charge Is Cruelty

Reno, Nev., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Bobbe Arnst, film player and musical comedy actress, was granted a divorce in District court here today from Robert Cavenaugh, Chicago attorney. The decree was awarded on the charge of cruelty. Miss Arnst said she will make a brief visit in Hollywood and then will go to New York to seek a night club or stage job.

Enjoin Winnetka Fireman from Molesting Wife

Capt. David J. Wood of the Winnetka fire department was enjoined yesterday by Master in Chancery J. A. Cervenka Jr. from molesting his wife, Gertrude, of 419 Provident avenue in the suburb. The injunction was issued following the filing of a bill for divorce by Wood in which he charged his wife with cruelty, alleging she scratched him last May 14. Mrs. Wood countered with a suit for separate maintenance charging cruelty and nonsupport. Master Cervenka is hearing emergency motions for Judge George Fred Rush.

AAA Sends Surplus Food Crops to Alaska Eskimos

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The AAA today said 36,000 cans of beef, 88,000 pounds of flour, and 4,000 pounds of corn had been sent to Alaska for distribution among Eskimos suffering a food shortage. The products were acquired by the government in its efforts to remove crop surpluses.

2 LUXURIOUS AIR YACHTS BOUGHT BY VANDERBILTS

New York, Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Two roomy aircraft, one a land plane and the other an amphibian, are to be delivered soon to two members of the Vanderbilt family, it was disclosed tonight.

A speedy private plane for Harold S. Vanderbilt is expected to land at Newark airport tomorrow. A twin-engined, low-wing monoplane, it is being flown from California.

Fitted as a ten-passenger and two-pilot transport, the ship has been arranged for six passengers, with a service buffet forward and a card table and baggage racks in the rear. The fuselage has been converted into the club lounge.

The plane will cruise at a speed of 200 miles an hour on the 900 horsepower of two Wasp Junior engines.

William K. Vanderbilt has purchased as a private air yacht a Twin-Hornet Sikorsky 3-43 amphibion. This type of plane, the largest in the world equipped for both land and water, normally carries eighteen passengers, two pilots and about 1,000 pounds of cargo at a cruising speed of 100 miles an hour.

The spacious fuselage will be treated in the style of a living room with settees and deep arm chairs about the sides. Special murals will decorate the walls.

Swain's identity was revealed by a notebook containing telephone numbers, horse race data, and a laundry check, which was dropped on the same fire escape Swain used by a marauder who was frightened away from it last Thursday night. The police concluded Swain was the prowler and announced he was wanted.

Among the first victims of prowlers to view Swain after his surrender was Miss Frances Veiger, 26 years old, who identified him as the man she routed last week from the window of her room at the Lorraine hotel, 411 South Wabash avenue.

His Alibis Fall Down.

Swain denied her charge. He also at first offered several alibis to prove that he was not guilty of the slaying of Mrs. Trammell. His explanation of the loss of the notebook, which he admitted was his, was that it had been stolen from him three weeks ago.

"How does it happen that this laundry check, issued to you eight days ago, was in the book you lost three weeks ago?" Assistant State's Attorney Meyers asked.

The prisoner stumbled in his answer, then said he "wasn't sure" when he lost the book. When reminded that there was a rain early Sunday when he said he was sleeping in Grant park, he replied vaguely that he "slept under a canopy somewhere near the Art institute."

Suddenly his self-possession left him, and, turning to Capt. Gilbert, he said:

"I might as well tell you about it."

His confession followed fluently, Capt. Gilbert and Meyers said. At the hotel Swain, a powerfully built man, demonstrated how he reached the counter-weighted, swinging lower portion of the fire escape by taking a running jump from the inclined covering over a basement stairway directly under it. After the reënactment he admitted that Miss Veiger's accusation of him was correct.

The investigators said Swain denied responsibility for the murder of either Mrs. Guild or Mrs. Castle. He said also that he robbed only for money and was not guilty of any attacks on women, of which there have been an unusual number recently. Nevertheless, Capt. Gilbert said:

"Things have happened so fast we haven't had time to clear this crime up completely.

Investigate Other Murders.

"When we are sure that Swain is guilty of the murder of Mrs. Trammell and have a case against him, we will go deeper into other murders of the type."

Swain said he had been living here five years. He said he was born in Clay, La., and attended grammar school and the Arkansas State Baptist college in a small community in Arkansas.

Mrs. Trammell's body was accompanied to Knoxville, Tenn., her birthplace, by her husband yesterday. The murdered woman's stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. James Link arrived in New York from Europe during the day and started immediately for Knoxville.

Milk License Suspended at Request of Producers

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The AAA announced today suspension of the milk license for the Grand Rapids [Mich.] sales area. Officials said the suspension was asked by producers. Because of the drouth, they said they could receive more for their milk outside the marketing agreement.

OPEN VERDICT IN POISON CASE.

An open verdict was returned yesterday by the coroner's jury that investigated the death of Leo G. Moriarity, De Kalb farmer whose body was found beside Roosevelt road near 1st avenue in Maywood on Aug. 1. The coroner's chemist reported that death was due to poison.

SOVIET INTRIGUE IS SEEN BEHIND TREASON TRIAL

16 Expected to Die for Benefit of Stalin.

BY DONALD DAY.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 18.—Long pretrial articles published in the soviet press today indicate that the Moscow régime is staging the treason conspiracy trial of Gregory Zinoviev, Leo Kamenev and 14 others for a three fold purpose.

The first aim, it is shown, is to reveal that Dictator Josef Stalin now has sufficient power even to order the execution of former commissars and leaders such as Zinoviev and Kamenev if they prove disloyal to the Kremlin.

The second objective is to arouse anti-Nazi sentiment among the population by linking the Nazi secret police to the plot supposed to have been hatched by Leon Trotzky, once powerful Red, from his Norwegian exile.

Fight Dissatisfaction.

The third purpose is to combat the growing wave of dissatisfaction with the higher salaried, privileged "stakhanovized" [efficient] worker class which today forms a new Red aristocracy in Russia.

The Moscow Pravda asserted today that sensational evidence will be presented at the trial, which will open tomorrow before the military tribunal of the soviet Supreme court.

Execution of the 16 prisoners is predicted and the press declares that the highest measure of punishment is not enough for "mad dog traitors" attempting to betray the revolution.

Long confessions are reported obtained from many prisoners, some of whom have been undergoing G. P. U. [secret police system] third degree methods for months. Pravda alleges, too, that the clever work of Red spies has disclosed a new, loathsome capitalistic plot against bolshevism.

Germans Not Interested.

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

MOSCOW, Aug. 18.—The German embassy is not the least bit interested in the trial of Gregory Zinoviev, Leon Kamenev, and 14 others beginning tomorrow for alleged terroristic plots aimed at Dictator Josef Stalin and other soviet leaders, an official there stated today. The statement was made despite accusations of the soviet press that the Trotzskyists were in conspiracy with German secret agents.

Though three of the five men allegedly sent from abroad as assassins have German sounding names, the embassy said as far as is known none is a German citizen. The German embassy does not intend to have an observer at the trial.

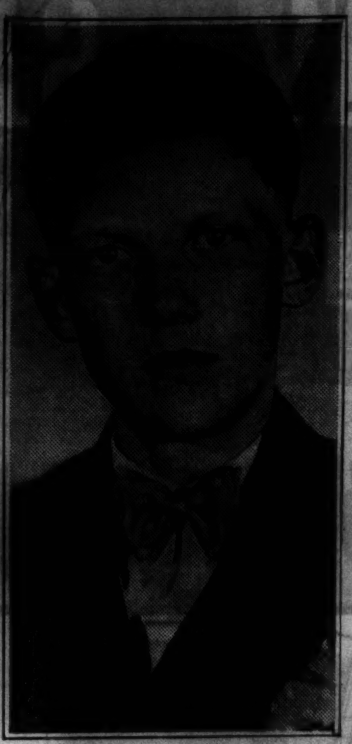
Looking for Job



BRYAN UNTIEDT.
[Associated Press Photo.]

Today Byran Untiedt is an 18 year old railroad section hand and farm worker, who hopes to land a job in Denver.

In March, 1931, Untiedt was projected into national fame when he helped rescue 15 schoolmates trapped with him in a bus by a blizzard near Towner in southeastern Colorado. Five children and the bus driver died. Untiedt, now six feet 2 inches, and weighing 176 pounds, said he has been working on a railroad in the Republican river valley, but will stay here if he can find employment.

COUNTY ORPHANS TO HAVE OUTING IN PARK TODAY

The 32d annual outing for orphans and aged sponsored by the Orphans' Automobile Day association will be held in Lincoln park from 9 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. today. More than 1,000 motorists have volunteered to transport the 4,000 picnickers to the park from the orphan asylums and homes for the aged, Matthew J. Lamb, president of the association, said yesterday.

"Generous Chicagoans responded so well to our plea for funds that we were able to spare no expense in staging the outing," he said. "It costs about a dollar a head to supply refreshments, toys, knickknacks and entertainment."

Under the direction of Joseph M. Coffey a program of 42 vaudeville acts will be provided. Nine hundred crippled children will sit near the stage. Their outing will be supervised by the Dorothy Kahn club.

THREE HOLY LAND JEWESSES SLAIN; ARABS ACCUSED

2 Nurses Die; Snipers Fire on Hospital.

JERUSALEM, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Two Arabs were killed today and four others wounded in spreading violence which followed the fatal shooting of three Jewesses, including two nurses, during the night.

The Hadassah Nurses' organization sent cables to sister organizations throughout the world, denouncing the slaying of the nurses at Jaffa as "an unprecedented act in the annals of nursing" and calling upon American public opinion to join with that of other countries in seeking an end to eighteen weeks of Holy Land terror.

The shooting of the nurses was laid to Arab snipers who fired on the government hospital grounds in the Ajami quarter of Jaffa.

This morning one Arab was shot to death on the seashore near Jaffa, apparently from a boat, and another was killed by a soldier who said he refused to halt at a challenge.

The all-Jewish city of Tel Aviv, with 150,000 inhabitants, proclaimed city-wide mourning and suspended virtually all activity for the funeral this afternoon of the two nurses.

BRITISH WOMAN TO FLY ATLANTIC IN A LIGHT PLANE

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 18.—A solo attempt on the London to New York flying record will be made shortly by Mrs. Beryl Markham, 31 year old English society aviatrix. It was reported today that she will leave London in a British light airplane in about two weeks. The machine is fitted with long range tanks sufficient to cover 3,800 miles at a cruising speed of more than 150 miles an hour.

Mrs. Markham has more than 2,000 hours in the air to her credit and has flown between Africa and London three times.

"I have had an Atlantic flight in mind for some time," she said. "I feel I can knock a few hours off the record."

The flight will be backed by the Kenya syndicate, which is interested in aviation.

Day By Day Story of the Experimental Farms

By Frank Ridgway

Cattle to Market

August 18, 1936.

THE remaining 35 cattle of the herd of 426 placed on feed last fall at THE TRIBUNE's Yorkville experimental farm were sold on the Chicago market yesterday morning by Clarence Thurow, farm manager. They weighed 31,000 pounds, an average of 886, and brought $8.50 a hundredweight, or a total of $2,547.13 after transportation and marketing costs had been deducted.

The cost of trucking the steers from the farm to market amounted to $46.50, and transportation insurance was $3.50, making a total bill of $50. The marketing costs, totaling $37.87, included yardage, $17.50; commission, $20.25, and fire insurance, 12 cents.

Pigs Get Green Corn.

Green corn is being fed to the 200 spring pigs on the Yorkville farm. Although the pigs are getting a full ration of grain, the stalks of corn will be cut and thrown on the ground in the pasture to furnish some green forage for them until the grass has a chance to freshen up.

Ground oats are kept before the pigs all the time. Some of it is fed dry in self feeders and the rest put in troughs in the form of slop. The pigs are given a little shelled corn. Ground oats now are being fed to about 350 hogs on the Yorkville place.

Measure Crops.

All the crops growing in test fields and plots at the Wheaton farm were carefully measured last Friday morning shortly after the first heavy rain of the summer had stopped. The plants will be measured again next Friday and their growth compared with the progress they made from week to week during the dry weather. Measurements of all the test crops have been taken regularly since the plants first came through the ground.

A one acre plot of European corn borer resistant corn, planted in test field C at the Wheaton farm, has made the best growth of any corn on the place. The stalks still were green and growing when the rains started last week. Ears already were beginning to hang down on the stalks. A fair yield of grain is expected.

The seed of this borer resistant strain of corn, which is known as hybrid No. 561, was obtained from the Michigan State College of Agriculture, where it was developed. It is being tried out to determine its adaptability to growing conditions in northern Illinois.

Safflower Better.

A good yield of seed is expected from the safflower plants growing in test field B. This crop has done much better this year than last. It continued to grow through the worst of the drouth and the seed now is maturing. Most of the brightly colored flowers have fallen.

THE FOOL'S PARADISE.

Some people think there is a bewildering inconsistency to be found in what appears in the political columns and the financial columns. In the latter are reports of increased earnings, larger dividends, better markets, more production and more sales. In the political columns the arguments against Mr. Roosevelt run in alarming terms. How can his opponents be right if business shows that his program has turned the balance in favor of returning prosperity?

A recent report of the federal commerce department, a part of Mr. Roosevelt's administration, remarking that the public debt "has continued to mount rapidly," says: "Future business prospects are in a degree conditioned upon the possibility of bringing expenditures more in line with receipts and thus eliminating partially at least the uncertainties prevailing in connection with future taxation and other budgetary problems."

Mr. Roosevelt's department of commerce is, as could be expected, moderate, but the confession is there. Future business prospects are conditioned upon the elimination of tax uncertainties. Mr. Roosevelt offers more uncertainty, not less. That is one reason for the alarm in the political columns.

Business has been stimulated by governmental spending. General Motors is one of the industries which has benefited. Alfred P. Sloan, its president, tells the stockholders that this stimulus creates a fool's paradise in which sales and earnings are ballooned by extraordinary governmental expenditures. Business men are not deceived by the "undesirable and artificial stimulus." They know that the gravity of the situation is expressed in the political columns.

As Gov. Landon said, a whiff of inflation may be pleasant. Business recovery based upon the excess of expenditure over revenue, upon uncontroled increase of the national debt, upon governmental determination to give out more than it can take in is false. It is a shot in the arm.

The American people are at a giddy height, with nothing much under their feet. The substantial realities of their situation are unchanged. Mr. Roosevelt can assure no one that under him they will be changed. His story is that the nation can stand it, meaning that there will be more of it. Citizens are quite certain that there he is right. There will be more of it, but they know the nation cannot stand it. They know that more of it will mean a destructive inflation and many are now trying to protect themselves by putting their property in forms which might best resist destruction. This in turn temporarily improves the markets, but it is a sign of trouble.

Pay day is approaching. If the Rooseveltian experiments are stopped the country may hit its stride again and pay its bills out of increased national revenue based upon earnings and not upon debts and borrowing. You can't always borrow your way out of trouble. You must work your way out. The chance to work the way out will be offered under Landon. If the Roosevelt theory of prosperity through more debt is continued the bills will be paid by repudiation of them, by destroying the value of money and putting the price of commodities beyond the reach of the people.

MR. BOWERS EVACUATES HIMSELF.

The Hon. Claude Bowers, American ambassador to Spain, was at the summer embassy near San Sebastian when the Spanish began a reconstruction of themselves which is a real tragic era. Mr. Bowers is the historian of an era in the United States. A number of Americans were caught in the midst of the remorseless fighting. Mr. Bowers apparently did not know that it was about to begin, but he was on the margin of it and he was soon able to widen the distance from it. He escaped to the U. S. cutter Cayuga and all was well, or was until he undertook to command the American warships in Spanish waters. That did not work and Mr. Bowers landed, but not in Spain.

On instructions from the state department to go ashore he made port at St. Jean de Luz, France, where he may be giving his best thought to the safety of his fellow citizens in the war zone which is about all of Spain. The United States is represented in Madrid, if at all, by some assistant on the staf of the ambassador. Reporters have been able to get into the interior at considerable danger to themselves, trusting that fortune would favor them, but Mr. Bowers, with the dignities, immunities and protections of his diplomatic office, hasn't been able to get more than a sea voyage and a resting place in a safer country which already has all the American diplomats it needs and where American interests presumably need no particular protection.

Mr. Bowers apparently will not fill any space in the heroic pages of the American diplomatic service, if there be such. It may spoil him as a Democratic orator at future Jackson day dinners. He was good at one of them.

MR. ROOSEVELT IN WAR.

Mr. Roosevelt seems to be developing an illusion that he was in the armed forces of the United States in France. His references to his familiarity with scenes of war and the lives and deaths of soldiers in action are becoming more specific and impressive and are calculated to create some confusion in the public mind.

"I have seen war," Mr. Roosevelt said in his Chautauqua speech last week. "I have seen war on land and sea. I have seen blood running from the wounded. I have seen men coughing out their gassed lungs. I have seen the dead in the mud. I have seen cities destroyed. I have seen two hundred limping, exhausted men come out of the line—the survivors of a regiment of a thousand that went forward twenty-eight hours before. I have seen the agony of mothers and wives. I hate war."

Mr. Roosevelt was assistant secretary of the navy. Theodore Roosevelt was in that office in 1898, and perceiving the Spanish war ahead made all preparations to meet it. Then with Leonard Wood he organized the Rough Riders and got to the front as soon as he could. Franklin D. Roosevelt remained assistant secretary of the navy. He went to Great Britain and Ireland in 1918 to inspect naval contracts and establishments. He went to Paris. He visited Foch's headquarters in August. He went to Rome and at a luncheon given in his honor by an Italian admiral said that more American troops would be sent to Italy.

Mr. Roosevelt was in Europe again in 1919 to supervise the disestablishment of the American naval stations and send the men home. In the short period in which he was in France in wartime he was given the consideration and protection which civilian representatives of a country receive in such conditions. Fighting is not in their line of duty and the service is not helped if they are hurt. If Mr. Roosevelt would confine his recollection of his military record to what it was his opponents would not challenge it. There were many good American citizens who did not enlist in the armed forces. Mr. Roosevelt, Mr. Garner, his running mate, and Mr. Farley, his campaign manager, did not do so at any time.

Gov. Landon and Col. Knox have not brought the war into the campaign. Landon put his small daughter in charge of a housekeeper and enlisted for the world war. He was trained at Lakehurst, N. J., and won a lieutenant's commission but did not get to France. Col. Knox served in Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders and enlisted in the army for the world war, serving in France.

It would seem that Mr. Roosevelt and his advisers anticipate that the Republican campaigners will make something of the record of their candidates and that it must be offset in advance by creating an impression that the Democratic candidates have a combat record. The Republicans have not given any indication that they are fighting the old wars. They are in a new one. It is enough to fight it.

Mr. Roosevelt is adept at creating impressions without a background of reality. Things are not always what they seem to be. Sometimes he is not what he may believe himself to be. He is hypnotic. There may be some self-hypnosis in the White House, where there is so much confidence and geniality.

GERMANY WINS THE GAMES.

Even granting Mr. Brundage of the American Olympic committee two gold medals for his wins over Eleanor Holm Jarrett and Jesse Owens, whom he fired from amateur standing, the American medalists were not numerous enough to take first place when the score on all the various contests was in and the decorations were counted.

Not to make a secret of it, Germany won and the United States was second, with a handsome collection of gold, silver, and bronze, doing well in track and field, well in only one rowing race, a fin or two ahead of the redoubtable Japanese in swimming, terrible in boxing, and an in-and-outer in some other sports, familiar or unfamiliar.

Germany's ability to take five rowing firsts, two field events, and two boxing firsts was about the measure of the host's victory. The Washington university eight oared sweep to a win was a consolation because an ailing stroke had to draw upon a reserve of pluck to make it possible. What's wrong with American amateur boxing is a question to be left to the experts. Evidently the American boxers had nothing and the explanation cannot be found in eccentric or nationalistic judging. The team was selected from a big field. It's said that the Fascist boys have to win or suffer national humiliation. Let's not make it quite that tough at home.

YOU SLEPT UNDER A BLANKET.

[Richmond News-Leader.]

You slept under a blanket last night, did you not? At bedtime, in comforting contrast to breathless, blistering weather, you could stretch your body out and feel under your chin the teasing wool; and you found delight in thinking then that two months more will bring autumn skies and golden leaves. In that thought you received that greatest of blessings, untroubled sleep, and when you awoke this morning the blanket lay smooth where you had spread it and you were a new man. All day your judgment was calmer, your sympathies broader. You were kinder and more tolerant.

How much more often do we need to sleep, as it were, mentally and spiritually under a blanket for like refreshment of mind and of soul! It is so easy, in the enervating summer of life, to grow lazy both in what we think and in what we do. Because we have an excuse in the weather, we take it in everything. With the toxin of our torpor comes petulance of manner—irritation with those who disagree, anger toward those who oppose, a deeper selfishness, a denser indifference to human need and human woe. Then, perhaps, as suddenly as when the breeze of an approaching thunderstorm cools us, we meet some tireless, disciplined soul that has carried gloriously on in spite of heat and misery. Or else there is vouchsafed to us a quiet hour in which we compose our rebellious spirit and, by prayer and calm inward confession of our failure, find renewal of spirit.

In the limitless stretches of spiritual adventure there always is a realm of cool nights where you can sleep under a blanket. When you are perspiring and distraught you cannot instantly transport yourself into that land, but, if you strive, you never fail to reach it. Go often to that land where hot blood grows cool and man's infirm judgment, by some miracle of mercy, always can be set right. Go often, because only thereby has one the strength to achieve the hardest thing in life—daily to be one's better self.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

Hew to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U. S. Pat. Office

MR. TUSHER—we'll call him that—was the greatest practitioner of oratory in our town. His was the grand manner, with rounded periods and few commas, and it was inevitable he should have been chosen to deliver the speech dedicating the new courthouse. Realizing the importance of the occasion, Mr. Tusher reviewed the history of the world. He began so far back that it required an hour and a half for him to reach the time of Cæsar Augustus. At this point at least ten persons heard Richard Rathbone, the town wit, whisper carryingly: "Thank goodness we only have to listen to two thousand more years of Tusher's speech."

Please roll this up and smoke it in your pipe,
Avoiding all opposing screeds—

ANANIAS CLUB.

Wake-Line: We've got a new park out on the west side so big that it takes two weeks to ride round it in a plane. There are so many monkeys in the tropical division that the management bought 7,500 tons of flea powder for them last year—and 79 per cent of these monkeys, we estimate, still have fleas. N. Austin.

PHRENOLOGY.

Ralph Noel.

OUR DAILY BULLETIN shows little change. R. H. L. is on vacation and Harvey T. [Help! Help!] Woodruff is still incapacitated. An amateur conductor is pulling the bell cord on the Wake-Line and managing to get it started on its daily trip, with the aid of numerous volunteer assistants. Nobly have they responded to our cries for succor, these Helpers.

Their offerings are almost invariably marked by good humor. They comment in prose and verse upon the foolish aspects of the human race, but they laugh with it rather than at it, or weep a little at its tragedies. Their recompense is the knowledge that they are spreading cheer. Let's have more of it.

LADY WITH A BROOM.

When Ellie Lamson died they laid her out
There in her chastely simple, neat front room.
Within the folds of her tired hands they placed
A coldly lovely calla lily's bloom.

I do not aim for levity, my friends,
But as I stood there in that quiet room,
Ellie, with that lily in her hands,
Did not look right—it should have been a broom!

In all the years I'd passed that woman's house—
In summer when the flowers were all abloom
Or in the dead of winter—there she was
A swishing and a swooping with her broom.

One autumn leaf upon her walk and she
At once would start to sweep it and to groom
Her steps—the pathway that ran round
To her side door—always with her broom.

And when she paused to have a little chat
With passersby—whoever chanced to loom
Upon the scene, you always saw her standing,
Leaning, as she talked, upon her broom.

So that is why I say it wasn't natural
In Ellie's hands that chilly lily's bloom—
She would have looked much more her own old self
Jazbo of Old Dubuque.

REMINISCENCE

1913—A group of railroad contractors and their assistants, riding along the right of way of a new line in northern Alabama, halted for noonday dinner in the hospitable home of Farmer Burch. As we sat down to the bountifully set table Mrs. Burch, motherly soul, asked sweetly: "Will one of you gentlemen please say grace?" Then she bowed her head. So did Mr. Burch. The contractors, who would have thought nothing of laying out a dinky rail line or driving a tunnel shaft, looked about uncertainly. It was a 20 year old bookkeeper who went to the rescue and solemnly asked the blessing. Mrs. Burch said he did very nicely, and it was a pity Mr. Burch was so deaf he couldn't hear him. And, strangely enough, there were no quips about it later in the contractors' camp.

DEAFNESS REQUIRES ADJUSTMENTS.

HELEN KELLER, who is both blind and deaf, said on one occasion, "Deafness is a much worse misfortune; for it means the loss of the most vital stimulus—the sound of the voice—that brings language, gets thought astir, and keeps us in the intellectual company of man." Of course, she was speaking of lifelong deafness, but the same thought in lesser degree applies to loss of hearing that comes on in childhood or in early adult life.

In many ways it would seem that Miss Keller's position is sound. Unlike the blind, the deaf rarely receive our sympathy. They only annoy us as they must be shouted at; a matter of personal embarrassment to the shouter as well as to the shoutee.

One of the worst plights that can occur is deafness in a musician, although Beethoven worked on in the face of this difficulty. He turned his misfortune to good account, as it did not interfere with his genius as a composer. It had the effect of isolating him from his friends, thus affording more time for writing.

I often wonder how deaf persons keep up their morale as well as they do. I refer, of course, to those who are wellnigh completely deaf. They must wage a constant fight against introspection, the building of morbid thoughts, and suspicion of their talking friends.

The question of occupation for the hard of hearing presents a real problem. Numerous types of employment are denied them. Employers will say that they cannot hear instructions and hence may become a menace to their fellow workmen. Occupations that do not involve a large amount of conversation should be chosen and all afflicted individuals with average intelligence should be taught lip reading, which is the most convenient way of carrying on an interchange of thought. Certain electrical devices are of great value, particularly if sound may be conducted through the bone, which means that the auditory nerve is intact. For those of inferior educational opportunities an out of door life connected with agriculture is far more conducive to happiness.

Because of the serious social and economic handicap, deafness should be combated far more strenuously than it is at present. This means that every disease involving a possible infection of the middle ear should be shunned. Measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever, septic sore throat—all call for careful management. Vaccines are useful in protecting the child against infections or reducing their virulence should they appear. Whenever middle ear disease is detected, pus within the cavity should be drained away and the best treatment possible should be obtained so that the least damage will result.

Again, the noise of industrial and modern life must be diminished. It is well known that noisy occupations can bring on deafness and there are many examples among boilermakers, riveters, and those working with pneumatic drills, although the open air use of these devices is not nearly so dangerous. Explosions in close proximity of the ear may cause dislocations of the tiny bones that transmit sound.

The absorption of certain drugs and chemicals has an influence upon the nerve of hearing. In many parts of the country a sizable percentage of the population is compelled to take quinine. Some dulling of hearing results frequently. In fact, experiments on animals show that quinine in sufficient doses will bring on hemorrhages within the labyrinth of the ear.

Some deaf persons will face the hardship with determination. Others will be completely overwhelmed and will shrink from contact with their fellows. I know a large number of deaf individuals who are exceedingly efficient. They have been able to find an outlet for mental activity, to adjust themselves in an atmosphere of understanding with their fellow workers so that the disability is reduced well-nigh to zero. Among these are physicians and surgeons of great eminence. All, however, have acquired an unusual degree of perfection in lip reading.

CLEANSING EAR.

Mrs. C. writes: In your article on the care of the ear canal I am surprised that you did not mention hydrogen peroxide. It is certainly one of the best remedies for use in keeping this area clean and free of disease, and so simple and harmless that a child can use it. Many years ago my mother was troubled with itching ears and an uncomfortable, full feeling. She used peroxide and was freed of these symptoms. Isn't it true that its use will kill a fungus growth and remove balls of wax?

REPLY.

Hydrogen peroxide is of some value. So also is a weak solution of boric acid or common salt. The antiseptic power of peroxide is feeble and it should not be relied upon other than in slight surface infections.

SWOLLEN FEET.

Mrs. D. L. writes: Recently I have noticed that after swimming the soles of my feet swell from heel to toe. This occurs in salt or chlorinated water. What can the cause be? Would you advise me to discontinue swimming?

REPLY.

Temporary swelling of tissues usually has little significance. However, should swelling persist and occur in the same part of the body day after day, the symptom should be investigated for a possible heart or kidney disturbance. Correction of diet or omitting salt may be all that is required. If the skin of the soles become softened and macerated from long contact with water, I would suggest shortening the swimming period.

LITTLE DANGER.

E. E. M. writes: Is it possible to contract tuberculosis from a patient's letters? A boy in a tuberculosis sanitarium writes me and I have been saving his letters.

REPLY.

PROBABLY NO DANGER.

Mrs. R. R. writes: Can a woman with a partly deformed joint, as a result of acute arthritis years ago, give birth to a healthy child?

REPLY.

There will probably be no danger to the mother or the child. A skilled obstetrician can manage the case successfully.

HIS START IN LIFE

DAY BY DAY IN THE MAKING OF THE CONSTITUTION

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 19, 1787.—[Sunday. No session of the convention. No report by Madison.] At yesterday's meeting of the house, the powers of the federal congress being under consideration, a number of propositions were introduced to be referred to the committee of detail.

The Committee of Detail at Work

Also a grand committee was appointed to consider the necessity and expediency of the United States assuming all the state debts. The committee for this purpose, arising from a motion of Mr. Rutledge of South Carolina, consists of Mr. Langdon of New Hampshire, Mr. King of Massachusetts, Mr. Sherman of Connecticut, Mr. Livingston of New Jersey, Mr. Clymer of Pennsylvania, Mr. Dickinson of Delaware, Mr. McHenry of Maryland, Mr. Mason of Virginia, Mr. Williamson of North Carolina, Mr. Charles Cotesworth Pinckney of South Carolina, and Mr. Baldwin of Georgia.

Mr. Madison's proposed additions to the powers of congress, as submitted by him yesterday as proper to be submitted to the committee of detail, were as follows:

To dispose of the unappropriated lands of the United States. To institute temporary governments for new states arising therein. To regulate affairs with the Indians as well within as without the limits of the United States. To exercise exclusively legislative authority at the seat of the general government and over a district around the same not exceeding [blank number of] square miles.

To grant charters of incorporation in cases where the public good may require them and the authority of a single state may be incompetent. To secure to literary authors their rights for a limited time. To establish a university. To encourage by premiums and provisions the advancement of useful knowledge and discoveries. To authorize the executive to procure and hold for the use of the United States landed property for the erection of forts, magazines, and other necessary buildings.

Mr. Pinckney of South Carolina proposed the following for the consideration of the committee of detail: To fix and permanently establish the seat of government of the United States. To establish seminaries for the promotion of literature and the arts and sciences. To grant charters of incorporation. To grant patents for useful inventions. To secure to authors exclusive rights for a certain time. To establish public institutions, rewards, and immunities for the promotion of agriculture, commerce, trades, and manufactures. That funds which shall be appropriated for the payment of public creditors shall not, during the time of that appropriation, be diverted or applied to any other purpose, and that the committee prepare a clause or clauses for restraining the legislature of the United States from establishing a perpetual revenue.

To secure the payment of the public debt. To secure all creditors under the new constitution from a violation of the public faith when pledged by the authority of the legislature. To grant letters of marque and reprisal.

THE WARD BRIDGE.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Don't you think it is about time that some recognition was given to the man that reserved the lake front in Grant park to the citizens of this city?

I refer to A. Montgomery Ward, who at his own expense carried the case to the Supreme court and obtained a decision that it must be kept free from buildings, excepting the Art institute.

All the new drives are named for something or another and the only thing in sight seems to be the new outer bridge. Why not call it the "Ward Memorial bridge" and show a little honor to one who has made this wonderful park possible? F. C. Walther.

THE DECLINE OF BASEBALL.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—There seems to be a lot of discussion on what's the matter with baseball. The real answer is there aren't enough good players to create interest. When every boy played ball, and every little town had a team, there were plenty of good players. Every big league team was studded with stars. Now with the kids going in for golf, tennis, and softball, there aren't enough good players developed to reach the former standard.

If the big leagues want to get more good players they've got to rekindle baseball interest in the small town boy and finance more minor leagues. The small town doesn't have the counter-attractions that the city provides boys with.

Many of us who used to attend frequently now only go occasionally. The brand of ball played isn't worth a dollar-ten. Roy Hickok.

COLLEGIATE VOTES FOR SALE.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—I am writing to inform you of your listlessness in not having previously attacked our President for the assistance he has given to innumerable college students.

Colleges and universities at the present time have a greater enrollment than ever before, due directly to Mr. Roosevelt, who has done more to give the young people of this country a college education than any other President I can recall. And don't forget, all these college students receiving aid from him are certain to vote for him. Never thought of that, did you? R. G. Siebold.

APPROPRIATE.

Chicago, Aug. 13.—Your news column states that the New Dealers are issuing a half dollar with the face of P. T. Barnum, the past master of hokum, thereon. What can be more appropriate from our noble President, the friend of the poor, who paid double the world price of silver out of the United States treasury to his friends, the poor mine owners? Let me suggest they also inscribe Barnum's favorite motto on this coin, viz.: "There is one born every minute." William Miller.

THE PLEDGED WORD.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—A few excerpts from President Roosevelt's public utterances:

At Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 14, 1936: "Permanent friendships between nations as between men can be sustained only by scrupulous respect for the pledged word."

At Washington, D. C., March 4, 1933 [with his hand on the Holy Bible]: "I do solemnly swear that I will . . . to the best of my ability, preserve, protect, and defend the constitution of the United States."

'Nuff said. Erwin Baumbuck.

THE WAR HATER.

Evanston, Ill., Aug. 15.—"I hate war," said President F. D. Roosevelt in a speech at Chautauqua, N. Y., Aug. 14, 1936. He might truthfully have added, "and all war veterans," judging from his economy message in March, 1933, and also his subsequent treatment of war veterans.

About all he knows of war is what he has seen in moving pictures.
Alfred B. Horder,
Corporal, Spanish-American War.

CHOOSING A NAME.

Chicago, Aug. 4.—[Legal Friend of People.]—I should like for business reasons to make my name shorter. Please let me know the cost and procedure and whatever you can tell me about what the law says on changing one's name.
O. G. D.

"It is sufficient in legal proceedings and elsewhere, that a person is designated by a name by which he is commonly known and called, even though it is not his true name. . . . A marriage by the name by which the individual is commonly known is valid. . . . Where it is not done for fraudulent purpose, and in the absence of statutory restriction, one may lawfully change his name without resort to any legal proceedings, and for all purposes the name thus assumed will constitute his legal name just as if he had borne it from birth."—45 C. J. 380, 381.

In Reinken vs. Reinken, 351 Ill., 409, decided by the Illinois Supreme court in 1933, these principles were applied in holding that a divorced woman can resume her maiden name without court permission.

Chapter 96 of the Illinois revised statutes provides that a person "may" file a petition and secure a court decree, but it is held that such statutes do not abrogate the common law right of an individual to change his name without application to the courts.

In adopting a new name, one should for convenience give notice of the change to those persons to whom the information may be material. In transactions in which the old name appears, we suggest continuing to use it to avoid confusion. For example, the same name under which one took title to real estate should be used in a subsequent conveyance.

BUSINESS VIES WITH BEAUTY IN NORTH IRELAND

Traveler Admires Ships as Well as Scenery.

BY FREDERIC BABCOCK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BELFAST, Ireland, Aug. 18.—[By mail.]—Oliver Herford is credited with the epigram: "A rolling stone gathers no moss—but he achieves a certain polish." You get a lot of polish in roaming through Northern Ireland and finding out how different it is from the way you had pictured it. After a tour of the trouble torn continent you find here a paradise of pleasant calm. It's quite a surprise to meet the fighting Irish and learn that they are among the most peaceful of the world's peoples.

The trip through the Ulster country begins in Belfast, a city splendidly situated at the extremity of an arm of the sea, with the blue hills of Antrim for a background. What impresses you even more than the capital's beauty, however, is its industry.

Proud of Shipbuilding.

Somebody has figured it out that if all the linen produced in Belfast in one year were to be made up into a single piece of cloth it would cover an area of 70 square miles. But even though the city leads the world in linen making, Irishmen will tell you that the cloth belongs not to the city but to all Ulster, and that Belfast's real claim to fame is its shipbuilding.

Prosperity did not begin here until the 1860's, when one of the small shipbuilding yards began to expand. Half a century later this yard was the world's greatest. Today it sends forth ships that sail every ocean and carry the flags of every country. In the busy seasons 20,000 men hammer and build and rivet there. One of the city's chief attractions is to be had at the Queen's bridge, where travelers gather in the evening to watch these hordes of workers stream across.

The center of Belfast was made out of marsh. A river flows beneath High street, one of the main thoroughfares. Nearly every large building here has to have a foundation of piles. Yet the site has been so good for commercial purposes that the population has increased sevenfold in 80 years, and there are now twice as many buildings as there were 50 years ago.

Half Hour to the Hills.

The city has remained compact. In half an hour you can leave it entirely and wander in the grassy hills that rise on every side, or walk across the brown moors nearby. In a few minutes you can motor out to one of the finest drives in Ireland—the coast road to Portrush.

Before one takes the coast route, however, there are two places to visit—Lough Neagh, with its legendary power of petrifying the things left in it, and little Kilroot, where Dean Swift served for a while as Episcopalian vicar.

An old-time Irish tale has it that the fishermen of Lough Neagh have petrified legs, and that when they want to sharpen their razors they merely turn up their trousers and use their shins as hones. No child visits this country without firmly planting a stick in the lake shore and vowing to return at some future time, when, like the legs of the fishermen, the stick will have turned to stone.

Packed with Scenic Beauty.

The road from Belfast to Portrush is only 86 miles long, but its scenic variety is amazing. In runs over hills and mountains, beside the sea, along lakes and rivers, falls and glens, and passes now through gay seaside resorts, now through villages of thatched roof houses. Portrush, a resort with the sea on three sides, is a small city, but admirably suited for visitors. In its neighborhood are many places where one can find solitude—a thing often denied world travelers.

A trip along the Antrim coast road brings the visitor to Northern Ireland's most spectacular sight—the Giant's Causeway. This consists of a perfect honeycomb of stone columns, 40,000 in all, each with the shape of a polygon or hexagon. How these stones came to be cut to such precise mathematical shapes is a mystery so far unsolved by the geologists.

Travelers who get a thrill out of visiting ancestral homes will find in this country quite a few places boasting of an intimate bearing on American history. A short distance from Belfast is Carrickfergus, where the grandparents of Andrew Jackson kept an inn. The inn is still standing. It is almost within sight of the spot where John Paul Jones, father of the American navy, captured the British ship Drake under the very walls of Carrick castle.

Back to the Declaration.

To the west, at Bergalt, near Strabane, lived the grandfather of Woodrow Wilson. The little shop in which he worked has been kept intact. Strabane was the native town of John Dunlap, printer of the original Declaration of Independence and founder of the Pennsylvania Packet, the first daily newspaper in America. Thomas McKean, also from Strabane, was one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence. Charles Thompson, another pioneer American, was born at Maghera. Still others who achieved prominence in America were John Brown and John Murray from County Antrim, James Moore from Lurgan, and William Sampson from Derry.

James Buchanan's parents lived at Raloo, near Larne, and the ancestral home of Andrew Johnson was at Mount Hill, likewise near Larne. William McKinley was of County Antrim stock; his forefathers came from Conachin's farm in Dervock. The family home of Theodore Roosevelt's mother stands at Glenoo, County Antrim. The ancestral place of Chicago's Armour family is still to be seen at Drumquin, near Newtonstewart.

What's your travel problem? Address queries regarding where to go, how to get there, costs, and accommodations to the Travelers' Guide, Chicago Tribune, inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What is the shortest time for a trip around the world? E. M.

If you wish to go all the way by steamer, you can do it in approximately 80 days. If you wish to go by way of the trans-Siberian express, you can do it in 35 days. As soon as round-the-world flying arrangements are completed, it will be possible to make the trip in a little more than a week's time.

I have been told that numerous changes are planned for the square in front of St. Peter's church in Rome. Can you tell me what they are? C. J. R.

The entire pavement is to be torn up, for the first time within living memory, and the area is to be covered with cement and travartin, known to the Romans as the hardest of stones. The houses built in the middle ages in the Borgo district, near the square, are to be demolished. Hereafter when tourists visit St. Peter's they will have a grandiose view of the square—a space so vast that an army of 200,000 men, horses, and artillery can be drawn up in it.

A friend and I would like to leave for Europe soon after Labor day, and to travel through England, Holland, Belgium, and France for three weeks or so. We prefer an American boat. Any suggestions? V. B.

You might try the United States lines' S. S. Manhattan, sailing from New York Sept. 9.

Please tell me something about Paramaribo, Dutch Guiana. S. G. K.

Paramaribo lies only six degrees above the equator, but the thermometer there does not rise much above 90 degrees, or fall below 70. The city has a population of 44,000. It has no trolley line; most of its interesting places may be reached on foot. Donkey carts and large, rickety wagons, drawn by horned water buffalo brought from India, transport the sugar cane, sacks of coffee, piles of green coconuts, and great bunches of bananas. With magnificent disregard for pedestrian life, a few modern motor cars swirl along, tooting and blaring eternally, and driven on either side of the road.

PAROLED CONVICT GETS LIFE TERM AFTER ROBBERIES

Emil Juresk, 27 years old, 4822 Lipps avenue, a paroled convict, was sentenced to life imprisonment yesterday by Judge Michael Feinberg in the Criminal court under the habitual criminal act after he had been found guilty of robbery with a gun.

Juresk's brother, Emmanuel, 31 years old, 6676 Albion avenue, was sentenced to serve one year to life. Emil's wife, Grace, 20 years old, now in the care of juvenile authorities, was found not guilty after she had testified that her husband forced her to go along with him in robberies on threat of disfiguring her with acid if she refused.

Assistant State's Attorney William J. Lancaster said the trio had robbed between 25 and 30 cab drivers and store proprietors. The three were arrested last month after Emil threatened his wife in their home and she called the police. He fled then but was captured later. He was first sent to Joliet prison for robbery in 1928 and was paroled in 1932.

STEALS RADIO CABINETS.

Three small radio cabinets in the window of the Sturm Travel-Tone Auto Radio company, 917 West 63d street, were stolen yesterday by a burglar who threw a paving block through the glass.

ARREST OF TWO REVEALS ATTACK CHARGES BY GIRLS

Charges of assault to commit rape filed with the River Forest police by two young girls against two men were disclosed yesterday with the locking up in the county jail of Norman Brown, 24 years old, 3517 Fir street, East Chicago.

The three remaining principals in the case are Royle Brown, 30 years old, 10643 Avenue E; Madelyn Oddo, 18 years old, 5312 South Sawyer avenue, and Ethel Brown, 19 years old, 2941 Vernon avenue. None of the Browns are related.

Residents of the vicinity of Thatcher road and Division street, on the edge of a forest preserve, called River Forest police Friday night, reporting a woman screaming. The police found Norman Brown and Ethel Brown struggling. Royle Brown and Madelyn Oddo were seated in the car. After both girls signed complaints against their escorts, Miss Brown was treated for a broken nose and cuts.

The two men were arraigned before Justice of the Peace Hugh Gardner Monday night. Royle Brown was released in $5,000 bond. Norman Brown could not supply bail and was sent to jail. The case was continued to Aug. 24.

INSURANCE LODGE PAYS TRIBUTE TO VETERAN MEMBER

Some 500 members of the Royal league, fraternal insurance order, gathered in Corinthian hall in the Capitol building, 159 North State street, last night to honor Dr. Wallace K. Harrison, sole surviving charter member of the Calumet council No. 24. He helped organize the council in 1887.

The meeting celebrated the 88th birthday of Dr. Harrison, which he observed on Aug. 11. One of the best known physicians in Chicago, he is now retired from general practice, but still serves as supreme medical examiner of the league.

Not only were members of the Calumet council there to honor Dr. Harrison and his wife, but members from various other councils in all parts of Illinois, and two officers of the Wisconsin order.

William Jahnke, 1239 North Monticello avenue, archon of the council, presided. His father, Conrad Jahnke, former alderman, served as orator. Addresses of the evening were delayed almost an hour while the council scribe read scores of telegrams and messages congratulating Dr. Harrison.

Two Men Severely Burned When Insect Spray Explodes

Abraham Jacobs, 40 years old, and Lawrence Cooper, 32, of 2948 Seminary avenue, were severely burned yesterday in an explosion of insect exterminating fluid which Cooper was spraying in the kitchen of Jacobs' home at 8140 Kenneth avenue, Niles Center. The fluid was ignited by the flame of the pilot burner on the kitchen stove.

Retired Merchant Plunges to Death from Hospital

35,000 TURN OUT FOR 2D NIGHT OF LAKES CARNIVAL

About 35,000 persons attended last night's program of the Chicago park district's Carnival of the Lakes in the Burnham park lagoon. The carnival opened Monday and will continue through Sunday.

Included in the program was a fire-fighting demonstration in which a fire tug hurled tons of water over a house boat that had been set ablaze.

Another feature exhibited the dare deviltry of C. C. McWilliams, 7642 South Green street. McWilliams piloted a motor boat at high speed through the wall of a small house suspended between two barges.

As on the opening night there was a sham naval battle between replicas of the civil war ironclads, Monitor and Merrimac, and a colorful fireworks display.

LAWYERS PONDER PLAN TO COMPEL PLANE INSURANCE

Would Require Owner to Assume Liability.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A group of the nation's leading lawyers deliberated tonight the details of a long-range plan looking toward establishment of compulsory liability insurance for all commercial and private aircraft.

They were members of the national conference of commissioners on uniform state laws, meeting here in advance of the convention of the American Bar association, to which they make recommendations for action by state legislatures.

The commissioners also discussed a variety of proposals for standardizing various legal practices and laws relating to common court actions.

Two Plans Projected.

Projected by a subcommittee was a proposal that every aircraft owner be required to be insured in full against liability for personal injury.

A variation of this plan would require that, regardless of negligence, the aircraft owner would have to pay $10,000 for death and $5,000 for injuries caused by an airplane accident. Each owner also would be required to be insured for $50,000 against liability for injuries to person or property on the ground, and for $25,000 for property damage caused by collision.

Propose Bond for Heirs.

Considered earlier today by the conference was the question of uniform state laws dealing with the length of time a person may be missing before legal presumption of death. Cited to them was the case of a man in a western state who paid $15 for a parcel of land, disappeared for seven years, and then was declared dead.

Fifteen years after his disappearance he returned to learn oil had been discovered on the land, and his property was worth $1,000,000.

To protect property holders in such cases and to obviate unnecessary litigation, the commissioners recommended that heirs of the supposedly dead person be required to file bonds based on the reasonable life expectancy of the missing person.

Statistics Refute Presumption.

Laws relating to "common disaster," in which both man and wife died together in accidents, also were before the commissioners.

While it is commonly presumed by courts that a woman is of the weaker sex and dies before her husband in a shipwreck, train crash, or similar accident, the commissioners were informed that actuarial statistics indicate that after the age of 50 the wife tends to outlive her husband.

They drafted a tentative uniform act based on this and other facts covering distribution of the separate estates of wife and husband in the event of nearly coincidental deaths.

The commissioners seek also to draft uniform laws to obtain attendance of witnesses from one state in another, now impossible, and a uniform reciprocal extradition agreement.

FATHER HELD OFF WITH GUN ON TRIP TO GET HIS BABY

Foster Parents Ready for Bitter Fight.

Frantic over the possibility of losing the baby for whom they have cared since last June, when the Allens, on a fruitless hitchhiking search for employment, left her with them, the Bottorffs mustered their resources for a fight to keep Donna Jean.

Allen, who said he came by train, appeared at the Bottorff home about noon and said he expected to take the baby without any trouble, but Mrs. Bottorff, armed with a rifle, warned him to stay away.

Lawyer Orders Father Away.

Allen, who said he has a good job in a wire factory at Sterling, waited until Mr. Bottorff arrived and the two then went to see Bottorff's lawyer, Henry Mencke. There an argument ensued and Mencke ordered Allen out of his home.

Deputy Sherif Willard Gustin was called and he advised Allen to get a lawyer. Gustin told Allen he could not take the baby without legal action.

Donna Jean, born on April 22 in a Sterling, Ill., hospital, was kept in an incubator the first four weeks of her life. She weighed only 5¾ pounds when she arrived here with her parents. Discouraged and hungry, the Allens left the baby with the Bottorffs, a childless couple married 35 years.

Adoption Refused by Father.

Allen at that time signed a paper giving the Bottorffs permission to have the child to raise, but declined to permit adoption. Adoption proceedings never were instituted.

Attorney Mencke advised the Bottorffs the paper probably would have no legal standing.

"If he gets that baby," Bottorff said, "it'll be the most expensive baby that ever went into Illinois."

He said he would do without tobacco, without enough to eat and would mortgage everything he owned in order to carry on his battle to keep the girl.

Donna Jean and Mrs. Bottorff were absent from the Bottorff home tonight. Bottorff, operator of a small greenhouse, said they would remain away "until this thing blows over." He declined to reveal their whereabouts.

AMERICAN YOUTH FALLS INTO ABYSS ON ALPINE PEAK

ANNECY, France, Aug. 18.—(AP)—An 18 year old American fell hundreds of feet while climbing the Alpine peak Dent de Lanfon tonight and was believed killed.

The victim, whose name was given only as Carroll, lost his footing and plunged into an abyss.

Although his elder brother, who was with him, refused to abandon hope, natives said he could not have lived. At the plea of the brother a rescue party searched gorges near the peak on the minute chance the youth would be found still living.

The Dent de Lanfon has claimed many lives and has been scaled by only the most experienced Alpine climbers.

D. A. R. SCHOOLS' WORST ENEMY, TEACHERS TOLD

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Louis M. Hacker, a lecturer on economics at Columbia university, today asserted that labor unions were the "true inheritors" of the spirit of 1776 and that the Daughters of the American Revolution were "the most dangerous enemies of the free schools in America."

"It is time," he said, "that these busybodies are told what their ancestors fought for. The members of the D. A. R. are being unfaithful to the memories of those ancestors.

"It is time this organization stopped its witch hunting and terrorizing of teachers by its compaign for loyalty oaths.

"Many of the members of today, had they been alive in 1776, would have been Tories and connived with the British for the suppression of the rebels.

"The American revolution of 1776 was a popular uprising of the workers, and the labor unions of today are the true inheritors of this tradition."

Hacker declared that friends of the balanced budget had "emasculated education in America."

Miss Lillian Herstein of Chicago asserted at a forum of delegates that WPA officials were endangering the standards of regular school teachers and placing their tenure in jeopardy. She said the officials were permitting WPA teachers to replace regular teachers by appointing them as substitutes.

Daughter of Chicagoan Gets Divorce at Reno

Mrs. Janet Tyler, daughter of Mrs. Susan Rome Lord of Chicago and Dorset, Vt., was granted a divorce in Reno, Nev., yesterday from Nathaniel Tyler Jr. of Short Hills, N. J., whom she married in Dorset on Sept. 20, 1930. Mrs. Tyler charged cruelty. She informed the court that she and her husband had made a private agreement as to the custody of their two children.

FLAMES TRAP 4 WORKMEN IN AN OLD MINE SHAFT

Moberly, Mo., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Four men were reported trapped in a coal mine near here late today as flames raged through the structure above ground.

Demmer Sexton and Edward Stonner, who leased the mine and started operations about three weeks ago, a Negro mule driver whose name could not be learned and a fourth unidentified man were believed imprisoned in the mine by the fire.

The fire started about the fan in the ventilating system. Thus the entombed men faced the double danger of their air supply being cut off and of débris from the fire blocking escape.

The main shaft is 110 feet deep and roaring flames made entrance to it from above impossible. The nearest exit the trapped men possibly could reach was said to be at least fifty feet below ground.

Lack of water held back the fight against the flames. A bucket brigade fed the Moberly fire pumper for a time.

A rescue party attempted to enter the air shaft, but was driven back by smoke. Gas masks for rescue workers were ordered.

CHICO'S AT HOME AND ALL'S WELL IN RIVER FOREST

Chico, the footloose monkey of River Forest, ended a three day bender yesterday. Lorene Joy Barker, 2 years old, Chico's mistress, was immensely pleased. So were the neighbors of Lorene's grandparents, the Arthur Heideckes. So were the River Forest police, who spent three days in brave but futile efforts to capture Chico. Policemen can climb trees, but do not like to.

Ordinarily quite content in his cage in a garage behind the Heidecke home at 147 Thatcher avenue, Chico brought grief to the community Friday night by escaping. Worse, he proved himself to be a Peeping Tom. He scampered over roof tops, and swung nimbly through the trees of his neighborhood, but not for the sheer fun of exercising freedom. He did it to get from one point of vantage to another, the better to peer through windows.

By yesterday morning, however, had something to do with it. He sneaked home and into his cage, and gorged himself on a banana soaked in port wine, which had been placed there as bait. When his mistress found Chico at home and closed the door of his cage, he was peacefully sleeping off his bibulous headache. Chico was sated. Or perhaps the rain

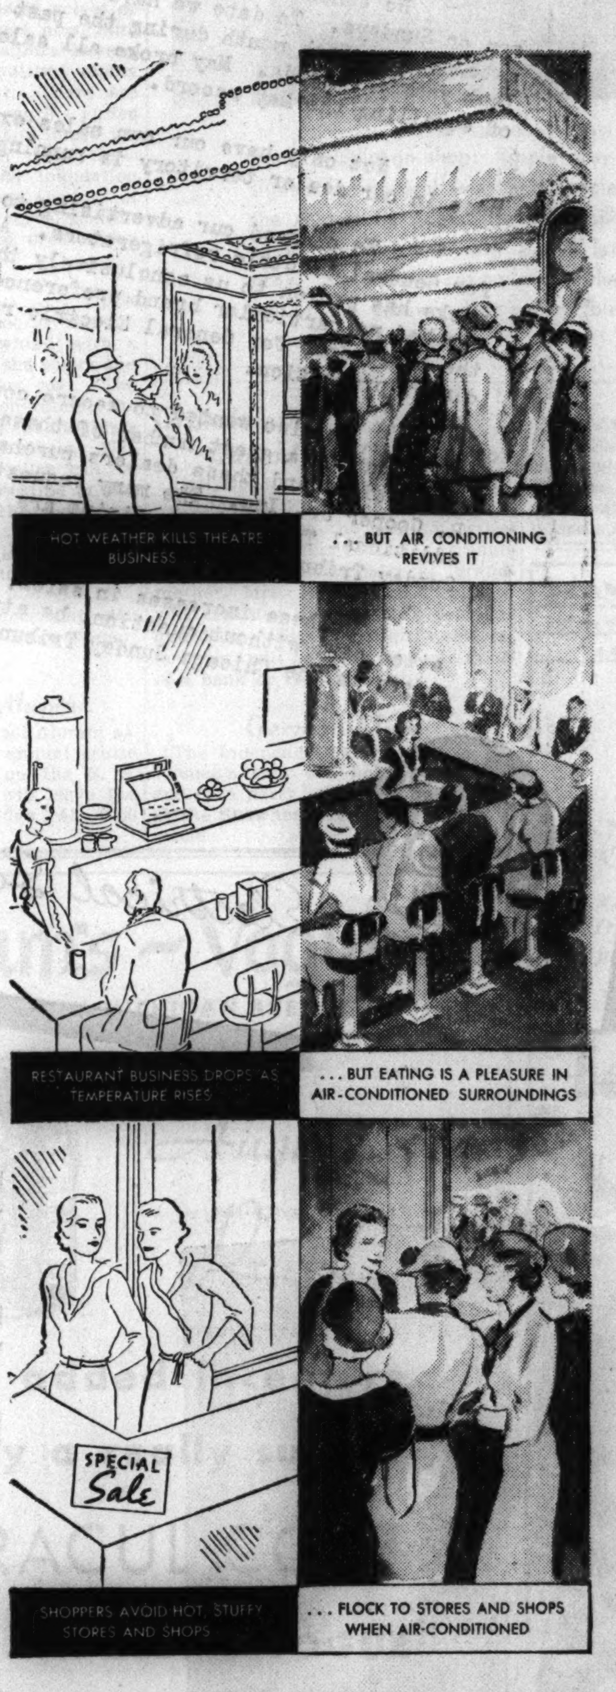
WHAT AIR CONDITIONING MEANS TO BUSINESS

As MARK TWAIN is often quoted: "Everybody talks about the weather, but nobody ever does anything about it." This was pretty generally true up to a few years ago. When it got hot, business suffered depending on how high the thermometer went. Theatre owners, restaurant owners, and merchants considered it an extravagant waste of time to try special schemes to encourage business in hot weather. Either they got it or they didn't, and beyond that there wasn't very much they could do about it. Then air conditioning made its entrance. Business men looked on with grave doubts as a few scattered theatres invested in simple air cooling systems in an effort to stave off serious summer slumps. But it wasn't long before their doubts were dispelled.

The almost instantaneous success of air conditioning was astounding. Theatres became packed night after night . . . during the months which had formerly established records for poor attendance. Profits began to mount. And in a short time the worst months in the show business became the best. Restaurants, always hard hit in warm weather, followed theatres in the recognition of a new-found remedy for ailing summer business. Their results were no less astonishing. Hotels, stores, public rooms of all sorts began to capitalize on this experience. Air conditioned cars on railroads had an amazing effect on summer travel.

From its earliest application air conditioning has proved that it can be a money maker. Almost without exception it has been a profit builder for every business that has used it. It has been a means not only of creating summer business but also maintaining a more sustained level of business throughout the year. It draws new customers, holds them for a longer period of time, tending to make them spend more freely.

The results from air conditioning are just as spectacular today as they were a few years ago. The only difference is that there are a thousand times as many splendid examples of its business-getting possibilities. Department stores that have tried air conditioning on a single floor are expanding its benefits to several floors, or entire buildings. Hotels, having experienced its power to attract people into their public rooms are now air conditioning guest rooms. Small merchants are considering its installation after learning of its success in a single location in the neighborhood.



• Far sighted business men are including the installation of air conditioning in their budgets for next year. They realize that it is none too early even now to make their plans for this profitable addition to their facilities for serving the public. Through our engineers, experienced in the many phases of air conditioning, we will gladly consult with interested firms in the suburban and outlying territory served by this Company, and recommend to them the many qualified dealers in air conditioning equipment.

Attention: Mr. C. S. Benham
National Advertising Manager

Gentlemen:

Late in 1935 we had a preview of the new General Electric refrigerators to be sold during 1936. They were so stunning in appearance and their record of economical operation was so impressive we immediately planned a newspaper campaign to acquaint the people residing in our territory with these facts.

We scheduled 13 pages in color in the Chicago Tribune - to run on Sundays. To date we have run 10 pages - the results have been astounding. Each month during the past six months, sales have broken last year's records. May broke all sales records and June gives promise of equalling the May record.

Not only have our own sales exceeded expectations but the business in our dealer territory is running well over 100% above last year.

We planned our advertising to increase the general preference for General Electric refrigerators. A survey made within the past few weeks has proven to us conclusively that the large percentage of people who had no particular brand preference has been reduced considerably and the preference for General Electric refrigerators has been increased in direct proportion.

We also wanted to secure coverage in the many cities adjacent to Chicago - a great number of these being under the direction of our organization, and these dealers purchasing General Electric equipment from R. Cooper Jr. Inc. The many requests we have received from dealers for additional Tribune advertising are indicative of the influence of the Sunday Tribune color pages.

These increases in sales, consumer preference, and dealer cooperation can, without question, be attributed to consistent use of color pages in the Chicago Sunday Tribune.

Yours very truly,

LESS THAN 5c PER FAMILY

TO R. Cooper Jr., Inc., the 1936 line of General Electric refrigerators was big news. To tell the story to the housewives of this market they turned to Chicago's first newspaper—the Chicago Tribune.

They wanted results not only in Chicago but throughout the adjacent territory in which they distribute to dealers.

Dealer Territory Sales Up Over 100%

And because they knew the Chicago market would pay out on a major investment in advertising, they scheduled 13 pages.

"To date we have run 10 pages—the results have been astounding," writes Mr. S. Nides, Advertising and Sales Promotion Manager.

Majority Coverage of Chicago Homes

Women's preferences are decisive in the sale of household equipment. The success of the R. Cooper Jr., Inc., campaign confirms the advertising practice of department stores, specialty shops, and other merchants and manufacturers catering chiefly to women who place more advertising in the Tribune than in any other Chicago newspaper.

The Chicago Tribune not only reaches housewives but it reaches more of them in all income levels of interest to advertisers than any other Chicago newspaper.

With a total circulation on Sunday of more than 1,000,000, the Tribune gives General Electric advertising full market circulation throughout Chicago and suburbs.

Why Dealers Prefer Tribune Advertising

In addition to reaching more than 679,000 families in metropolitan Chicago, the Sunday Tribune is read by 20% or more of all the families in 314 cities and towns of 1,000 or more population in the five states adjacent to Chicago.

Time after time investigations among Chicago retailers have revealed marked preference for the Tribune. To them it is as much a tradepaper as it is a newspaper. They check its advertising columns to see what is new on the market. Because products advertised in the Tribune sell, dealers are quick to stock and promote them.

Rates Among the Lowest in America

If your sales in the Chicago territory are not all they should be, why not get the complete story of the potential for your product in this market when backed with a campaign of Tribune advertising. Chicago Tribune rates are among the lowest in the newspaper field.

In addition to Mrs. Padley and June, Mr. Padley, Dr. and Mrs. Trevor C. Stamp and their son, Trevor Jr., are here with June's and Baby Trevor's grandparents. The Padleys and Stamps will sail for their English homes on Sept. 9, just three days before their young cousin, Miss Virginia Dawes, is married to Richard T. Cragg.

Virginia Dawes Will Be Guest at 16 Parties

Gay Prenuptial Festivities Crowd Calendar.

BY JUDITH CASS.

When a young member of a clan as loyal and as large as the Dawes family gets married it creates something of a problem for her friends who also wish to contribute to the festivity by entertaining for her. Relatives and friends of Miss Virginia Dawes have found a solution by arranging no fewer than 16 parties for her in the last 17 days before her marriage to Richard Thompson Cragg on Sept. 12.

There actually will be 18 parties, counting the spinster dinner that Miss Dawes will give on Thursday evening, Sept. 10, at the home of her parents, Gen. and Mrs. Charles G. Dawes, and the bachelor dinner that Mr. Cragg is giving that same evening at the home of his parents, the Earl J. Craggs, in Evanston.

Several parties already have been given for Miss Dawes and Mr. Cragg. Mr. and Mrs. R. Douglass Cooper will give a buffet supper on Thursday, Aug. 27, at the Exmoor club. Mr. Cooper will be one of the ushers. On Saturday, the 29th, Miss Patsy Boylston, who will be maid of honor, will be hostess at a breakfast and kitchen shower at her home in Wilmette.

Myra Jane Hutton to Give Breakfast.

Another breakfast will be combined with a woodenware shower on Sunday, the 30th, at the Homestead in Evanston, with Miss Myra Jane Hutton, one of the bridesmaids, as hostess. Mrs. Winthrop Robinson will give a pantry shelf shower on the 31st at her home in Evanston.

Mrs. Charles H. Bosworth, a cousin of the bride, is entertaining at luncheon on Tuesday, Sept. 1, at the Glen View club, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry M. Dawes, the bride's uncle and aunt, will give a dinner at their home in Evanston on Sept. 2. Thursday, the 3d, Miss Elizabeth Quinlan, Miss Betty Fisher, and Miss Jane Amend will give a stocking shower at Miss Quinlan's home in Wilmette.

Miss Virginia Haskell will be hostess at a luncheon on Sept. 4 in Evanston, and on the 6th Miss Beatrice McCurdy and Miss Helen Holton, two other bridesmaids, will give a tea and handkerchief shower at Miss Holton's home in Winnetka.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Ericson are giving a dinner for their sister and Mr. Cragg on Tuesday, the 8th, at their farm near Libertyville, and for that same day Miss Dorothy Weston is planning a luncheon at the Sunset Ridge club.

Mr. and Mrs. George B. Dryden will be hosts at a dinner-dance the following evening at their home in Ridge avenue in Evanston, and that afternoon Mrs. Dana M. Dawes, who will be matron of honor for her sister-in-law, will give a luncheon and recipe shower at the Glen View club.

On Sept. 10, the day of the spinster and bachelor dinners, Mrs. Charles Ridgway will give a luncheon at her home in Evanston. Gen. and Mrs. Dawes will give the bridal dinner at their home in Greenwood boulevard on Friday, the evening before the wedding. Miss Edith Lapham is planning a games shower and tea for Friday afternoon before the wedding.

Announce Engagement of Louise Dudley Lynch.

From Wild Acres, Vineyard Haven, Mass., the summer home of Mrs. L. Ware Lynch of Greenwich, Conn., comes the announcement of the engagement of Mrs. Lynch's daughter, Miss Louise Dudley Lynch, to Jean Paul Getty of Los Angeles and New York, son of Mrs. George F. Getty of Los Angeles, and the late Mr. Getty. The bride-to-be has numerous Chicago relatives, for her maternal grandparents were Mr. and Mrs. J. Herbert Ware, and her paternal grandfather is Henry C. Lytton, who now is at his summer place in Roslyn Heights, N. Y.

Walter Lytton of Chicago is Miss Lynch's father. Mrs. Frederick C. Shorey of Montreal and Paris, the former Mrs. Ruth Ware von Colditz, is her aunt. Miss Lynch attended the Greenwich academy, the Finch school in New York, and Marymount convent, Neuilly-sur-Seine, Paris. She was introduced to society in Greenwich in 1932. Mr. Getty attended the University of California and Oxford university. The wedding will take place this fall.

Front Views and Profiles

A YOUNG lad was sitting at the soda fountain of a chain drug store staring into space when the soda girl put his glass of water before him. To attract his attention she said softly, "Knock, knock!" Without removing his gaze from its distant focus he answered dreamily, "Who's there?"

Knock-Knock—Game—Library—Beauty—Street Scene.

"Wanda," she answered.

"Wanda who?" answered the dreamer.

VARIATION on the Little Audrey stories. A sign printed in straggling capitals, tacked on a tree on the south side recently, read:

"Children's books
46 books
5 cents a week
1 cent a day
Audrey Ann Perlman
5484 Everett avenue."

Investigation disclosed that the rental library was conducted on the back porch of the house at that address by a young woman of eight summers. She seemed to have a number of customers, or possibly they were all helpers. The equipment consisted of two bookcases made of orange crates, covered with blue paper and lined with white paper napkins, and several improvised chairs and tables. What probably was little Audrey's personal library filled the shelves and included everything from Mother Goose books to Mary Poppins.

IN the morning mail. "I am not familiar with your Sibelius. . . . To me the voice of solitude will always be the questing, flutelike call of a deer, heard at midnight on a wild lake in northern Ontario. High, thin and clear it came from towering, wooded cliffs to echo again and again until it was answered in reality from a lower point far down the water. . . . When I read your article this morning the heat and bedevilment of the office fell away. I heard it faintly—a voice of solitude never to be captured in musical score nor word of any pen.—Forrest M. Brown, Hoopeston, Ill."

Masters' Play Given Cheers at Premiere

Schenectady, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Hailed by an enthusiastic audience, Edgar Lee Masters' new play "Moroni" had its world première tonight in the outdoor theater on the Union college campus as the fifth production of the 1936 Mohawk drama festival.

Cries of "Author, Author" brought Masters to the stage for a brief speech after the final curtain.

"I don't know what the author of a play can say after he has written it; perhaps he should say nothing," the poet, biographer, and erstwhile Chicago lawyer asserted. He paid tribute to the "beauty of the production" under the direction of Charles Coburn, and to the "fine interpretation" given by the cast.

"Moroni" is based on the recorded life of Joseph Smith, founder of Mormonism, its mystic implications underlined by warm humor and occasional flashes of satire.

Smith is depicted alternately as an imaginative leader of men, strong in the assurance of his vision, canny in mundane affairs; and as a misunderstood dreamer, assailed by doubts, torn between his spiritual ambitions and his second love, Sylvia Law.

Party Letters Must Be Put in Mail Today

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

One more day, boys and girls! That's all the time you have to write that letter and mail it to me. You must mail the letter today. By tomorrow afternoon, you see, the judging will be all over—all the letters will have been read and the winners selected. We'll be getting the lists of names ready to be printed in next Sunday's TRIBUNE, and then you'll know who's coming to our next party with me.

It should be great fun to see the Chicago Cubs play the Phillies—and that privilege will be awarded to the 50 boys and 50 girls who write the best letters about why they'd like to be spectators at that game, which takes place on Aug. 27.

If you're a winner you'll have a chance to see all your favorite Cub players and you also may get a peek at a couple of ex-Cubs now playing with Philadelphia, Chuck Klein and Adolph Camilli.

As I've told you before, all I want to know is whether or not you'd really enjoy being invited to this party, because I'm anxious to have as my guests the youngsters who'll have the best time if they're out at Wrigley field a week from tomorrow.

If you're just getting around to writing your letter, be sure that you don't forget to tell me those three items I always want included in your letters—your full name, address and age.

This is your last chance, you baseball fans, and if you wish to take advantage of it—better get that letter in the mail. The address is Sally Joy Brown, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

College Shops Present Smart Styles for All

Accessories Have Spotlight of Fashion World.

BY RHEA SEEGER.

How the college girls do rate. Doubters please trot to town and see for yourselves all the college shops, all the college departments filled with plunder for the edification of first year students, as well as the upper class students out for something extra for their trunks. The accessories seem to be spotlighted.

So whether you are college bound or not, the collections of extras are well worth seeing for a lot of stunning costume accents are available for all gay young shoppers.

The best looking pigskin gloves ever unpacked are now so plentiful and so varied in shade and styles that every one likes them. Dark brown, natural, blue, black, and white are knockout for fall tweeds and wool dresses. They go with street suits, with campus clothes, or with velveteens that are scheduled for smart daytime wear just as soon as it gets cool.

Now is the time to invest in sweaters—never have there been so many hanging about. There are sweaters in every conceivable color and neckline. There are solid colors and some of the dizzy striped concoctions that previously have been found only on younger brothers.

Then see the belts. College girls are choosing them wider than last year, and brighter.

Neck scarves and ascots are still the bright spots of any well-packed college trunk.

If you're out to find the youngest, smartest dinner dresses of velvet or velveteen, you should act now. Slim fitted, puffed sleeved affairs have a mile or so of small buttons racing down the center front. There are picturesque elbow length puffed sleeves, without a belt, a most important bit of fashion news these days. For that means foundation layers that control any shadow of an unseemly bulge or curve, so that these fitted streamlined dresses can best be dramatized.

Fashion photograph . . . ripple gray caracul, fitted smoothly around the waistline and accented with a gray lether belt makes the smart and simple general wear fur coat. The skirt is long, flares moderately; the sleeves are square cut at the shoulders and gently full at the elbow. The curved medium high collar can be worn up around the neckline or flat like a boy's collar. The flat black beret has bow ribbon trim. Available in a Chicago collection of fur coats specially priced during the August sales.

Readers of THE TRIBUNE yesterday contributed $56 to the Camp Algonquin fund, sufficient to send a child, three mothers, and their babies—including the mother who saved $5 out of a $12 a week salary—to Camp Algonquin for the final summer encampment on Aug. 25.

So eager were TRIBUNE readers to help the young mother who saved $5 out of her husband's slim salary in order that their sickly 7 months old baby might get two weeks' of fresh air, that four persons sent in contributions with her in mind. Contributions were:

Theodore Krebbs	$ 1.00

E. S. Picher	20.00
Mrs. V. H. H.	9.00
Marion Coakley	1.00

Previously acknowledged	$1,725.54
Grand total	$1,781.54

Benefit plays and shows for the Tribune Free Ice fund seem to occupy the interest of young Chicagoans this week. The proceeds of three were received yesterday. Joan Donahue, Suzanne Hammel, Joan Berschbach, and Katherine Heald of River Forest sent $2 which they made by giving a play and selling refreshments.

Joanne Hyman and Harriet Block, both of Buckingham place, earned $1.25, and Annette, Sylvia, Bernadine, Marilyn, and Sally Jean sent in 25 cents, the proceeds of a penny show they gave on their vacation.

River Forest Children	$ 2.00

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

Enter the "donkey compact!" This is for the Democratic gals. The Republican lassies who like to mix politics with nose powdering already have the compact in sunflower motif, as you remember our telling you.

The donkey compact is a cute trick that will be found in three shops around town. It's inexpensive, but well made and has really nice lines. It has the slenderness required of the modern vanity case, but there's plenty of room for a good supply of your own loose powder.

Cases are in several colors. Take your choice of black, white, garden pink, green, blue, or watermelon red, each with a spry little donkey decorating the lid.

There's a nice lipstick you should know about; it's in a shade called "peony" and it's awfully pretty—a little bit dark, perhaps, but not so dark it will fight furiously with the natural coloring of the average fair skinned woman. It's one of those true, rather deep reds that manages to look like a natural color. We're all for lipstick shades that emphasize or at least harmonize with the natural blood color.

We've used this stick ourselves in another shade for the last few months and love it; its texture is perfect, neither dry nor too moist for summer use and its clinging qualities are all you could ask. And it's one of those sticks that you won't use up in a jiffy; you get your money's worth on this count and others.

SYNOPSIS.

Shortly after the world war Roger Mallard, handsome young Englishman, is embittered by the loss of hearing in one ear from a war injury. Mal has been raised by his godfather, William Grimwold, an actor. Grimmy persuades Mal to attend a New Year's eve party, where he meets lovely young Pamella Wyeth, though he forgets her on meeting Zelda Manners. A month later Mal marries Zelda. The marriage ends disastrously. In a rage at his failure to make a living on the stage, Zelda flings a mirror at Mal and unknowingly destroys the hearing of his other ear. Fourteen years later Mal, under Grimmy's tutelage, has become a great success in pictures, hiding his affliction from his public. Zelda has refused him a divorce. Pamella Wyeth has a home in Pasadena. David Barkley, son of an old friend, boards with her. At the première of Mal's latest film David meets Ellen Greet and invites her to a New Year's eve party at the hotel where Mallard lives, and asks Pamella along as chaperon. Mal is mourning the sudden death of Grimmy. David, as a joke on Ellen, has a boy page her with a message that Roger Mallard wants to meet her. Mal, skilful at lip reading, is sitting at the next table. Attracted by Pamella, Mal introduces himself and asks to join their party. David and Ellen desert Pamella. Mal takes her home. There Mal drops on her couch unconscious. Pamella thinks he has had too much to drink. She is unable to rouse him. In the morning David calls. He's been arrested because Mallard has disappeared, apparently kidnaped. Pamella calls Dr. Ware. He says Mal has collapsed from shock and worry; that he mustn't be moved from her house.

INSTALMENT XXI.

HIS EX-WIFE'S PLANS.

For the next few days, the newspapers printed a mixture of truth and fiction. Their columns, under large headlines, held a somewhat disgruntled tone as if they felt aggrieved at being cheated out of a big news story by the stupidities of those concerned. At any rate, Dr. Ware's version to the manager of the Excelsior was followed pretty closely. The public was told that Roger Mallard, due to years of overwork with few vacations, had suffered a breakdown. Upon the orders of his physicians he was to take a complete rest, and was shortly leaving on a long sea voyage. Consequently, his forthcoming production would be indefinitly postponed. Box office sales on the third day of the Los Angeles run of his latest picture, "The End of the Road," exceeded all bounds. Seats at the New York opening sold at the highest price ever paid for a cinema production.

As is customary, the public believed the lies and discounted the truth. The man in the street dismissed the episode with a phrase equivalent to "Find the Lady." Hollywood said: "Ha! Ha! We see Sol's fine Italian hand in this."

It was said that the executives of Supreme Artists were jubilant. Having prophesied a financial flop for Sol's production which was undoubtedly an artistic triumph, they were now ready to admit that Sol was right to put his greatest star into an adult performance.

Gossip finally summed it up by saying that Sol's only mistake was to allow Mallard's kidnaping to be solved so quickly and so tamely. Nervous breakdowns were all too common. They occurred wholesale after every fit of temperament, after every dropped option, after every divorce.

Some phases of all these views were held by a man and a woman who were reading the papers of January second and third in a suite of rooms on the top floor of the Excelsior. After they finished them, down to the last column, they looked across the scattered pile separating their chairs and smiled.

"Well—I best cut along to my own hotel. The time's come when we can't be too careful," the man was saying. Then he added softly, "You've got your break at last, Zelda. This will mean a lot of more money."

"Yes—I suppose so. What did you say her name was?"

"Pamela—or Pamella Wyeth."

"Rather a nice—a quaint name."

"Rather a nice and quaint lady. Decidedly inexperienced, I would say, in any sort of publicity or scandal."

"And Mal—"

"I think I may say that I've never seen a man escort a lady out of an hotel lobby in a more protective manner."

The woman got up abruptly and crossed the room to gleam moodily out of the window. On her dressing table, among the array of silver and crystal objects there, was a handsome professional photograph of Roger Mallard in a silver frame. His eyes seemed to follow her movements with a haughty and impersonal stare.

"It's strange," she said at last, "how things happen. When least expected. After years and years of waiting. With nothing. Always nothing. And then right on top of that letter from his attorneys——"

"Well, you had a break coming to you, my dear. I thought you'd get it sooner or later now Grimwold's gone. He was such a clever old watch dog. And Mallard's impulsive—hot-headed. And do you realize that he hasn't been alone—hasn't sailed his own canoe without an able skipper for any time to speak of in all these fourteen years? Give him enough leeway and he'll sink himself."

Zelda acknowledged this in silence. After a little, she came back to her chair, bestowing a fiercely possessive look at Mallard's picture as she passed her dressing table.

"Well," she said, "I want a lawyer with as fine and dignified a reputation as I can get. I'd like an Englishman."

"Certainly. I live but to grant your wishes. There's a firm over in Pasadena—so I've found out with a little scouting. Geddes, Hilton and Geddes. The head of the firm, Mr. Gordon Geddes comes from London. He's got a reputation as solid as the British Isles."

"How shall I approach him?"

"Leave that to your devoted kinsman, Alfred Chetwyn. We'll figure it out. There's no hurry. In fact, the more time we take the better. Mallard will sink himself deeper. Unless I miss my guess, he's falling at last for a woman. And the very kind of woman we want."

Beating her fists softly on the arms of her chair, she refused to accept this.

"But he's mine! The law still says so. No other woman is going to take him from me!"

Chetwyn sprang up and seized her wrists.

"See here, Zelda," he spat out angrily, "are you or are you not going through with this thing as we planned it, and give me my reward when we've won out?"

"Of course, I am, Alfred. Let go of my hands."

"Well, then, stop these sentimental relapses. It's a poor line to give your dignified lawyer. And it's not going to make a hit with me if I find out that you've fooled me all these years and still care for the fellow."

"Don't be silly, Alfred! But how was I to know when we separated that night, he would develop into the very kind of man women go mad over?"

"Rubbish! You're allowing the romance of all his plays to color your judgment. In reality, you know he's far from romantic. Why, haven't you spent hours grousing about how it was ruining your voice screaming at him?"

"I've long thought that was just a line he used to torment me—to get rid of me. That trouble he had as a boy in the trenches was over before I ever knew him. I couldn't see that it hampered him. All it did was to make him downright uncanny at seeing every little thing that escaped other people—at picking thoughts out of your face and brain and off your lips that you were trying to hide. Just let me murmur anything extra stinging to relieve my feelings, and he'd make me repeat it, louder and louder, till I thought I'd go mad. He knew it bored me to tears to repeat and explain everything I said. It was hell, I tell you. With no money. Awful lodgings—shut up together. And no talk except about going places where he could find peace and quiet."

"Then, for God's sake, why are you going places night after night to watch his damned pictures? Why are you buying photographs like that?"

"What's it to you?"

"A lot to me," Chetwyn said with meaning. "And a lot to you, too, if I should discover that the woman I've helped and cared for all these years is a wife who's fallen in love with her husband's pictures after she's kicked the real man out."

She turned on him furiously.

"Don't you dare say that! He was leaving me, I tell you."

"There's a lot in that episode—you being a lady who throws things when she's angry—that will need ticklish handling. Well, never mind!" he laughed shortly. "Time's your greatest ally. It all happened so long ago. But with this fresh material——"

GASOLINE ALLEY—LOOP THE LOOP

Studio Denies Betty Grable's Wedding Plea

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Betty Grable, noticed leaving the R. K. O. Radio studio legal offices, admits her visit was to ask cancelation of that clause in her contract which forbids her marrying before December, 1937. Betty would like to become Mrs. Jackie Coogan before that time. However, as to canceling the clause, the studio refused that. Betty has just finished a picture called "Don't Turn 'Em Loose."

June Travis, Chicago leading woman, has made a resolve against too many "dates" with boy friends. "From reading the papers one would think I did nothing but trot around to night clubs every night and go from romance to romance," the brunette daughter of Harry Garbiner says. "The truth is I never go out nights while I am working in a picture and I don't want to become a 'Hollywood hey-hey girl.' I've never had a serious romance since I came to Hollywood. I like to go out dancing about once a week. So now I've decided that my future appearances in public places will be few and far between."

Pat O'Malley and his three red haired daughters, Eileen, 19; Sheila, 14, and Kathleen, 12, all are appearing in the Irish rebellion tragedy picture, "The Plough and the Stars," at R. K. O.-Radio.

Edna May Oliver has been chosen to head the supporting cast for Clark Gable and Joan Crawford in the other Irish story, "Parnell." She plays "Aunt Ben," elderly companion to Kitty O'Shea, played by Joan.

Maurice Moscovitch, veteran Russian actor, who is making his screen debut in "Winterset" at R. K. O.-Radio, has his son, Harry, acting as his stand-in, thereby netting two salaries for the family.

Buddy Ebsen, who was forced by the depression to quit college after two years of a premedical course at the University of Florida, now says his dancing appearances and movie work have enabled him to resume his career which was interrupted in 1929. Ebsen says he has registered at the University of Southern California, intending to divide his time partly between movie work and the campus. He eventually hopes to attend Johns Hopkins.

Richard Dix received a doctor's bill that he thought was a little heavy, but decided it probably was okay because he noticed the treatment mentioned was for papilloma. But curiosity got the better of the actor and he looked up "papilloma" in the dictionary and saw that it meant a corn. The "injury" had been an old stirrup callus. Dix phoned the doctor and explained he didn't want to pay so much for a high priced name for a corn cure and the bill was pared.

There is general agreement that if Inez Courtney doesn't possess the most decorative pair of dancing legs in the screen colony they, at least, are as decorative as any.

The comedian, Sid Silvers, has bought the proprietorship of a high school girls' softball team, so popular as arc light evening spectacles in Los Angeles. The high school girls play professional ball and some of the teams are neat profit makers.

When R. K. O.-Radio studio signed Lily Pons for her second screen appearance, it also signed Alberti Di Gorostiaga and Carolyn Gray, for Mlle. Pons won't do anything professional without them. Alberti is her voice teacher and Miss Gray is her coach in the American language.

It was almost a touch of genius for Twentieth Century-Fox to sign Boris Karloff, the archvillain of them all, and Warner Oland, the roly-poly, but invincible detective, to play rôles against each other in a thriller which will be filmed next month. The studio will bill their film as "Warner Oland vs. Boris Karloff in 'Charlie Chan at the Opera.'"

Medical Aid Only Hope for Drinking Wives

BY DORIS BLAKE.

When a man presents a case of a drink loving wife, a slovenly run home, neglected children, extravagance and the other vices of an irresponsible woman, our sympathy is unbounded, but we also have an overwhelming sense of the futility of trying to help.

When drink becomes so ingrained a vice in a woman, we feel that only a miracle of prayer, medical direction and a complete rebuilding of the moral character will help. We feel more hopeless about a drinking mother than a drinking father, perhaps because we are more accustomed to male digression in this respect, and because of the mother's rôle in the home and the way mother-love has been eulogized. A mother's responsibility toward the young ones becomes affected by drink.

There's so much pride and decency and self-respect that must be built up in the woman before the drinking issue is tackled. For when women once start traveling the gin route, they sink to lower levels than men with the same habit. Everything goes for them. Their looks, their pride, their home interests, their children's welfare.

It's appalling how many women in recent years have become victims of what formerly was believed to be largely a male vice. A son's broken romance was yesterday's contribution to the desolation wrought by a middle aged mother with a reputation for starting to drink in the morning. In one of her drunken moments, she called the son's fiancée on the telephone and abused her in such filthy terms the girl recoiled from any future association with the family.

That's but a single testimony received of the depths to which a woman sinks with the drinking habit. There are too, too many of them. The tendency may be inherited, or it may be developed with constant daily social imbibing. But in any event, we feel that the victim should be submitted to medical direction and such moral regenerative influences as our clergy are best able to administer.

Five Year Olds Need Tactful Management

They Are at a Shy and Self-Conscious Age.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

I'd almost wager that scores of mothers who read this letter could write "ditto" beneath each word:

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: It is my 5 year old son, John, the eldest of my three, about whom I write. He is shy, abnormally so, it seems to me, and when he is urged to do something before strangers often reacts in a most dreadful, demoniacal manner. He is self-centered, too, and because of that he is not as considerate of others as I want him to be.

"I have a feeling that all these undesirable traits spring from the same root, and that with the right guidance he might change. He is nice to the baby, but between him and Jane, the 3 year old, there is quite a bit of rivalry and not much sweetness."

Here is one more case where a word or two from the experienced mother is a tremendous help. And also an example of how disadvantageous it is not to know what changes to expect in our children as they grow older.

That fifth birthday is a sort of turning point, perhaps not at five exactly, but in the general neighborhood of 5. At that time small boys, more than small girls, appall their mothers with the most obstreperous kind of behavior. Aghast, their parents see them show off in the most embarrassing manner. "Strong language" may fall from their innocent [really innocent] rosy lips.

They have become so well able to take care of themselves physically that they get decidedly cocky, and seem selfish, but they are just temporarily absorbed in self [quite a different matter at this age, and one through which many parents have to live].

When children are going through this period of shyness and self-consciousness, it is best not to ask them to perform before guests or relatives, but let them alone, in a friendly way.

Especially where the 5 year old has younger sisters or brothers, it is wise to embark upon a constructive or positive campaign of management. Friendliness, and praise are needed to offset the correcting and restricting that he may need. A bonny, small sister, for instance, may become a thorn in his side if she is admired and "cooed over," as one little boy describes it.

Two of our fully written leaflets are excellent guides: "Wholesome Neglect Is Often Cure for Undesirable Behavior," and "The Five Year Old Turns a Corner." Each booklet requires a large, stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request.

Store Away Relishes and Pickles Now

BY MARY MEADE.

Now and then when you have a spare half-day and want to make the hours add up to something, it might be wise to use them to add a few more jars of relishes or pickles to store away for fall and winter. Whether it was the squirrel who got his winter storage notion from the housewife, or the housewife who got it from the squirrel, the idea is a good one.

Piccalilli is a good old fashioned relish, although its name is a hard one to spell. Here's a recipe for it.

PICCALILLI.

1 peck green tomatoes
1 head cabbage
8 large onions
3 red or green peppers
1 cup salt
2 quarts vinegar
2 cups brown sugar
½ pound mustard seed
2 tablespoons cinnamon
2 tablespoons ground black pepper
1 tablespoon cloves
1 tablespoon allspice
2 tablespoons ginger
¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper

Chop and mix the tomatoes, cabbage, onions, and peppers. Add the salt and let stand overnight. Drain and add other ingredients except cloves, allspice, and ginger. Place these spices in a bag and drop it into the mixture. Boil all together for 30 minutes, stirring frequently. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal at once.

Corn chowder may be made without much trouble and without a process of overnight seasoning.

CORN CHOWDER.

12 ears corn
12 onions
3 green peppers
3 red peppers
1 quart chopped cabbage
1 quart vinegar
2 cups sugar
1 tablespoon ground mustard
1 tablespoon celery seed
¼ teaspoon turmeric
Salt

Precook the corn for 5 minutes, cool, and cut from the cob. Chop other vegetables finely, mix and cook together with seasonings for 25 minutes. Seal in hot, clean jars.

We want also to give you recipes for celery relish and for tomato catsup, or ketchup, if you'd rather say it that way. These relishes will give you variety without an undue amount of labor.

CELERY RELISH.

3 bunches celery
5 ripe tomatoes
1 sweet red pepper
1 cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon dry mustard
⅛ teaspoon cloves
⅛ teaspoon allspice
⅛ teaspoon cinnamon
⅛ teaspoon celery seed
1 cup white vinegar

Cut off roots and leaves of celery. Peel tomato and pepper, and chop vegetables finely. Put all ingredients into a large kettle, add the vinegar, bring to boiling point and simmer gently for half an hour.

TOMATO CATSUP.

1 peck ripe tomatoes
2 medium sized onions
2 tablespoons salt
1 tablespoon black pepper
1½ teaspoons cayenne pepper
1 tablespoon mustard
1 tablespoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon cloves
1 pint vinegar

Peel and slice tomatoes and onions, boil until soft enough to force through sieve. Add all ingredients but vinegar. Boil 1 hour longer. Add the vinegar and bring to a boil.

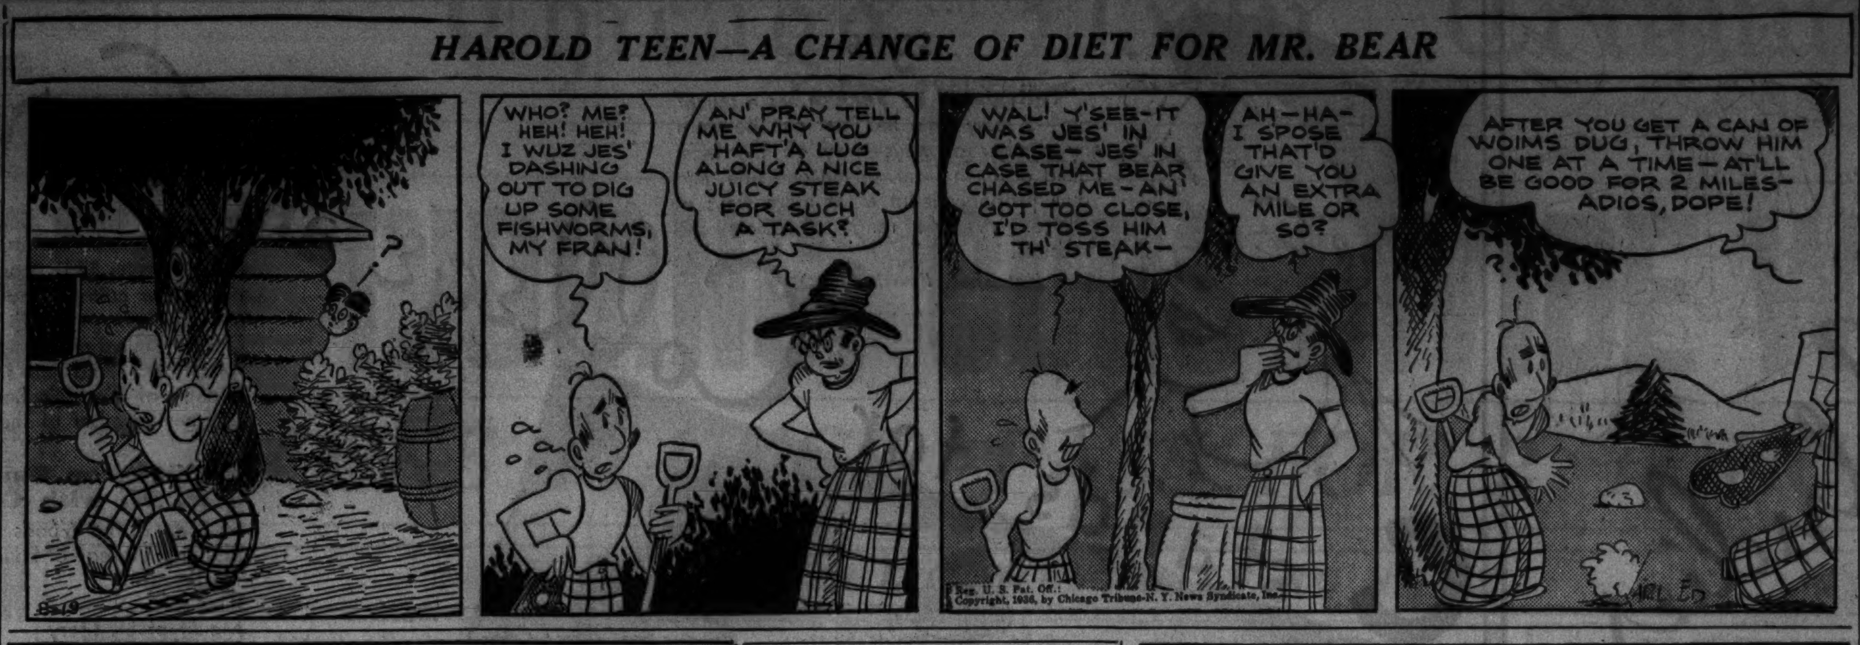
HAROLD TEEN—A CHANGE OF DIET FOR MR. BEAR



Slenderizing House Frock

WOMAN'S HOME DRESS.

The slenderizing frock pictured today attires the plump figure smartly for the hours spent at home. Every homemaker requires tailored dresses which are suitable for wear at the breakfast table, for local shopping, and for supervising the household duties. The pattern selected for today is the perfect answer to all these requirements, as well as an ideal model for the silhouette which is overweight. The belt, reaching all the way around the back, but extending only to the side sections in front, maintains the long, slenderizing panel which reaches from neckline to hemline. The V neckline is smartly tailored and matches the cuffs and the belt.

All of the sturdy cottons are suitable and practical for this model. Autumn is here in fashion already, although the calendar maintains we still are enjoying summer. Fashion scoffs at the calendar, and insists on dark shades for this time of year, so it would be wise to make this charming home frock in any of the attractive dark colors on display on the counters offering cotton fabrics.

Style No. 2503 is designed for sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, and 48 inch bust measurement. Size 36 requires 3¼ yards of 39 inch material, with 1 yard of 35 inch contrasting.

Nelle Thornton Offutt to Be Bride Today.

Chicago is interested in a wedding this evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Thomasson Jr., in Oakland, Md. Their niece, Miss Nelle Thornton Offutt, will become the bride of Frederick Francis Chesley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Chesley of Washington, D. C. The ceremony will be read in the same place and at approximately the same hour as that ceremony more than a generation ago that united in marriage the bride's mother, the former Nannine Thomasson, and the late Mr. Elwood Offutt, and today's bride is to wear her mother's wedding gown.

The lovely old dress is of white tulle, accordion plaited over satin and the lace veil that will fall the length of the gown has been loaned by the bridegroom's mother. The bride will carry sweetheart roses, for-get-me-nots and lilies of the valley. The dining room, where the service will be read at 8 o'clock by the Rev. David Trimble of Washington, will have an improvised altar at one end, and the aile down which the bride will walk to meet her bridegroom is being marked by tall standards bearing three candles each. White delphiniums will be the altar flowers.

The bride's one attendant, Miss Katherine Murphy of Washington, will wear accordion plaited green chiffon and will carry nasturtiums. The bridegroom's brother, Casselman Chesley, will be best man, and Nelson and Gardiner Thomasson, cousins of the bride, will usher. Mr. Chesley and his bride will live in Washington.

Use New Picnic Oven at Exmoor Club Tonight.

However the farmers may feel about overcast skies and the promise of showers long overdue, at least forty boys and girls along the north shore are hoping for clear weather and a reasonably high temperature this evening.

A new Dutch oven will be inaugurated south of the seventh fairway at the Exmoor club with a picnic, at which Janet Ingram and Jane Wilson will be hostesses. The oven is intended especially for the use of children who are too young to enjoy the club's regular Thursday evening buffet dinners, but in the fall the older generation of club members intend to claim it for a fair share of picnics of their own.

Mrs. J. Hamilton Lewis Home from Washington.

After varied delays in Washington Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis has arrived home by motor and has joined Senator Lewis at their apartment at the Ambassador hotel. The illness of her sister, that of a niece, the breaking of both legs by her chauffeur, and finally—the only pleasant one of the four—the coming of another niece from London were the causes of Mrs. Lewis' delay in returning to Chicago. The niece who came from England is Mrs. Hiram Bingham Jr. [Rose Morrison], who, with Mr. Bingham, a secretary of the American embassy in London, and their 9 month old twin babies, Hiram and Tiffany, came to this country to spend Mr. Bingham's vacation here.

The junior Binghams' son, of course, is named for his father and grandfather, Senator Bingham of Connecticut, and their daughter, Tiffany, is named for her great-grandmother, Mrs. Alfred Mitchell of Connecticut and Miami. Mrs. Mitchell, a nonagenarian, travels from her winter to her summer home and vice versa by air each year. She gave her daughter's son and his bride as a wedding gift a magnificent old estate in Connecticut that has been in the family for eight generations. The beautiful house is furnished throughout with family antiques.

It was when Mrs. Lewis took Miss Morrison to England two years ago to be presented at court that she met young Mr. Bingham and after a whirlwind courtship he followed her back to this country and the wedding took place soon after that.

Mrs. George W. Mahoney is entertaining this afternoon for members of the executive board of the Auxiliary of the House of the Good Sheperd. The board will discuss plans for an exhibit of the Crown of the Andes on Aug. 30 at the Fair store which will benefit the House. Mrs. Mahoney is president of the Auxiliary. Tickets for the exhibit may be obtained at 50 cents each from members of the committee or from the store.

Culbertson's "Gold Book of Bidding and Play"

Herewith is presented another portion of Mr. Culbertson's latest work on contract, the "Gold Book of Bidding and Play," which is being reproduced in this column in daily instalments.

CHAPTER 1—INSTALMENT III.

Strategy.

Most of the common rules and conventions of bridge are simply a kind of rifle and bayonet drill which serves as an introduction to the higher art of bidding strategy.

I am very much tempted to define strategy in bridge as the art of defeating the adversaries' superior hands. This is the essence and reason for strategy. Any one can score victories with good partners and obvious powerhouses. It takes a strategist to turn apparent defeat into victory with poor partners or inferior hands. In the historic battle of strategy against dumb luck, strategy must win. The enemy's greater resources and numbers are thus controlled by a player's superior technique, character, and psychology.

Unfortunately, this definition of strategy is too narrow and leaves out, at least explicitly, partnership psychology and strategy of big hands. For instance, it is a great and difficult art to play with one's partners. Only a true strategist multiplied by ten diplomats can manage the motley assortment of humanity facing him. He must adapt himself to their mental and emotional level and inspire them to new heights by browbeating, coaxing, or cajoling them somewhat in the manner of a Russian peasant driving a stubborn donkey; now he prods his rear with a stick and now he dangles a sack of oats in front but just out of the donkey's reach.

The bridge strategist must face two fronts simultaneously, he must coordinate his bidding with his partner's in order to select the best possible bid from the available resources of each deal and at the same time he must face the strenuous opposition of the adversaries, guarding himself and partner against their strategems and trying to outmaneuver them in the struggle for the best bid.

Bidding strategy, therefore, should be properly defined as the art of selecting the best bid and forcing its acceptance on the adversaries.

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
2 spades	Pass	3 spades	Pass
4 clubs	Pass	5 clubs	Pass
7 spades	Pass	Pass	Pass

South, in bidding four clubs, chose the wrong suit to "ask" in. He should have asked with four diamonds, hoping for a five club response which would show the club ace and second round diamond control. His second error was that since the four club bid located only the club ace, he overbid in leaping to seven spades.

But East threw his contract to him by faulty discarding. Declarer ran off six trumps and four hearts [West had opened a trump]. West discarded four diamonds and three clubs. East should have held diamonds because it was obvious that his partner had reduced to one diamond [with the J 10 six times originally, West would have opened the jack]. Also, because there was greater chance that South had made his obvious overbid with the A J of diamonds and one club, than with the diamond ace blank and two small clubs.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question: Is it proper to deal a goulash if all four hands pass?

Answer: Only if all four players agree to it.

Loveliness and Charm Affect Business Luck

Two Factors Important in Hunt for Jobs.

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

Sometimes I wonder if the day isn't near when even the poor old scrubwomen will have to pass a beauty test before they're put on a pay roll. Just that "requirin'" are our employers becoming!

I've just been introduced to the test to which a certain group of vocationalists has been submitted from whom, heretofore, efficiency was all that seemed important. And in looking at the hostesses in one of the important restaurant chains in New York, one is certain that the spirit of Ziegfeld dictated the selection. No end appetizing, of course, are these decorative young women who dot the entrance way and stair landings of these chain restaurants.

Hostessing has become a specialized calling demanding special gifts, with pulchritude obviously one of the leading ones. The air line hostess, for instance, must subscribe almost to the pictorial charms of Helen, coupled with a nurse's training and the tact and diplomacy of a representative at a foreign court.

Inquiring at the restaurant chain mentioned, one is told that the first requirement is an attractive appearance. Exotic beauty and front row chorus effects are not desired, one learns. A good figure [sizes 14 and 16 preferred], a pleasing face, and a warm, friendly attitude expressing itself in the eyes, mouth, and expression are "musts."

If you have adopted an artificial pose, imitating a screen star, say, that's not considered good. It may disturb the natural and spontaneous demeanor which attracts; potential diners are not to be frightened away by a stern and severe mien, either. Too much bubbling vivacity might react unfavorably on a stern business man's digestion. So, dignity must accompany that eager-to-help manner of the dining place hostess. Quick wittedness and presence of mind are required for that moment when a peevish or irate customer stages a scene.

Chinese Coin Is Basic Pattern of Novel Quilt Block

Chinese Coin.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

BY NANCY CABOT.

A Chinese coin traveled many thousands of miles before it was selected to play one of the leading rôles in the American quilt realm. The original coverlet, which was made in 1869 in New York, was pieced from imported "chints" and tan gingham. It is interesting to note how the block has been changed in size by the different persons who use the design. Blocks have ranged from ten inches square to sixteen inches square, depending upon the taste of the individual.

ALL-STAR BACKS PLUNGE, PASS FOR 2 TOUCHDOWNS

JAY BERWANGER OPENS 98 YARD MARCH TO SCORE

Cheshire, Elser Take Over Ball Carrying.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.

Linemen began blocking, and backs, led by Jay Berwanger of Chicago Chuck Cheshire of U. C. L. A. and Don Elser of Notre Dame, started galloping yesterday as the All-Star's sweltered through their third scrimmage in four days.

Welcoming scrimmage as a release from the tedium of fundamental work, the 53 All-Stars strapped on their headgears and went to it with a whoop. Battle lines which had been constant in previous drills were disrupted as Coach Bernie Bierman and his associates began testing various combinations and planning replacements.

Berwanger Runs 17 Yards.

Berwanger started in a back field including Glenn Seidel, Minnesota quarter back; Joe Maniacci, Fordham half back, and Dick Crayne, full back. Behind the first effective interference he has received, Berwanger reeled off runs of 8, 17 and 11 yards. He was away in the open on his 17 yard effort, but stumbled along the sidelines and tumbled out of bounds.

Berwanger began to sicken in the intense heat after making two first downs in a row and had to be relieved by Cheshire. Following closely behind the charging Crayne, who shouldered out of the way whatever the linemen missed, the little coast star made twenty-five yards in four plays, hurling himself headlong into a mass of giant linemen for two eight-yard gains.

After Cheshire came Elser, who plowed over the guards and inside tackle for two gains of five yards, one of seven, and one of 12 yards, scoring a touchdown on his last five yard effort to wind up a ninety-eight yard march started by Berwanger.

Pass Brings Second Score.

The blue team scored a second touchdown late in the scrimmage when Baldy Oravec of Willamette university passed nineteen yards to Wally Cruice of Northwestern.

Tuffy Leemans of George Washington university, who became one of the most talked of players on the squad following his sensational ball carrying in Monday's scrimmage, was checked by the blue line yesterday, but completed two of five passes, one for seven yards to Butch Loebs, Purdue end, and another for fifteen yards to Wally Fromhart, Notre Dame quarter back.

Before he was excused, however, he gave the visiting coaches, attending Northwestern's coaching school, a sample of his running technique by taking a lateral pass from Fromhart, who had caught Berwanger's punt, and sidestepping his way nineteen yards up the field past most of the blue shirted linemen.

The only casualty in the strenuous practice was suffered by Joe Stydahar, tackle from West Virginia, who was treated for a cut on the face at the Evanston hospital following scrimmage.

Boys Want to Scrimmage.

"We are making fair progress," Coach Bierman said after the workout. "All we need to do now is master assignment and polish off our team play. If we can maintain the enthusiasm of the last few days long enough to labor through the routine work, we will be well on the way to accomplishing our objective in another week."

The last of the All-Stars, Amerino Joseph Sarno of Everett, Mass., reported for the first time at the morning session, bringing the squad to its full strength.

He reported in excellent condition and immediately plunged into scrimmage. His arrival gave the squad four right tackles. The starting position belongs to Truman Spain, Southern Methodist all-American and

LOUIS' VICTORY RESTORES SOUTH SIDERS GAIETY

Bronzeville, the territory inhabited by colored folk bounded by 35th and 58th streets and South Park avenue and State street, in mourning since Joe Louis' knockout by Max Schmeling two months ago today, came back to life last night as word was received that the former Chicago Golden Gloves champion had made a success of his first comeback effort by knocking out Jack Sharkey at Yankee stadium in New York last night.

Joe's south side neighbors were jubilant as they awaited newspaper fight extras.

At 47th and State streets a short elderly colored man stepped out from among the throng and spoke the minds of all when he said, "It was the Joe of old. It goes to show he wasn't himself against Schmeling."

At the Savoy arena, 47th street and South Park avenue, an amateur boxing show was interrupted while a loudspeaker attachment boomed out the radio account of the fight for the crowd of 2,000. Straw hats were thrown in the air and a miniature riot started after the knockout was announced.

Meanwhile at the Brown Bomber's residence at 47th and State his wife, the former Marva Trotter; two sisters, Gladys and Novella, and a brother, Booker, celebrated the victory by drinking champagne.

Louis telephoned long distance shortly before midnight. He said he was "very, very happy."

"And so am I," exclaimed Mrs. Louis.

Joe will return home tomorrow,

Keep It Up!

Rip Radcliff's Triple Sets Stage for Victory.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The White Sox had to rear up yesterday, not once but several times. Their last spurt came in the tenth inning when they climaxed a wild afternoon with a run that knocked the Cleveland Indians apart. The deciding run, driven in by Luke Appling after enemy strategy had purposely filled the bases, fastened down victory for the south siders, 11 to 10, a proper finish for a turbulent battle which the Indians once had in their grasp by a five run margin.

Appling was responsible for applying the finishing touch, but it was Rip Radcliff's pleasure to create the needed setting. Rip blew open the tenth with a triple to right. A conference of Indian master minds concluded the only possible way out of the jam was to load the bases. Impetuous Johnny Allen promptly obeyed orders by walking Larry Rosenthal and Mike Kreevich. Then Zeke Bonura fanned in his eagerness to hit a fly ball, but Appling lined a single to center and the party broke up as Radcliff crossed the plate.

Indians Take Wide Lead.

Clint Brown's ineffectiveness was responsible for the Indians getting away to a five run lead in three innings, two on a homer by Bruce Campbell. They scored again in the fourth on Odell Hale's homer off Italo Chelini. But the Sox with three in the third, two in the fourth, and one in the fifth finally tied it. The Indians went ahead again in the sixth and the Sox assumed the lead in the same inning. A homer by Bill Knickerbocker tied it again in the seventh. The Sox led again in the eighth on a triple by Rosenthal, his fourth hit, but the Indians knotted it again in the ninth on Chelini.

The Sox almost won it in the ninth when Tony Piet tripled with one out only to die on third. And the Indians missed a chance to score in the tenth only because of a glaring boner. With two hits off Sugar Cain they had runners on second and third with one out. A great stop and throw by Appling nailed one runner at the plate. Then Hughes walked, but on the fourth ball Knickerbocker, apparently thinking a squeeze play had been flashed, dashed toward the plate. He finally was run down to relieve the strain.

Jolt Brown at Start.

Brown's first inning was so heavily laden with unhappiness that four men singled before anybody was retired. Hughes singled to right and Hale dropped a Texas leaguer in the same sector. Averill beat out a single to Bonura, filling the bases. The fourth successive hit was Trosky's single to center, Hughes and Hale scoring. Sewell helped Brown out of the mess by trapping Averill off second, after which Weatherly and Campbell popped out.

The Indians did a lot of exercising on the bases again in the second, but their scoring was limited to one run. Sullivan opened the inning with a two base drive along the right field line and moved to third on Knickerbocker's bunt. After Hildebrand had been tossed out, Hughes singled to center and Sullivan romped home. Hughes stole second and a moment later stole third on the pitch that gave Hale a pass. Further complications were avoided when Rosenthal captured Averill's fly.

Sox Cut Indians' Lead.

Weatherly's single and Campbell's homer into the right field seats made it 5 to 0 in the third, but the Sox got busy in their half and altered the score to 5 to 3. Piet launched this three run affair by singling to center. Sewell flied to right and Walker, making his first appearance in nearly three months, batted for Brown. He singled to center. Radcliff doubled to left center to score Piet. Rosenthal hammered a single

Sharkey Concludes He Made Tactical Error; One Hard Punch and It Was Easy, Louis Says

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—For seven minutes and two seconds tonight Jack Sharkey took the worst thrashing of his life. Still he went out of the Yankee stadium unconvinced that Joe Louis, his conqueror, is a great fighter.

Sharkey was sullen. As he walked into his dressing room with his hands on his head he did not know that he had been knocked out in the third round.

"What round was it?" he asked Johnny Buckley, his manager.

"I couldn't spot him that many years. When you've been around as long as I have you've got to go some time."

Not Ready to Quit.

Asked if this meant he intends to quit now, Sharkey said it did not. He would not discuss his plans, though Buckley said he would probably drive to Boston tonight.

Sharkey, who has probably been beaten by more top notch heavyweights than any other man in the business, yet has held the title, refused to compare Louis with Max Schmeling or Jack Dempsey, both of whom beat the Boston sailor.

"You wouldn't believe me if I told you," he said. He kept mumbling, "I must have got clipped somewhere."

Decides It Was a Mistake.

All he would say about Louis was: "I saw him against Baer and I didn't think he was a great fighter. I saw him again when he fought Schmeling and I didn't change my original opinion, but I have to admit that he hit me hard. I made a mistake somewhere."

Experts were of the opinion that his biggest mistake was in failing to carry the fight to his opponent at the first bell. Sharkey came out at first cautiously, almost nonchalantly. Neither in his dressing room before the fight or at any time during the fight was there the slightest hint of fear about him. But by failing to punch quickly he gave Joe time to land, and once Louis' confidence returned he was unbeatable.

Round by Round Account of Joe's Comeback Bout

New York, Aug. 18.—A blow by blow account of Joe Louis' victory over Jack Sharkey at Yankee stadium tonight follows:

FIRST ROUND.

Sharkey stabbed lightly with his left. Louis hammered in a left and right to Sharkey's stomach. Louis hit Sharkey three times to face without return. Joe pinned Sharkey in a neutral corner with a flurry of lefts and rights to the head. Louis came in close and hooked both hands to the side of the face. Sharkey was again caught in a corner and received punishing blows. Louis scored with a solid left. Louis sank a left to the body as the round ended.

SECOND ROUND.

Louis held his punches and then hit Sharkey twice to head with hard left hooks. They traded long lefts to the body. Louis snapped his left to Sharkey's face then turned out of a half clinch. Sharkey landed a left to stomach. Louis hammered Sharkey with lefts to jaw and Sharkey went down for nine. Louis hammered Sharkey with three lefts and three rights and Sharkey went down for another nine. Sharkey clinched and held on till Donovan separated them. Louis flicked his left to Sharkey's head and again Sharkey clinched.

THIRD ROUND.

Sharkey landed a sharp hook to head. Louis stunned Sharkey with a left hook. Sharkey went down for nine. Sharkey went down again from a left hook and was counted out. The time was 1 minute and 2 seconds.

New York, Aug. 18.—With a broad grin of victory, Joe Louis proudly faced reporters after tonight's battle and voiced a vehement plea for another crack at Max Schmeling. He sat in the same dressing room where the gloomy aura of defeat enshrouded him after his last Schmeling engagement, but except for the walls it was a different place. It was overrun this time with friends returned to the Louis fold.

Joe looked his questioners in the eye this time; that other night he turned his back to them. "Sharkey? He never hurt me at all. Never even touched me 'less you count a couple feeble little jabs. A game fellow, though, but he ain't got nothing to worry me."

Hopes to Meet Schmeling.

It was said without boast, in the same monotone with which he demanded the final score of the Tigers' game before the fight.

"All I say is I wish I had that Schmeling in the ring tonight," continued the reborn Bomber. "I'd give him the same as Sharkey got. I hope Julian and John [Black and Roxborough, his managers] can get me another match with Max. Why, I only had to hit Sharkey real hard once. I mean that right hand that floored him in the second round. After that I knew I could finish him any time."

Goes Home Today.

Louis will hurry to Detroit to see his wife and mother tomorrow morning. In the meantime his handlers will attempt to fulfill his desire for a chance to avenge the beating Schmeling gave him in June. Max and Joe met briefly before the battle when Max ran over to wish the colored boy well.

LOUIS' FAMILY HAPPY.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The enthusiasm which Detroit's Harlem has pent up since Joe Louis' defeat by Max Schmeling erupted in a noisy celebration of his third round knockout of Jack Sharkey tonight.

A crowd milled about the home where Joe's mother, Mrs. Lillie Brooks, and relatives and friends had listened to the fight. She "wasn't half as excited as I was when Joe beat Carnera," Mrs. Brooks said, adding: "Of course, I knew Joe would win; he told me so himself."

Mrs. Brooks' sister, Joe's sister and two brothers, and his 19 year old cousin from Buffalo, N. Y., Ruby Fears, grouped about the radio. Ruby, peering through the curtains at the throngs outside, said, "I never saw such a celebration in all my life. These people just know Joe is going to be the champion. I think so myself."

Jocky Stout Rides First Triple of Saratoga Meet

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Jocky Jimmy Stout brought in the first triple of the Saratoga meeting this afternoon with Sir Damion, Count Arthur, and Our Reigh. The two last named are owned by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Hertz of Chicago and both are sons of Reigh Count, champion of 1928. Both Mr. and Mrs. Hertz saw the races. Count Arthur won the featured Champlain handicap by a nose.

HARMAN UPSETS M'DIARMID IN NEWPORT TENNIS

Newport, R. I., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Bob Harman of Berkeley, Cal., registered an upset victory over the sixth seeded John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., today to lead the Newport Casino tennis field into the quarter-finals. The scores were 5-7, 8-6, 8-6, 6-3.

Don Budge's withdrawal and McDiarmid's setback reduced the seeded list to five, with Bryan Grant, Atlanta, topping the list. Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., was eliminated yesterday by Bob Underwood of Los Angeles, who was the third round victim of his townsman, Wayne Sabin,

FRENCH VICTOR, 5-4, IN OPENER; LEE LOSES, 3-1

Suhr Ruins Champs in Second Game.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 18.—The proud but fading Cubs this afternoon won the first game of their double-header with the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5 to 4, mainly because of Larry French's pitching in the pinches and Ethan Allen's hitting. Then they lost the second game, 3 to 1, although Bill Lee tried valiantly to carry the team on his back by holding the Pirates to a 1 to 0 shutout for six innings on a run he scored himself.

Gus Suhr, long a Cub annoyance, was a villain in both games today. In the first inning of the first game he drove in two runs with a double to make the work of the dazed Cubs more difficult. In the second game he knocked a homer in the seventh to tie the score, and with two out, two on, and two strikes against him, he doubled in the eighth to win the ball game for Waite Hoyt, recently back to his employment after an appendicitis spell.

Herman in Wrong Spot.

If the Cubs weren't such a complacent lot they probably would feel a bit upset by the circumstances of the second game loss. The side should have been retired before Suhr ever had a chance to knock the double that busted up the ball game. Bill Herman was playing short right field for Vaughan on the preceding play and found himself outfoxed when Vaughan bounced a soft grounder to the normal second baseman position. It went for a hit and that gave Suhr the chance on which he cashed.

Allen figured in three of the four scoring innings of the first game with a triple, double, and single, and he socked a single in the second game to help Lee make that lone Chicago run, which was driven home by Stan Hack.

The result of today's happenings dropped the Cubs a game and half behind the second place Giants, who won two games from Brooklyn.

FIRST GAME

French started the first game as though bent on setting some records. He fanned Schulte and he whizzed a third strike past Jensen. Then there was a shift. P. Waner singled to left, Vaughan walked and Suhr doubled to the left field corner, scoring P. Waner and Vaughan. Brubaker flied to Demaree.

The Cubs didn't get a man on base in the first two innings, but in the third they made up half their deficit. Jurges singled to left, paused while Cavarretta and French flied out, and scored on Allen's triple to right. Hack popped a foul to Brubaker for the third out.

The champs tied the score in the fourth. After Herman had fouled to Padden, Demaree singled to left and went to third on Hartnett's single to left center. Galan flied to P. Waner, Demaree scoring. Suhr cut off P. Waner's throw and Hartnett was doubled trying to sneak to second.

Allen Doubles, Scores.

The second act in Allen's series of heroics was a double with which he led off the sixth. Ethan reached third while Hack was beating out a bunt and scored on Herman's single to right, Hack reaching third. Herman's shot caused Blanton to be replaced by Swift, who caused the side to be retired on three outfield flies.

Allen functioned for the third time in the fabrication of a run in the seventh. After Jurges had fanned, Cavarretta singled, advanced on French's sacrifice, and scored on Allen's single to right. Hack walked, but Herman whiffed.

The Pirates scored a run in the eighth. Vaughan walked after which Suhr and Brubaker fanned. Young

ALL-STAR GAME SPURS FOOTBALL INTEREST: HALAS

Cleanness of Play Stands Out in Contest.

[This is the eighth and last of a series of articles by George Halas, head coach of the Chicago Bears, who have fought it out with the Detroit Lions and who met the All-Americans in the games of 1934 and 1935, winning by a score of 5 to 0 last year.]

BY GEORGE HALAS.

Whether the Detroit Lions win, lose, or draw in the impending All-American game, they and all other members of the National Football league keenly appreciate the honor of participating in this great sports achievement.

It is an achievement because of the enjoyment and pleasure which football fans everywhere derive from it and because it advances tremendously the sport which I rate the highest of all, football.

Fans in every corner of the country have been given the right to vote and campaign for some favorite player whose ability and hard work in college football earned him the right to be honored by a place on the All-American squad.

There'll Be No Letup.

Many thousands of football lovers will experience, first hand, the excitement of this contest. Millions will get almost equal thrills out of the unsponsored, nation-wide broadcast of the game itself.

Not to be overlooked is the fact that this game gives terrific impetus to the interest of boys of the nation in clean sport. The coming game will be played for keeps, with no letup by either team.

There will be no "I-beg-your-pardon" after a hearty block or smashing tackle by either team. The members of both teams will be out there because they've proved their competitive spirit. But hard though the play will be, it will be clean. The Lions to a man are college trained. They learned the principles of football under the able coaches of their respective universities.

Brings Two Byproducts.

From a practical standpoint, the event has brought two excellent byproducts to both college and league football. Many universities report substantial increases in the advance sales of tickets for their own games, while we have felt definitly the heightening of interest in the National Football league.

So keen are the Bears about again participating in this game that we are going to recapture the National league championship this fall and oppose the All-Americans in the encounter of 1937. To Bear followers that is a promise. To the other clubs it is a threat. Furthermore, the Bears are far from satisfied with our 5 to 0 victory over the All-Americans last year.

In preceding articles I saw fit to rib Arch Ward, sports editor of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, by calling him the "athletic director" of the All-Americans and implying that he heads a vast plot to take the starch out of the National Football league by assembling an unbeatable All-American team and five All-American coaches.

While all of that may be true, still it was Arch Ward who originated and organized this great event, and, with the able assistance of the sports writers on newspapers all over the country, brought the game to the point where it occupies the national spotlight.

To Arch Ward, therefore, I not only take off my hat, but he can also have the hat.

BABE HERMAN QUITS REDS IN ROW OVER BONUS

Floyd [Babe] Herman, Cincinnati Reds' outfielder, who left the club in a huff yesterday morning over the failure of officials to pay him an allegedly promised bonus of $500 a months, last night apparently was en route to his home in Glendale, Cal. Herman, after quitting the club, announced his intention to carry a protest to Commissioner K. M. Landis in Chicago. Landis late last night had not heard from the player. Friends of Herman believe he is proceeding directly to the coast.

Manager Larry S. MacPhail last night referred the case to Landis and indicated that the outfielder had played his last game for Cincinnati. MacPhail, in New York said, "Herman has been indefinitly suspended. I hope he has left. And if he has, he'll never come back. He just saves us about 100 a day by leaving."

Herman contended that the bonus had been promised him if he "hustled" and complained that it had not been paid him lately. He draws $9,000 a year in salary.

The outfielder's parting shot was, "I never will play again unless that bonus is paid. I do not have to play professional baseball and can get along without the game if necessary. I may retire to my place in California."

ANDRES TO DRIVE NEW MIDGET CAR IN RACES TONIGHT

Emil Andres, who lost a wheel at the 20th lap of the 30 lap feature last Sunday appears the big threat in the main event tonight at Riverview speedway, Addison street near Western avenue. Andres will drive a new car equipped with a half sized Duesenberg motor.

Jimmy Snider, indoor champion, who won the Sunday feature, and 25 other drivers are listed for the eight-event card, which will include three qualifying races at 7 laps each, a 10 lap handicap, a consolation for nonqualifiers at 10 laps, an intercity team contest, and the main event.

SMILIN' JACK—LOOKS BAD FOR ALL CONCERNED

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. Copyright, 1936, by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

Glen Presnell's Foot Has All It's Old Skill

Bloomfield Hills, Mich., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The place kicking combination of Glenn Presnell and Ace Gutowsky stood out during the Detroit Lions' training period today. From 25 yards to 40 yards, Presnell, with Gutowsky holding the ball, missed only one shot through the uprights in twenty attempts.

Place kicking and drop kicking are being stressed in all the Lions' workouts, creating the impression that Coach George [Potsy] Clark realizes a Presnell place kick or a Dutch Clark drop kick may mean the margin of victory when the Lions play the College All-Stars Sept. 1 at Soldiers' field, Chicago.

Presnell One of League's Best.

Along with Jack Manders of the Chicago Bears, Presnell enjoys the reputation of being one of the National Football league's best place kickers. The former All-American half back from the University of Nebraska holds the record for the longest placement kick ever made—54 yards in professional football. Presnell earned this honor on Oct. 13, 1934, at Green Bay, Wis., when his long boot defeated the Packers, 3 to 0.

The Lions participated in 12 official league games last season and in six of the games Presnell's toe accounted for scores from placement.

Especially adept, too, is Presnell in converting points after touchdowns for the Lions. The stocky back has not missed a goal after touchdown in 18 games.

Oldest in Lions' Service.

Presnell was graduated at Nebraska in 1928, which makes him the oldest post-graduate player in point of service on the Lions roster. He joined the Ironton Tanks in 1929 and went with the Portsmouth Spartans in 1930. He came to Detroit in 1934 when George A. Richards purchased the Portsmouth franchise.

All-Star Backs Plunge, Pass to Touchdowns

Rose Bowl star. Sarno's opponents in the three-cornered fight for the assignment as Spain's No. 1 relief job are Dick Pfefferle of Notre Dame and Joe Stydahar, West Virginia giant.

Jay Berwanger, Chicago's all-American halfback, continues to be the chief attraction for the many coaches and professional scouts who line the sideline at every practice. The public is not permitted to witness the workouts, but locked gates are no barrier to Berwanger's popularity. Autograph seekers stop him at every turn. Even a few attempted to follow him into the showers.

Berwanger Gives His Views.

"All this puts a fellow on a spot," he said yesterday, escaping to the seclusion of his quarters in the Hinman house. "It's worth it though, just to be a member of this squad."

Once in the privacy of his room, where he takes a nap every day between practices, he compared his experiences of the last week with his three years on the Midway, where he led Chicago's football corps against hopeless odds throughout his career.

"The chief difference I find here," he said, "is in man power. At Chicago we had a good football team. Some writers created the impression that I was the only football player on our squad. That was incorrect. We had some excellent players. Unfortunately, we didn't have enough of them. There wasn't a great difference in playing in college and playing out here until the boys get tired or hurt. I get a real thrill seeing a new man come in who is just as good as the fellow who went out. It rekindles one's confidence and urges him on.

Praises Spirit of Squad.

"It has been remarkable to me how 53 men can be brought in from all sections of the country, where they have been accustomed to different systems and different surroundings, men whose characters have been molded by varying environments, and be whipped into such an agreeable, friendly and energetic a squad as the All-Stars. The association alone makes the All-Star game the outstanding event in a player's career."

Chicago Boy Advances in Public Parks Tennis

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Seymour Greenberg, 15 year old Chicago champion, defeated Ed Nowak of Buffalo, 2-6, 6-2, 7-5, 6-1, today to enter the quarter-finals of the National Public Parks tennis tournament.

Alphonse Is His Name, but Just Call Him Tuffy

Tuffy Leemans, George Washington university half back, whose ball carrying exploits have been the high spots of the college All-Star practice sessions, hails from Superior, Wis. While in high school he was a teammate of Henry Longfellow, star end at Northwestern university last year.

Tuffy says he can't recall when he first received the nickname that stuck with him for a long time, but figures that his given monicker, Alphonse Emil, might have been a bit hard for the neighborhood boys to handle.

Ed Krause, former Notre Dame tackle, who was captain of the first college All-Star team in 1934, watched the boys go through their paces yesterday. Ed has added 20 pounds since he hung up his football togs two years ago. He now weighs 245 pounds. Jim Stewart, athletic director of Southern Methodist, and George White, sports editor of the Dallas News, were also sideline observers yesterday.

Bob Reynolds, giant Sanford tackle, probably will kick off for the All-Stars in the game with the Lions. The big fellow has been booting them 60 to 70 yards in practice. He is also deadly accurate in kicking field goals anywhere inside the 40 yard line.

Keith Topping's vari-colored polo shirts have been the despair of the more sartorially minded members of the squad. The handsome Stanford star acquired the latest numbers during a summer spent in New York.

The boys got quite a kick out of their new All-Star sweaters that arrived yesterday. While winning a sweater is not a new experience to the players, acquiring the All-Star sweater is a big event in their lives.

Danny Fortmann, Colgate guard, is the youngest member of the All-Stars, having just reached his 20th birthday. Coach Andy Kerr never had to worry about Danny's eligibility since he clicked along at a Phi Beta Kappa average in his school work.

SLOVAK SOKOL ATHLETES GO TO PITT TOMORROW

A squad of 65 track athletes and gymnasts will leave for Pittsburgh tomorrow to represent Illinois, Wisconsin, and Indiana in the tenth annual national track meet and gymnastic exhibition of the Slovak Catholic sokol, which will be held at Pitt stadium Friday, Saturday, and Sunday.

Another group of 100 will leave Friday to take part in the calisthenic exhibitions scheduled for Sunday.

The athletes will be in charge of S. J. Hletko, Stanley Bachurek, S. Minarcik, and Ann Lunter, sport directors of the Chicago organization.

Louis Knocks Out Sharkey in 3d Round

Louis Evades Punches.

He shot it straight forward with the same speed as when Schmeling discovered Louis' jaw was an easy target. The punches may or may not have carried the same power. No one will know, for neither landed.

Louis ducked under those rights quickly and easily and so accurately that one of them barely raked his back. The other missed completely. So much for the persistent argument concerning Louis' vulnerability. He wasn't hit tonight.

Louis gained confidence as the fight progressed. He must have realized that Sharkey had no weapon to stop him after those right hands missed. And Jack also lacked agility to keep from being cornered by the ropes.

In his dressing room after the bout Louis said "the right hand punch which floored Sharkey the first time was the hardest lick I gave him but Jack didn't take as much punishment as Max Baer."

Louis Shows Old Power.

Louis' vicious second and third round attacks, his short, accurate blows, brought back a picture of the night he stretched the giant Carnera on the floor. Jack Sharkey, at least, now is willing to concede Louis' supremacy.

Frankie Connolly, Boston heavyweight, won a six round decision over Sandy McDonald of Fort Worth. Connolly had a thirty-six pound weight advantage.

Nathan Mann, New Haven, and Eddie Mader of New York City fought a six round draw. Mann weighed 181¼ and Mader 180½.

In the opening four round bout Stanley Hasrato, Yonkers, N. Y. middleweight, and Joe Lynch of Plainfield, N. J., fought four rounds to a draw. Lynch rallied in the last round to pull up on even terms. His right eye was badly cut in the third round.

In another slow, dreary bout, this one six rounds, Eddie Blunt, Corona, L. I., heavyweight, won from Terry Mitchell of Brooklyn. Blunt had a weight advantage of 28 pounds.

Notes of Wrestlers and Boxers

Chairman Joe Triner and Commissioner George Getz of the Illinois Athletic commission yesterday ordered Everett Marshall, recognized as heavyweight wrestling champion in Colorado, to accept a bout with Jim McMillen, veteran Antioch, Ill., journeyman performer, or Dean Detton, Salt Lake City, Utah, within 30 days or face suspension. It is another step in efforts being made to determine an undisputed champion.

Detton and McMillen appear in two encounters which head the show at the Coliseum next Monday. The Salt Lake City wrestler meets Gus Sonnenberg and McMillen clashes with John Katan.

The commission voted to recognize the winner of an engagement between Vincent Lopez and Dave Levin, scheduled at Los Angeles, tonight, as a leading contender, refusing to concur in the California and Missouri commissions' decision giving the victor title recognition.

Ivan Rasputin will meet Hans Schnable in a return bout and Frankie Hart is paired with Pat Kelly in headline matches in the wrestling show tonight at Arcadia gardens, 4444 Broadway. Each meeting is booked for one fall with a 60 minute time limit. Red Vagnonne and Jerry Meeker are matched in a supporting encounter. So are Ray Ryan and Chief Wurham, and Cleve Welch and George Schuman.

Frankie Battaglio, Palmyra, Wis., middleweight challenger, and Harry Schuman may meet in the ten round main fight at Marigold Gardens next Monday. Tony Rocco, Houston, Tex., heavyweight, expects to make his Chicago debut in a preliminary conflict. . . . Davey Day has departed to rough it in the woods near Tomahawk, Wis., for ten days, preparatory to starting gymnasium drills for a ten round contest at Mills stadium, Sept. 9. . . . Benny Ray has filed a five year management contract with Eddie Carroll, 21 year old Ottawa, Ont., welterweight, at the state boxing commission.

OFFICIALS HEAR BRADDOCK'S PLEA TO CANCEL FIGHT

Doctors Disagree; Final Decision Due Friday.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 18.—The ballyhoo for the proposed world's heavyweight championship bout between Champion Jimmy Braddock and Max Schmeling got off to a rousing start today before the New York state athletic commission and seven physicians who debated the question: "Shall Braddock be permitted to cancel the engagement with Schmeling in September at the Madison Square Garden's Long Island bowl because he must have an operation on the knuckle of his little finger?"

Joe Gould, Braddock's manager, insisted that his boy Jimmy, who hasn't fought for 14 months since he surprised Max Baer as badly as Schmeling surprised Joe Louis, would not be able to fight. Indeed, so Gould announced, plans have been made for an operation Thursday and the knuckle joint must be rebuilt. Braddock cannot fight next month.

Doctors Take Sides.

Gould's physicians are sadly mistaken. This was the opinion of four doctors marshaled by the commission. The injury is an old one and there is no need for an operation. In fact, so the commission's physicians said, an operation might permanently deform the hand.

Then the commissioners sent for Dr. Rafael Lewy, chief examiner for the department of labor. Dr. Lewy squinted at Braddock's hand, twisted the knuckle, and sided with the majority. On the basis of the 5 to 2 vote the commissioners ordered a rehearing Friday and if Gould gets Braddock to the hospital Thursday every one will be suspended. Only how can the heavyweight champion be suspended?

Fighters Speak Pieces.

Max Schmeling spoke his piece. Max didn't want to fight a cripple. He wished to win the championship from a 100 per cent hale and hearty fighter. Whereupon the Irish in Braddock surged and James let the world know he would fight Herr Schmeling any time, any place, say next Tuesday. Braddock would skip the operation date.

Those who insist on angles, and perhaps rightly, point out that Gould asked an extra 5 per cent in addition to the usual 37½ per cent for the champion to defend his title in the Long Island arena. The place is a jinx, according to Gould. The garden may have skipped this 5 per cent. Some say the garden did. Then, too, the contract which Mike Jacobs holds with Schmeling expires Jan. 1 and this contract was the lever Jacobs used to pry loose one-half of the garden's anticipated profits.

On the basis that this altercation might be honest, Mike Jacobs was wooing the Schmeling faction this morning with the apparent purpose of signing Max to meet Louis or Sharkey.

BAER IS WILLING.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Manager Ancil Hoffman, who brought Max Baer here today for an exhibition bout tomorrow night, said if Champion Jimmy Braddock was unable to meet Max Schmeling in September, Maxie would be ready to step in. He said he had an offer to put his fighter into the ring if either Braddock or the German heavyweight was unable to fight.

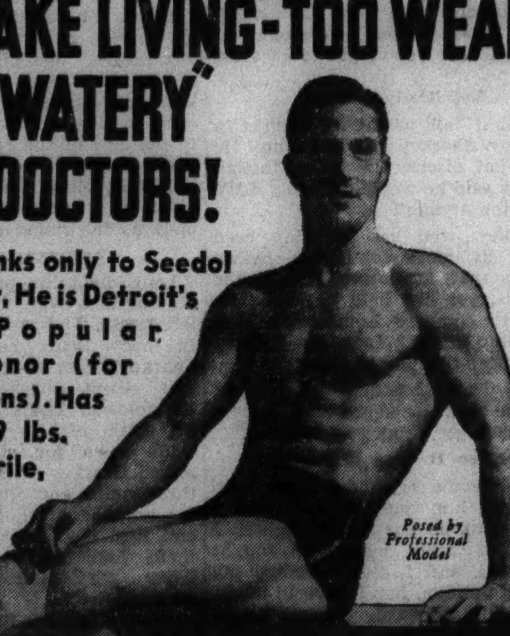
TRIED TO SELL HIS BLOOD TO MAKE "LIVING"-TOO WEAK PALE, WATERY" SAID DOCTORS!

Now, Thanks only to Seedol Kelpamalt, He is Detroit's Most Popular Blood Donor (for transfusions). Has Gained 49 lbs. and is a Virile, Rugged, Strong Man!



Read this letter! How Coast-of-Maine boy used Kelp as a child—says every word of Kelpamalt advertising rang true!

The Kelpamalt Co.
"Dear Sirs:

I am a sales engineer and my work entails considerable strenuous work both mentally and physically. My salary is not very large and my wife, my baby and myself had a hard time trying to make both ends meet. A little over a year ago I had the opportunity of becoming a professional blood donor at a large hospital here. The extra money looked mighty good to me. I was doomed to disappointment however, as when my blood was tested they told me my condition was too rundown—the hemoglobin content was not up to standard.

Two months later I noticed an advertisement in a local newspaper describing a product known as Kelpamalt. Having been born and raised on the coast of Maine where sea foods are almost a daily dish and where youngsters eat Kelp almost like candy, every word in that advertisement rang true. Just one year ago today I bought my first can of 200 Kelpamalt tablets. I weighed 122 pounds, and the lack of much needed minerals in my body certainly showed up in my scrawny sallow complexion. I now weigh 171 pounds, am in vigorous health and as virile a specimen of manhood as anyone could ask for. My disposition has improved one thousand percent, my cheeks carry a glow and my eyes a sparkle I once a year ago never thought possible. It's good to be alive again and to enjoy life. My sales have increased tremendously and my salary in proportion. I know that this has all happened since I first started taking Kelpamalt tablets a year ago, as I have received several compliments from my customers on my healthy appearance.

I can also prove that it is due to Kelpamalt in another way. Three months after I had started using Kelpamalt, I went back to the hospital and my blood passed every test one hundred per cent. I have used 12 cans of Kelpamalt, one each month, have had nine calls from the hospital as a professional blood donor, and am still going strong. Just last month, the doctor who matched my blood with his patients complimented me on having such a wonderful system to be able to get these regular calls and still keep the hemoglobin content of my blood way past standard. He told me that I was very popular with all the doctors because of this fact, as they always knew my blood would test up O. K.

Kelpamalt has certainly worked wonders with me from a standpoint of health, which in turn has enabled me to be a better husband and father. My increased sales certainly show my increased popularity. I'm glad once more that I'm alive, and best of all—I know my blood is what it should be, in every normal man, and I am really doing some good in this life once more. I can swear these above facts are true, and I sincerely hope I will always be able to use Kelpamalt as I have these past 12 months.

Sincerely yours,"
Harold Bush.

This is us at Mrs. Conover's stall at the fair

Every year when they're giving the fair, the first place we always make for is that stall that's got Mrs. Conover's home-cooked things all stacked up around it. That's me nibbling a piece of taffy and William sort of fingering the gooseberry jam, and Tom fiddling in his pocket for some change with his eye on that cake piled up with white frosting. Our dog Jessie there almost looks like she's hoping Tom's got the price of the cake, don't she?

There can't anything come up to a real Family Recipe!

Speaking of good eating and drinking—it just seems like a real Family Recipe has got a tastiness to it like nothing else. It's just one of those things. Take the Wilken Family Whiskey Recipe . . . folks say for mildness and real out and out tastiness they never yet tasted the beat of it or anything like it.

I shouldn't wonder if maybe it's all the care our Family puts into the making of it—being proud you might say—on account of it's being a personal Family Recipe. You know the Wilken Family has been distilling since I don't know when. I know Dad was at it over 40 years, and Grandad ahead of him. And William and Tom and me had a hand in turning out over a million cases of the Wilken Family Whiskey all told. And maybe we're not glad you like it the way you do!

GIANTS DEFEAT DODGERS TWICE; 5 TO 3 AND 11 TO 5

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Giants stretched their winning streak to eight games today and became a bigger threat than ever in the National league race by trouncing the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5 to 3 and 11 to 5.

Mel Ott's 26th homer enabled the Giants to cash in on Freddy Fitzsimmons' ten hit pitching in the opener, despite a fine hurling performance for the Dodgers by Van Mungo.

In the second game, Gus Mancuso and Dick Bartell supplied Giant homers, and the New Yorkers put the game on ice with clusters of four runs in the second and sixth innings. Al Smith, who took over the mound duties when Gabby Gabler was driven out in the second inning, held the Dodgers to six hits the rest of the way to take credit for the victory.

The double-header attracted the largest week day crowd of the season in the polo grounds—48,672. Scores:

CARDS BEAT REDS.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Si Johnson, a former Cincinnati Red, held his old team mates to nine hits tonight as the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals won from the Reds, 4 to 1, in the last floodlight contest of the major league season.

Johnson was booed justly as he took the mound, but a crowd of 23,742 paid customers was there to cheer when, in the third, he doubled to drive in Garibaldi with the Cards' first tally. The visitors scored three more in the fifth.

Terry Moore, Cards' center fielder, was forced to retire after colliding with Thevenow, covering second in the seventh inning, while Umpire George Magerkurth was a victim of a foul tip from Cuyler's bat in the fourth. Magerkurth officiated during the last four innings with one hand bandaged.

PHILS, 7; BEES, 0.

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Phillies ended their fourteen game losing streak, the longest of the major league season, today as Claude Passeau shut out the Bees with three hits for a 7 to 0 victory. The Phillies twirler added insult to injury by blasting out a home run with one on in the ninth, after his single in the sixth started a four run rally: Score:

Hadley, Yanks Defeated by Senators, 9-2

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The longest pitching winning streak of the season was snapped at eleven games today as the Senators landed on Bump Hadley for seven runs in the first inning to clinch a 9 to 2 victory over the league leading New York Yankees.

The defeat was the Yanks' second straight to the Senators and their third in their last three starts, but since the second place Cleveland Indians also lost today, New York remained 11½ games in front. For Hadley, the league's leading pitcher, the defeat was the first since the Athletics beat him on April 20. Score:

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers split a double-header with the Browns today, winning the second game with a 20 hit barrage, 15 to 3, after St. Louis had taken the first, 10 to 7, by scoring six runs in the eighth. Elon Hogsett, St. Louis pitcher, started both games and was knocked out of the mound in the first inning of each. In each instance he was replaced by Liebhardt, who in turn was knocked out.

DEMAREE OUSTED FROM BIG SIX BY PAUL WANER

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates picked up ground in the National league hitting race, ousting Frank Demaree of the Cubs from third place. Henshaw Will Take Mound for Cubs Today

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 18.—Roy Henshaw, who defeated the Pirates seven times last year, tomorrow will be given a chance to register his first victory of 1936 over the Pirates in the third game of the Chicago-Pittsburgh series. Manager Traynor of the Pirates is undecided about his pitching assignment.

The great Henshaw necktie mystery continued as much of a mystery as ever, investigators being handicapped by the fact that no one thought to take fingerprints immediately after Roy was victimized by a vandal. Andy Lotshaw, whose neckties were snipped in twain with a technique almost identical with that used by the Henshaw vandal, was interviewed today and said that it couldn't be the same vandal because his vandal also cut a new $75 overcoat into ribbons. Dr. Lotshaw, after reading a book, said he believed the vandal had a phobia against men with the combination of letters, S-H-A-W in their names and suggested that George Earnshaw and Bob Shawkey be warned forthwith.

Curt Davis, who was to have pitched the second game today, was sent to Chicago this morning. He is suffering from a stomach disorder and was instructed to go to a hospital for observation and treatment.

Wonderfully cool weather here yesterday and today seemed to stimulate the Cubs. While they had their failures here and there, the drowsiness so apparent at Cincinnati was not in evidence.

St. Louis Colored Nine Opposes Mills Sunday

The St. Louis Stars, a colored team, will invade Mills stadium Sunday for a double-header against Bill Harley's Mills nine. Jim Vaughn, who had won thirteen consecutive games prior to Sunday's defeat by the Racine club, will be on the mound in one of the games attempting to start another victory string. Phil Collins, author of a 4 hit 5 to 0 shutout against the Racine nine last Sunday, will hurl the other game for the Mills team.

Cubs Divide with Pirates; Lose Ground

scratched a hit off Herman's glove and Padden singled to center, scoring Vaughan. Young was out trying to reach third, Galan to Hack.

With two out in the ninth Jensen tripled to center and scored on P. Waner's fourth hit, a single to center. Vaughan then forced P. Waner, Jurges unassisted, to end the game.

SECOND GAME

The first threat of the second contest developed in the Pirates' portion of the second inning. After Vaughan had fanned, Suhr doubled along the left foul line. Then Brubaker fanned and Young grounded out to Jurges.

The Cubs got busy after two were out in the third. Jurges and Cavarretta supplied infield outs, but Lee got things moving with a single to left. Allen and Hack singled to right, Lee scoring. The surge ended on Herman's bouncer to Young.

Padden opened the home third with a single to left, but Hoyt fouled to Cavarretta and L. Waner hit into a double play started by Jurges. The next hit also was the work of the Pirates. With two out in the fourth Vaughan beat out a grounder to Cavarretta. Then Suhr flied to Galan.

Lee Fans the Side.

After Jurges, Cavarretta, and Lee had been retired in order in the fifth, Lee struck out Brubaker, Young, and Padden in the Pirate half.

Hoyt opened the sixth with a single to center. O'Dea drew an error for dropping L. Waner's foul. Then Lloyd lined a single to left, Hoyt stopping at second. Jurges played on top of second base for Jensen, who obliged by shooting a hot grounder to Jurges, who relayed the ball to Cavarretta for a double play. Hoyt reached third on the play. P. Waner was out, Cavarretta to Lee.

After Demaree had fanned to start the seventh O'Dea singled to center for the Cubs' fifth hit. Galan forced O'Dea with a tap to Young and was out trying to steal second.

Hartnett went in to catch at the start of the home seventh. Demaree went to the right field wall for Vaughan's drive, then Suhr drove the ball over the right field screen to tie the score, his third home run of the season against the Cubs. Brubaker singled to center and after Young had flied to Galan stopped at second on Padden's single to right. Hoyt fanned.

Umpire Can't See.

Cavarretta singled to center with one out in the eighth. Lee bunted and was really safe, but Umpire Reardon, just back to work after ten days heat prostration, apparently didn't see the play and called Bill out. Allen flied to L. Waner.

L. Waner opened the Pittsburgh eighth with a single to center, and Jensen sacrificed, Lee to Herman. P. Waner fouled to Hack. Herman played back in the grass for Vaughan, and was too far back to handle Arky's easy bouncer. It went for a single, putting L. Waner on third. Suhr then doubled to right, scoring L. Waner and Vaughan. Brubaker fanned for the third time.

Dietrich Hurls for Sox Today in Indian Final

Bill Dietrich, at the present time the most consistent of the White Sox pitching staf, will try his hand against the Indians in the final of the series today. The Indians will try to get along on the pitching of Mel Harder.

The Indians yesterday recalled catcher Charley George from the Minneapolis club to take the place of Joe Becker, who broke a finger when he tried to make a barehanded stop of one of Allen's hot tempered pitches during Monday's game. George batted for Galehouse in the ninth and grounded to Appling.

The Sox will enjoy an open date tomorrow and leave late in the evening for Detroit where they play a four game prelude to their last eastern trip of the season.

After Piet had tripled with one out in the ninth and Sewell had tapped to Allen, Haas was sent forth to bat for Chelini. He fanned.

Pitching Duel Is Assured by Colored Stars

At least three innings of the fourth annual All-Star game between colored baseball teams of the east and the west are expected to produce airtight pitching next Sunday afternoon at Comiskey park. Ted Trent, star right hander of the Chicago American Giants, is scheduled to oppose Satchell Paige of the Pittsburgh Crawfords either as starting pitcher or whenever the lanky speed baller from the east goes in for his three inning task.

Following the procedure of the National and American league All-Star games, officials of the annual colored game have decreed that each pitcher be limited to three innings.

In the 1934 game which the east won, 1 to 0, before a record crowd of 28,000, Paige was not called upon until the west threatened to break a scoreless tie. In the sixth inning, after the first batter doubled, Paige stepped in and checked the west with amazing speed and control.

Oscar Charleston, who has been chosen to manage the east's stars, has not revealed when he will use his ace. Many believe he will repeat the 1934 tactics when the east scored its only victory of the three previous encounters. Since Paige never has started an All-Star game, Manager Charleston may heed Paige's plea to be given this honor.

Other pitchers chosen to appear in Sunday's game rank close behind Paige and Trent in effectiveness. Backing up Trent on the western squad are Willie Cornelius of the American Giants, Porter Moss of the Cincinnati Tigers, and Andy Cooper of the Kansas City Monarchs. In addition to Paige the east will have the services of Bill Matlock of the Pittsburgh Crawfords and George Byrd and Bill Griffiths of the Washington Elites.

Greenberg Goes Home Today to Wait for 1937

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Hank Greenberg, whose twice broken wrist has kept him from playing first base for the Tigers since April 25, packed up today and said he was "going back home to New York tomorrow and wait for next season to come around." The lanky star, voted the most valuable player in the American league last year, said he had given up hope of playing any more this season and was retiring at the suggestion of Walter O. Briggs, owner of the Tigers.

White Sox Beat Indians, 11-10, in 10th Inning

Error Provides Opening.

An error gave the Sox a chance to tie it against Hudlin at six apiece in the fifth. Knickerbocker fumbled Kreevich's roller with one out. Bonura promptly tripled off the left center field wall, Kreevich going home. But Appling bounced to Trosky and Hayes lined to Hughes.

The tie didn't last long. Hughes and Hale opened the sixth with singles and Averill sacrificed. Trosky was purposely passed, loading the bases. Weatherly grounded to Bonura, who threw to Sewell to force Hughes at the plate. Then Vosmik singled to center, sending Hale and Trosky home.

The Sox leaped in front, 9 to 8, through the simple process of knocking Hudlin out of action in the home portion of the sixth. Piet doubled and scored on Sewell's single. Chelini also singled, Sewell going to third. Galehouse replaced Hudlin and Sewell scored on Radcliff's force of Chelini. Radcliff went to third on Rosenthal's single and scored the last run of the inning on Kreevich's infield out.

Knickerbocker's homer tied it again in the seventh. With two out in the eighth Rosenthal tripled and Kreevich's single scored him with the run the Sox thought would win for him. But with two out in the Indians' ninth Hal singled for his fifth hit, Averill walked, and a fly off Trosky's bat dropped close to the left field line for a double, Hale counting the tying run. Weatherly flied to Rosenthal.

U. S. ATHLETES LEAVE OLYMPICS SITE FOR HOME

Berlin, Aug. 18.—(AP)—America's athletes broke camp in the Olympic village today and started for Hamburg from where they sail for New York tomorrow in the S. S. President Roosevelt.

German Olympic officials gathered at the village to see the team off and followed the American contingent to the railway station. The officials voiced appreciation of America's participation in the games and hoped for a "happy reunion" at Tokio in 1940. Then a band played The Star Spangled Banner and the athletes pulled down the stars and stripes and left for the station.

Meanwhile the rest of the squad was scattered over Europe, some in the Scandinavian countries, others in England and various parts of Germany. The team will sail in two groups, one on the President Roosevelt tomorrow and the other on the Manhattan Aug. 26.

Only two athletes were on the sick list, said Dr. Craeme Hammon of New York, a member of the Olympic staf. These were Harold Smallwood, who underwent an appendectomy Aug. 7 and was in fine shape today, and Dorothea Dickinson of New York who is suffering from a minor intestinal disturbance.

BASEBALL (1876 STYLE) GOES ON VIEW SATURDAY

Old Time Game to Precede Cubs' Battle.

The "Chicagos" of 1876 and the "Cincinnatis" of the same period will play a few innings of baseball of that period Saturday at the Cubs' park. Capt. Anson and the other boys of the days when the National league was making its maiden effort will not be present, but their parts will be played by youths, properly bewhiskered and uniformed.

The few innings, played under the rules in effect when baseball first saw the light of day, will be staged prior to the regular Cubs-Reds game, as a league celebration. Similar events have already been staged in several cities, the Cubs themselves having been witnesses of the one held at Boston. The feature of that event for the Cubs was a gentleman on an old high wheel bike, who as he pedaled past the dugout yelled, "How do you get off this thing." The Cubs couldn't answer. The gentleman afterward fell off and his problem was solved.

The 1876 Chicagos and their opponents in old-time uniforms of thickly-padded pants, high collared blouses and flapping neckties will portray baseball as played at the start of the National league's first pennant race. Fans in 1876 attire will enter the ball-field in barouches, buggies and victorias, the horse drawn equipage of the nation's centennial year.

The umpire, high-hatted and carrying a cane, will give his verdicts from his judicial chair half-way between the grand stand and home plate. The umpire of that period didn't race about the diamond getting close-ups as do the arbiters of today, because in 1876 the umpire was not a league official but "a gentleman of high repute in the community," selected by the two opposing managers on the morning of the game.

White Only 1876 Survivor.

James L. [Deacon] White, who was Spalding's catcher when Chicago won the National league's first pennant, and who today is 90 years old and the only survivor of Chicago's 1876 champions, will be unable to be present Saturday. Mr. White's health will not permit him to leave his home in Aurora. But old-time major league heroes will be guests of Philip K. Wrigley, Chicago Cubs' president, at luncheon before the game at the Congress hotel and in box seats during the afternoon's play.

When the barouches and landaus have paraded around Wrigley field at the start of the 1876 ball game, these old-time stars — Mordecai Brown, Jimmie Archer, and other former Cubs will be introduced to today's fans at home plate. The parade at Wrigley field is scheduled for 1:15 o'clock.

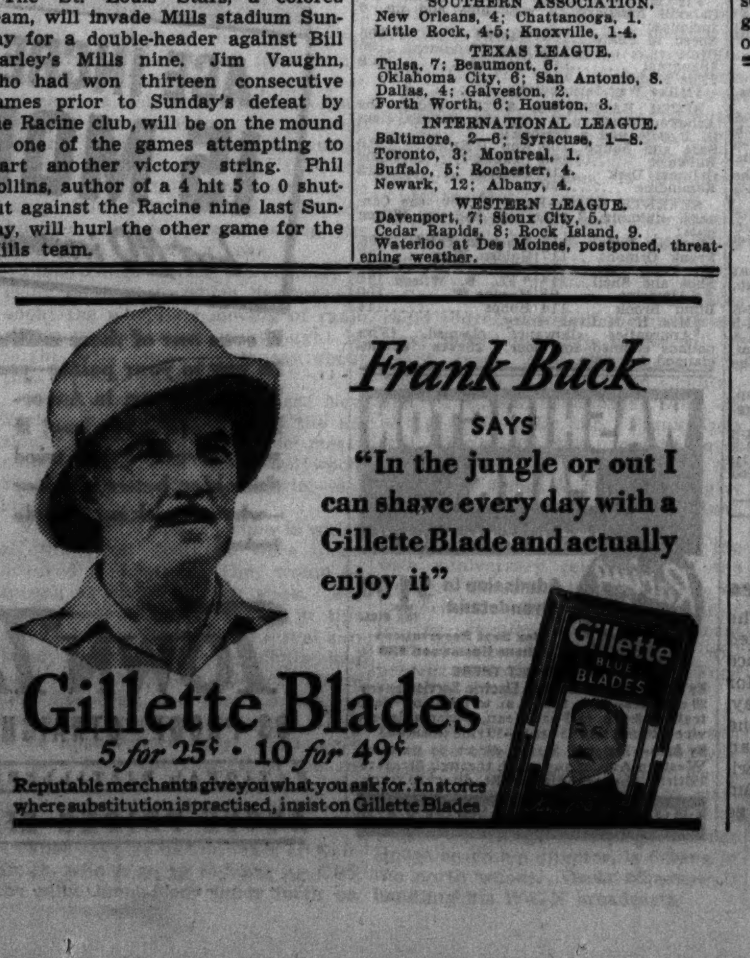
Mound 15 Feet Closer to Plate.

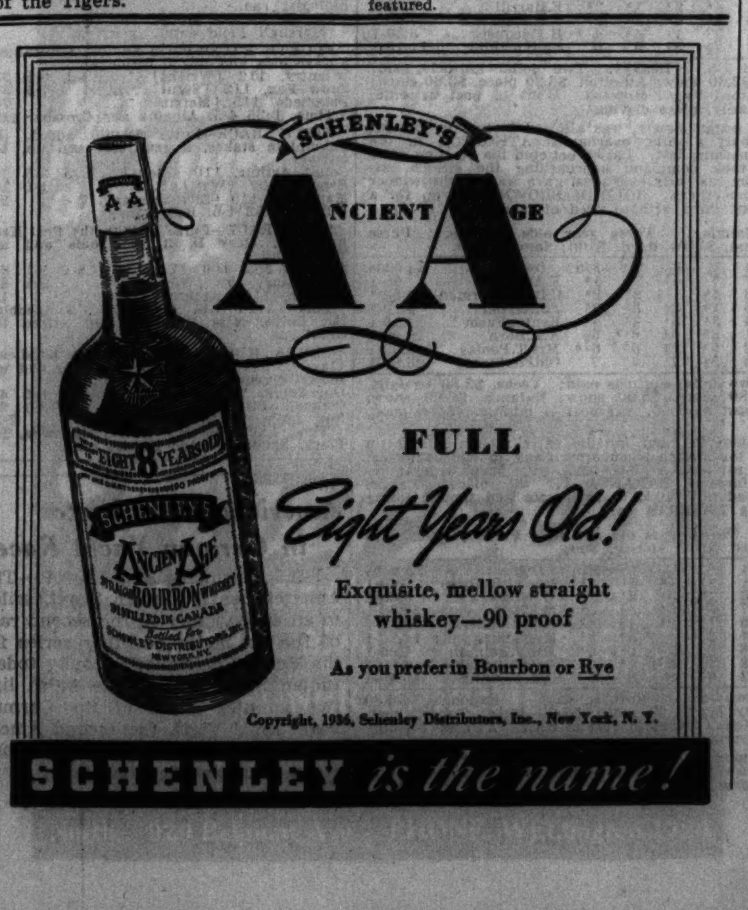
The pitcher, inside a square box 15 feet nearer home plate than today's pitching rubber, must deliver the ball to the batter with an underhand delivery. The batter calls for a high or low pitch and the pitcher has to give it to him.

The catcher, unmasked and ungloved, plays back near the grand stand but frequently charges up to guard the plate or shoot down a base runner bent on stealing.

Executive Club to Hold Monthly Golf Outing Today

Members of the Executives club of Chicago will hold their fourth monthly golf at the Nordic Country club today. In addition to playing for prizes the golfers will have an opportunity to qualify for the annual tournament in September.





TRIAL RACE FOR SHERIDAN STAKE IS CALLED OFF

Horses Withdrawn After Rain Drenches Track.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Western 3 year olds which will try for the $7,500 Sheridan handicap at Washington Park on Saturday may not be able to get in a conditioning race before the parade to the post starts.

One such event which was to engage all of the leaders was on yesterday's original Washington Park program. When rain saturated the running strip the trainers did not care to race their charges, so the event was called off and a race for selling platers substituted.

Developments at Washington Park yesterday indicated the western 3 year olds will just about furnish the whole show in the revival of the famous old Sheridan, which is at a mile and an eighth.

Horses Need Racing.

Most of the horses need a race, their trainers admit, but with another heavy track due to prevail today there isn't any likelihood that such a contest can be arranged. So through the mud and fast going which may come later in the week the westerners will drill long and faithfully during the next few days.

There wasn't any sign yesterday of an eastern invader traveling west for the Sheridan. Granville is definitly out of it. The 132 pounds assigned him made that certain. Warren Wright was expected to send either Sun Teddy or Count Morse on from Saratoga, but up until late last night his trainer, Bert Williams, had made no shipping plans. Nor were there any plans made for Memory Book or White Cockade to ship west.

Col. Edward R. Bradley's Bow and Arrow, which will terminate a racing vacation by running in the Sheridan, has trained well, but Trainer William Hurley would have liked to have put a race under his belt before the important engagement. He would have started yesterday if track conditions had not changed. When the race was called off he went an easy mile through the sloppy going in 1:48.

Work Out on Slow Track.

Other candidates which worked over the slow track included Morris Vehon's Threadneedle and the Chicago stable's Gyral. Both were under strong restraint. Threadneedle went three-quarters in 1:18 and Gyral worked an easy five furlongs in 1:08. He was doing little more than galloping all the way.

There probably will be twelve in the parade to the post for the Sheridan. The field shapes up as follows:

	OWNER.
Understand	William O'Toole
Bow and Arrow	E. R. Bradley
Baby Talk	E. R. Bradley
Gyral	Charles Bidwill
Sir Jim James	E. W. Duffy
Bill Bo	Hyman Friedberg
Lady Montrose	F. P. Letellier
Valiant Fox	Jacob Lowenstein
Indidor	Norman W. Church
Capt. Cal	D. L. Ogle
[illegible]	Tranquillity Farm
Songmaker	Tranquillity Farm
Threadneedle	Morris Vehon

Bolo Gets Backing.

While it appeared certain that Col. Bradley's Bow and Arrow or Mr. Vehon's Threadneedle would rule as the favorite, Bolo, the Kentucky horse which has scored three straight victories at Washington Park, also came in for much consideration. He appears to be favorably weighted with 112 pounds and has trained in excellent fashion for the race. He has never been asked to go a mile and a furlong.

The western trainers are delighted because Granville, Sun Teddy, Memory Book, and White Cockade are to be kept in New York. It is the first time this year the westerners have had a chance to run for a rich 3 year old stake that will be a battle strictly within their own ranks.

Going down the back stretch he was fourteen lengths out of first place and didn't seem to have a chance of ever catching up. But rounding the lower bend he started to run and raced up into second place. He took the lead half way down the stretch and won going away by four lengths. The great rally made a big hit with the spectators. Fra Diavolo was the favorite at even money. Atholton finished second and Holdum Brown was third.

Players of favorites who have been taking punishment at Washington Park got back into full stride yesterday. Fra Diavolo, of course, was their champion but other heavily backed choices to win included Shatterproof in the first race, Ike Weil's Tomye in the second, and Genial Manners in the fourth.

China Boy, which scored at a mutuel payff of $173 on Saturday, came back and won his second race in a row when he won the fifth race yesterday. This time he paid $10.40.

When A. E. Solver took Fond Memories and G. H. Marmon claimed Nemont yesterday the total number of claims at the Washington Park meeting was raised to twenty-one.

Three Softball Titles to Be Decided Tonight

Featured by a battle between the Horans and the Adducis for the men's free lance championship, three more titles will be decided tonight in the Chicago softball tournament at Mills stadium. In the other games the Montgomery Vee-Eights will meet the Eddie McCabe Boosters for the girls' fast pitching title, while the Seymour Weiss Boosters and the No Names will clash for the championship in the boys' division in the first game at 7:30 p. m.

NORTHBROOK DOG SHOW WILL HAVE ITS LOCAL CLASS

Offers Opportunity to Amateur Handlers.

BY BOB BECKER.

The Northbrook dog show, which will be held at the Curtiss-Wright airport Aug. 30, will include a class for local dogs owned within a radius of 50 miles of the village of Northbrook.

This information, confirmed by the premium list announcement, should be of special interest to hundreds of dog owners in the Chicago area who want to show possibly one dog and have the fun of seeing how their pet compares with others of the same breed.

Beginners to Have Chance.

In some respects these local classes are the closest to an amateur handlers class that can be found in an American dog show. Many dog owners who do not have large kennels do not go in for much showing and usually have just one good dog they want to enter in a nearby show. But sometimes these owners are a little timid about running up against experienced handlers who know all the tricks of showing.

Although the local classes for dogs owned within 50 miles of the site of the dog show do not exclude professional handlers, the limitations of the class naturally exclude a large majority of dogs handled by professionals. Therefore the beginner in the game of exhibiting dogs is quite apt to meet with more amateurs than professionals.

The judges include R. L. Davies, Anderson, Ind., Boston terriers and bulldogs; A. R. Mardis, Elmhurst, chow chows; E. J. Woodward, Libertyville, fox terriers; R. T. Winn, Elgin, Scottish terriers; R. R. Hughes, Chicago, Irish terriers; L. W. Browne, De Kalb, German shepherds; Robert Blakesley, Niles Center, cocker spaniels; and Mrs. M. Plankers, Minneapolis, toy breeds. E. T. Adair, Pittsburgh, will judge all hounds and all sporting dogs except cocker spaniels. C. V. Glebe, Bryn Athyn, Pa., will officiate for all working breeds except German shepherds, all terriers except Irish, Scottish, and fox terriers, as well as all non-sporting dogs excluding Boston terriers, bulldogs, and chows. Mr. Glebe will also pick the best dog in the show.

PLANE ON FIRE, 2 ARMY FLYERS DIE IN PLUNGE

Parachutes Fail to Save War Game Aviators.

BY WILLIAM O'NEIL.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Otsego, Mich., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Two army flyers were killed today when their parachutes failed to open after they leaped from a blazing pursuit plane four miles west of here.

They were Second Lieut. W. W. Harding, 25, a reserve officer from Los Angeles, Cal., who was piloting the plane, and Private Francis Maier of Dowagiac, Mich. Both were members of the 6th service squadron, which is based at Selfridge field, Michigan, but were serving with the 27th pursuit squadron, operating from Marshall, Mich., in the maneuvers being staged in this area.

The plane was one of a flight of twenty that left Marshall this morning in an attempt to intercept attack planes which came from Selfridge field to "gas" moving columns of troops on their way to Camp Custer.

Farmers View Plane.

Farmers who were watching the pursuit planes said smoke began pouring from one of them as the ships passed overhead at 8 a. m. The plane turned out of formation, according to C. H. Flickinger, one of the farmers, and disappeared behind a wood patch, but immediately lifted again and flew toward an open field.

Flickinger said the plane burst into flames just before the flyers jumped "at low elevation." Neither parachute opened, he said.

Wreckage of the plane was strewn along the field near the road for a quarter of a mile. The motor and propeller were 200 yards or more from the fuselage, which apparently had broken in two.

Finds Bodies of Flyers.

"I was out behind the barn when the plane dropped," Flickinger said. "At first I thought it had set my house afire, the flames were so bright. I ran across the road to see if I could do anything for the men in the plane and found them on the ground about 100 feet apart."

An official report on the cause of the blaze will not be made until an army board of inquiry meets, but a mechanic helping to clear up the wreckage said it probably was due to a faulty supercharger. One flying officer said that a connecting rod might have broken, penetrating the crank case and the gasoline line.

Soldiers Dry Out.

Thirty-third division troops at Camp Custer dried themselves out after the heavy rains of last night and this morning while 32d division troops moved through the rain to a new camp site at the west end of the Custer reservation.

The 8th attack squadron, which Harding's flight was attempting to intercept, was credited by the umpires with having wiped out a troop of calvary on the road with a "gas" attack of a nonfast red dye.

Father of 22 Dies at 99 in His Kentucky Log Cabin

Whitesburg, Ky., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Uncle Jordan Holcomb, 99, oldest of the old Holcomb family of eastern Kentucky, died suddenly at his log cabin home back on the headwaters of Line Fork twenty miles from here in Letcher county where he was born and reared and lived all his life. Six times married and the father of twenty-two children, Uncle Jordan leaves scores of descendants, children, grandchildren, great-grandchildren, and even great-great-grandchildren, scattered over eastern Kentucky. His wife died about a year ago at the age of 96. He was unusually active all his life, having had little sickness. He was rarely ever under the care of a physician.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

While riding around attending to various errands in and out of the loop Rudy Vallee found time to discuss some of his radio plans and preferences, as well as answering a question or two regarding his personal affairs. Has he any plans for remarrying? Most emphatically not—certainly not at this time—but maybe some time again. Rudy is healthier, huskier, and happier than he has been been in many a year.

Since Vallee started the business of using guest stars which has brought about the wholesale moving of radio shows to Hollywood, we thought he might have something to say about this trend westward.

"Hollywood will not supplant New York as the radio capital of the nation," Rudy declared. "The meaty stuff doesn't come from Hollywood. What radio needs is material—not big names."

Vallee would prefer a show in which all the guest features were unannounced in advance. They would be sprung as surprises each week. But his sponsor feels differently in this regard. Vallee almost had a real surprise recently. Arrangements had been made, he said, to present President Roosevelt and Gov. Landon on two of his sponsored programs. For these appearances equal sums were to have been contributed to the respective parties. Sponsor, finally, decided not to go through with the plan.

Vallee says he has no fears of Kate Smith, who is to go to work on CBS the same hour Rudy holds forth on NBC, as a competitor. He admires Kate, however. She got her start through his program, but doesn't expect her show to cause many defections from the ranks of his followers.

Rudy's show may be aired from Chicago in October when he plans to play a theater engagement here. Best program emanating from Chicago, in his opinion, is the grisly "Lights Out" series, written by Arch Oboler. Why some one doesn't sponsor this hour is more than Rudy can understand.

Gov. Landon is to make three radio addresses within the next week. Next Saturday at 3 p. m. he will be heard from West Middlesex, Pa.; Monday at 7:30 p. m., from Chautauqua, N. Y., and Wednesday, Aug. 26, at 8 p. m. from Buffalo. Frank Knox will speak at 8:30 tonight over WENR from Hagerstown, Md. At the same hour James A. Farley is to give a sponsored talk over W-G-N-Mutual.

Ceremonies in connection with the 60th anniversary celebration of the National Baseball league are to be broadcast over W-G-N Saturday prior to the regular baseball broadcast from Wrigley field. Bob Elson will present various celebrities and Ford Frick is to speak.

Henry Busse's orchestra, heard from the Chez Paree, was signed yesterday to provide the music for a sponsored matinée program to start on NBC Sept. 9. Contract is for 39 weeks. . . . Ralph Ginsburgh, Palmer House ensemble director, is fishing in the north woods. Oscar Chausow is handling his W-G-N broadcasts.

BARBER FIGURING IN TRANS-OCEAN EPISODE IS DEAD

The 250 pound Arico's career reached a climax in September, 1929, when Mr. Kenny, a wealthy contractor, summoned Arico to London to trim his narrow wisp of gray hair. Arico found himself over night a world famous character and an international problem. British barbers resented the implication. They insisted that Arico would not be allowed to cut his patron's hair without a labor permit and implied that there would be civil war before they allowed such a permit to be issued.

Before Arico landed Mr. Kenny, in an effort at peace, had his hair clipped by a London barber. In mid-Atlantic Arico wirelessed to London:

"British barbers are the most efficient artists in their line. I never have made statements to the contrary. I expect to visit the London shops during my stay and get a haircut. I hope to learn some of their best methods."

ILLINOISIAN WHO AS CHILD SAW LINCOLN WED IS BURIED AT 100

Moro, Ill., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Gaius Paddock, 100, who as a boy knew Abraham Lincoln, was buried here today. He died Sunday.

He was born in St. Louis, and his family moved to Springfield, Ill., when he was 4. He often recalled sitting on an overturned soap box in the Williams general store in Springfield and listening to conversations of Lincoln.

He was one of the children who attended the wedding of Lincoln and Mary Todd. Of Lincoln, Mr. Paddock once said: "None of us could vision the greatness that was to come, but we respected him. He was one of the most candid of men, utterly without guile."

His main hobby in his late years was a collection of Lincoln anecdotes. On his one hundredth birthday last May 14 Mr. Paddock gave his formula for longevity: "Preserve a tranquil mind and be thankful for your blessings. Keep regular hours, be abstemious, and guard your stomach."

He traced his ancestry to Robert Paddock, who landed at Plymouth, Mass., in 1634. His grandfather served in the revolutionary war and was with Washington at Valley Forge, and also participated in the crossing of the Delaware.

New York, Aug. 18.—A smart pick-up in activity of United States government liens featured dealings in the bond market today. High grade corporate obligations were firm, with railroad issues making the most impressive showing.

Trading was somewhat heavier than on Monday, when a three year low mark was established, but volume still was small, amounting to $7,861,000 par value, against $6,145,000 yesterday.

Treasury List Strong.

The most spirited buying of treasury issues had little effect on prices except to hold them near recently established peaks. Closing prices were the best for the day. Gains ranged from 1-32 to 5-32 point. The ⅞s of 1955 and the 2¾s of 1951, the most active loans, exceeded or duplicated their 1936 highs along with several others.

Trading in the corporate list was slow. Fractional advances of no particular consequence prevailed, although there was some irregularity. In the industrial section some of the steel and motor bonds commanded enough favor to move up a point or more.

Several Issues Advance.

Corporate loans which finished higher included New York Central 5s at 97⅜, North American 5s at 106½, Studebaker 6s at 101½, Youngstown Sheet and Tube 3½s at 124, American Rolling Mill 4¼s at 114½, and Chesapeake corporation 5s at 153.

Losses were registered by Western Union 5s, Southern Railway 4s, Missouri Pacific 5s, International Hydro-Electric 6s, Erie 5s, and Alleghany 5s.

Italian dollar bonds slumped 1 to nearly 3 points and a few other foreign issues lost ground. Some South American issues, notably those of Uruguay and the Dominican Republic, were strong.

RUBBER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—RUBBER—Crude. Futures closed dull, unchanged to 3 points higher. September, 16.13c per lb bid; December, 16.26c; March, 16.36c bid. Smoked ribbed spot, 16.19c nominal.

Answer: A plan for reorganization under the national bankruptcy act was filed by the road in federal court July 15, 1936.

The principal purpose of the plan is to effect material reduction in fixed charges which earnings have been insufficient to cover for the last several years. It is proposed to effect this reduction by replacing outstanding fixed interest securities with "income bonds" on which interest will be paid only when and if earned.

Under the proposed new set-up, fixed interest requirements would amount to $2,500,000 annually, a reduction of approximately 80 per cent from the present $14,335,000 annual charges.

Further recovery in the revenues of the carrier would be necessary to cover interest charges under the proposed set-up. Had the plan been in effect during 1934 and 1935, earnings would have been insufficient to cover charges. In other years of higher revenues the charges would have been covered by a comfortable margin.

The plan provides for an extension of outstanding bank and Reconstruction Finance corporation loans and replacement of equipment trust certificates with new certificates. Two outstanding bond issues would be undisturbed under the recapitalization. Other bondholders would receive new 4 per cent income bonds and stock in exchange for present securities.

For each $100 share of present 7 per cent preferred stock there would be issued $70 of new common stock with option warrants to purchase an additional $60 of common.

For each $100 share of present 6 per cent preferred there would be issued $60 of new common with warrants for an additional $70 of common.

For each $100 of present common stock there would be issued $40 in new common with warrants for purchase of an additional $60 of common.

Total capitalization would amount to $434,427,000. This would consist of $227,431,000 funded debt [of which $159,567,000 would be new 4 per cent income bonds], $75,449,000 first preferred stock, $30,343,000 second preferred and $101,204,000 common stock.

Both new preferred stocks would be 4 per cent noncumulative issues. Net $13,098,000 would be required before common dividends.

Provision is also made for the issuance of new 3½ per cent first mortgage bonds to take priority over all other securities in an amount not to exceed $60,000,000 of which $15,000,000 would be issued at once. Proceeds would be used for immediate rehabilitation of the system, refunding of receivers' certificates, and to provide cash to carry out the reorganization.

INCREASED TAXES HELP FINANCE NEW DEAL COST

Normal Expenditures Gain Over Last Year.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Tax receipts of the federal government since the start of the new fiscal year July 1, increased moderately over the same period of last year, an official breakdown of treasury figures disclosed today. At the same time "normal" expenditures increased slightly while relief costs were sharply cut.

The larger receipts resulted from increased collections of income taxes and miscellaneous internal revenues, while the reduced expenditures were due to repayments to government lending agencies.

The normal or so-called general expenditures of the government for the month and a half amounted to $538,001,448, compared with $523,713,634 the year before.

Internal Revenue Leads.

In the receipt column miscellaneous internal revenue was the largest item, totaling $389,249,207, compared with $320,963,801 a year ago.

Income tax payments amounted to $49,928,083, compared with $32,418,916, while customs receipts were $48,543,578, against $47,496,590. For the first half of August customs receipts showed a slight reduction to $16,963,126 against $17,785,197 in the same period last year.

Under the treasury's method of bookkeeping, repayments of old loans are available immediately for new expenditures. The repayments are deducted from the total spent and that difference or net figure is compared with the total of ordinary receipts in computing the deficit.

The report showed that $577,095,559 had been spent for recovery and relief since July 1, with $377,362,837 of that amount financed by repayments of old government loans.

More Spent Last Year.

Figured on the same basis, $766,513,131 was expended in the similar period last year with $227,888,216 coming from repayments. Net recovery and relief disbursements were listed as $199,732,722 this year and $538,624,915 last year.

The report also revealed that total appropriations for recovery and relief purposes since the beginning of the depression era have been $19,148,866,377, of which $5,829,747,513 remained unexpended as of Aug. 15.

Total net expenditures for the six week period were $737,734,171 against $1,061,338,549. In the expenditure column were shown credits of $276,166,765, representing repayments.

Last year there were repayments of $22,536,269 on account of railroad loans. The agencies which showed credits this year had expenditures last year of $306,789,196, while this year the railroad loans amounted to $785,170. The result was a net difference of $561,094,762.

The report showed that through Aug. 15 there had been cashed $1,176,496,050 in adjusted service bonds.

On Aug. 15 the government had a deficit of $220,875,273, compared with $585,935,415 a year earlier, while the public debt was $33,413,545,508, against $29,011,655,003.

MASSACHUSETTS AWARDS BONDS TO J. P. MORGAN

Lee Higginson corporation, bidding for the account of J. P. Morgan & Co., was the successful bidder yesterday for an issue of $6,000,000 of Commonwealth of Massachusetts notes, obtaining the issue on a 0.305 per cent interest basis. The notes will be dated Aug. 31, 1936, and will become payable Aug. 3, 1937.

Officials of Los Angeles county, California, rejected all bids for an issue of $5,594,000 of 5 per cent flood control district bonds offered for sale on a competitive basis. The bonds, it is understood, will be reoffered for sale next week, and possibly will carry a stipulation that bidders are to specify the rate of interest. The bonds were to be dated July 2, 1934, and mature July 2, 1937 to 1964. The issue constitutes the remainder of the original authorization of $35,000,000 of bonds for this purpose.

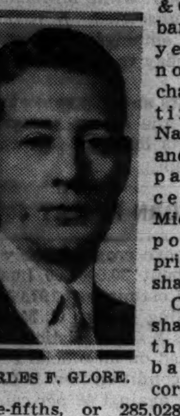
CONTINENTAL SELLS HOLDINGS IN MIDDLE WEST

Chicago Corp. and Becker Buy Stock.

BY HERBERT VEDDER.

Chicago corporation, one of the country's large investment companies, and A. G. Becker & Co., investment banking house, yesterday announced purchase of the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company's 14.3 per cent interest in Middle West corporation. The price was $12 a share.



CHARLES F. GLORE.

Of the 475,046 share holding of the Continental bank, Chicago corporation took three-fifths, or 285,028 shares, and Becker acquired 190,018 shares. The deal, involving approximately $5,700,000, gives Chicago corporation 8.58 per cent of the Middle West stock outstanding, with Becker holding 5.72 per cent.

The terms of the transaction announced yesterday confirmed reports published last week.

Has Faith in Firm.

Charles F. Glore, president of Chicago corporation, said he is convinced that Middle West is in better shape than generally supposed. He disclosed he has been interested in the company ever since Middle West Utilities company, keystone of Samuel Insull's "empire," crashed into receivership in 1932. The successor company emerged from the reorganization last November.

Glore cited the difference in capitalization of the two companies. He contrasted the new company—with no funded debt and sole capitalization of 3,310,757 common shares—with the old company and its capital structure of nearly 1 billion dollars.

At current prices the new company is valued at less than 40 million dollars, which Glore thinks is low. The old company, he pointed out, had 27 million dollars in bank loans, 40 million dollars in notes, 60 million dollars in preferred stock, and 16 million shares of common stock which sold at $53 a share or the equivalent of 848 million dollars at one time.

Profit Only Incentive.

"There is no reason to believe that the new company, if managed properly, will not make money," said Glore. "And if it makes money, we make money. Our only incentive is to make a profit."

"That goes for us, too," said David B. Stern, vice president of A. G. Becker & Co.

The only more substantial holders of Middle West stock are the Bankers Trust company of New York, with 568,022 shares, and First National bank of Chicago, with 472,057 shares.

The fifth large stockholder is the Reconstruction Finance corporation, which acquired the 173,995 shares alloted the Central Republic Trust company, liquidating shell of the former Central Republic Bank and Trust company, one of the major banking creditors of the old Middle West.

Commenting on reports that Chicago corporation and A. G. Becker also were negotiating for the RFC stock, Glore said:

"We are interested in the stock if it can be bought."

Report Atlas Sought Stock.

It has been reported that Atlas corporation, headed by Floyd B. Odlum and dominant in Utilities Power and Light corporation, another large utility holding company, also is interested in the RFC stock. If this is true, Glore said, he does not know of it. The RFC is said to have set a price of $15 a share on its holding, but no confirmation has come from Washington.

Glore said that Chicago corporation and A. G. Becker made overtures to all large Middle West stockholders, but gained the impression that neither the First National bank nor Bankers Trust company was interested in selling at the present time.

It was learned yesterday that Atlas corporation interests made an offer—said to be $8 a share—for the Continental bank's holdings several months ago.

Glore said it is "not the function of Chicago corporation" to enter into the management of corporations and that no change in the Middle West directorate is contemplated at present because of the big block of stock changing hands.

Hold Stock Temporarily.

Stern said A. G. Becker & Co. will market its holding "sometime, though not in the immediate future." He said the stock probably will be offered publicly sometime after an accurate earnings statement of the company is available.

The Continental bank, in receiving $5,700,000 for its stock, came out in the clear on its loan to Middle West Utilities. It was said that $10.50 a share was necessary for it to break even, excluding interest, expenses, and legal fees in connection with the reorganization. The $12 figure, it was said, covers the additional items. The investment had been written down sharply on the bank's books, however, and the recovery will be added to surplus rather than included in earnings.

Stock of Middle West closed at $11.50 a share on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday, up 62½ cents from Monday, after touching $12 at one time during the day.

Sears Reports Record High Sales Volume

Sears, Roebuck & Co. in the seventh four week period and first seven periods of this year shattered all-time high sales records set in 1929, according to figures released yesterday by the company.

Gross sales for the period July 17 to Aug. 13 amounted to $33,765,215, an increase of $9,177,571, or 37.3 per cent, over the $24,587,644 for the seventh period of last year.

In the sixth period of 1936 the gain over 1935 amounted to 32.5 per cent with a volume of $39,841,752. The previous high record for the seventh period, set in 1929, was $27,756,000.

Sales for the first seven periods of this year, from Jan. 30 to Aug. 13, aggregated $251,296,881, an increase of $48,586,933, or 24 per cent, over the $202,709,948 for the corresponding period of 1935.

Sales May Top 500 Millions.

Based on the rate of increase so far this year it is anticipated the company has good chances of attaining a 500 million dollar sales level in this year, its fiftieth anniversary.

An increase of about 20 per cent over the $417,080,465 volume for the year ended last Jan. 29 would be necessary to reach this mark, and the gain so far has averaged 24 per cent.

Volume of $18,914,446 for the period was 13.6 per cent above the $16,639,694 for the corresponding period last year. In the preceding four week period of 1936 the total was $18,729,438, or 8.9 per cent above a year ago.

Near Record Upturn.

The percentage gain in the most recent period was the largest year to year upturn with one exception since the company's thirteen period year was adopted in 1931. In the week ended March 25 an increase of 14 per cent occurred over the preceding year.

For the first 32 weeks of the company's fiscal year sales amounted to $145,122,174, an increase of 2 per cent over the $142,145,264 in the corresponding period of 1935. Stores in operation Aug. 8 totaled 4,230, or 1.9 per cent below the 4,301 a year ago.

The department of commerce announced yesterday that preliminary figures show a gain of 8 per cent for average daily sales of grocery chain stores during July compared with July, 1935. The rise over 1934 was placed at 11 per cent.

CANADA REPORTS PACT WITH U. S. BOLSTERS TRADE

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Exports from Canada to the United States of commodities covered by the trade agreement effective last Jan. 1, 1936, are showing an appreciable gain. Their value for the first seven months of the year was $116,015,514, compared with $92,281,872 in the corresponding period last year, when the agreement was not in force, it was officially announced today.

The grand total of all exports to the United States in the seven months was valued at $196,353,479, against $185,913,669 a year ago.

A favorable trade balance of over $32,000,000 against the United States, compared with an adverse balance for a considerable period in the past; an increase in total trade of $85,000,000, and important gains in all the principal items dealt with in the treaty, which for these figures was in operation for six months, are notable features of Canada's business with the United States in the twelve months ended June 30 last, compared with the previous year.

FRANCE'S SOCIALIST REGIME TAKES REINS OF NATIONAL BANK

[Copyright: 1936: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, Aug. 18.—In the same room where the council of regents formerly met, the new general council of the Bank of France met today for the first time and inaugurated its régime. Governor General Labeyrie presided with two assistant governors, Fournier and Guirand.

Labeyrie proclaimed a policy of maintaining the stability of the franc and lowering interest rates. He said, however, "We know the bank is far from being the sole master of our money's fate.

"Those forces which push men into using their intelligence and power to kill and exploit one another upset directly or indirectly the normal play of exchanges, credit, and money," he said. "You will help us make it understood throughout working France that when we resist with regret certain demands which seem to their makers perfectly reasonable it will be because we are imperiously commanded to do so by care for the general interest."

The new council, the governor said, was harmoniously composed to represent the government, both large and small industry and commerce, agriculture savings, and both workers' and consumers' organizations. It would be completed by representatives of shareholders and the bank's personnel.

SPANISH WAR FEARS DEPRESS FRENCH FRANC

French francs lost 3-16 point against the dollar in New York yesterday under pressure induced by symptoms of increased friction between leading European powers over the Spanish situation. Francs closed at 6.58½ cents, which placed them within ⅛ point of the level at which gold may be shipped profitably from Paris to New York.

Other gold currencies were steady or higher. Swiss francs remained at 32.60 cents and Dutch guilders gained 1 point to 67.93 cents. Belgian belgas were up 2 points at 16.87 cents. The British pound gained ½ cent to $5.03⅛.

The weekly statement of condition of the German Reichsbank issued yesterday showed a moderate gain in gold reserves for the week ended Aug. 15. On that date gold reserves totaled 72,411,000 marks, compared with 72,092,000 marks in the preceding week. Circulation was 4,240,300, against 4,301,000. The ratio of gold to total liabilities was 1.6 per cent, against 1.5 per cent a week earlier.

The engagement of $2,082,000 of gold abroad for shipment to New York and the arrival of $2,715,200 of gold imports were reported by the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

NEW HAVEN ASKS EQUIPMENT BOND ISSUE APPROVAL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—(AP)—The New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad today asked interstate commerce commission authority to issue $3,075,000 of 3 per cent equipment trust certificates.

Proceeds would be used to finance acquisition of 10 steam passenger locomotives, 50 light weight steel passenger coaches and 10 Diesel electric switching locomotives. The equipment would be built by the New England Car company.

The commission also authorized Henry L. Shattuck and Robert Cutler, both of Boston, to serve as a protective committee for certain preferred share holders of the Boston Railroad Holding company.

Shattuck and Cutler would represent stock in the company held by the general public in connection with the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad reorganization.

D. H. Burnham Estate Splitup Is Proposed

Proposals to subdivide the D. H. Burnham estate, the largest privately owned tract of land along the Evanston shore line, into residence sites, have been submitted to the Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, trustee of the Margaret S. Burnham trust, it was learned yesterday.

According to the Northwestern Realty and Building company of Evanston, which is supervising the project, the trustee has not yet approved of the project.

Plan 21 Home Sites.

The plan submitted to the bank calls for the platting of the famous old Burnham tract into twenty-one home sites facing a new east and west parkway across the property. The tentative plan provides for the retention of the old Burnham residence, a remodeled farmhouse nearly 100 years old, as it now stands.

The Burnham property fronts approximately 1,000 feet on both Dempster street and Burnham place, 220 feet on Forest avenue and about the same on Lake Shore boulevard.

Property Put in Trust.

Daniel H. Burnham, famous city planner and father of the Chicago plan, and architect of many well known buildings in Chicago and other cities, died in 1912.

The property was then placed in trust for the widow, Mrs. Margaret Sherman Burnham, and her children, Daniel H. Burnham, Hubert Burnham and John Burnham. Mrs. Burnham and her son John live in California. Hubert Burnham lives in Evanston and D. H. Burnham in Chicago. The old Evanston Burnham residence has been unoccupied except by a caretaker for several years.

NEW HIGH MARK IN OIL OUTPUT SET LAST WEEK

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Estimated total daily average production of crude oil in the United States reached a new all time record of 3,068,364 barrels for the week ending Aug. 15, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today in estimating an increase of 108,680 barrels daily for the week.

Officials attributed the increase, brought about chiefly by large production in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas, to higher allowables granted those states last month and a usual swelling of production in Oklahoma early in the month.

Operators in Oklahoma pools run the majority of their month's allowables in the first two weeks of the month, then drop off through the last half, it was pointed out.

The previous high mark was set for the week ending May 16, this year, when the estimated total daily production for the United States was 3,005,440 barrels. It had never reached 3,000,000 barrels before that time, officials said.

PARK DISTRICT BOND INTEREST FUNDS READY

The Chicago Park district announced yesterday it has completed arrangements for the payment of $4,010,891 in interest on outstanding bonds of the series A, B, C, and D refunding issues, which is due Sept. 1, and payable at the First National Bank of Chicago.

Edward N. Heinz, controler of the Chicago Park district, said this will be the first payment on the refunding bonds which were recently issued through Halsey, Stuart & Co., to replace all outstanding bonds of the twenty-two superseded park districts. Funds for the payment of the interest were derived from tax collections.

STOCKS STIFFEN BUT VOLUME OF TRADE SHRINKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 8.—Improvement took place on a modest scale in the stock market today as short covering and moderate new demand brought higher prices. Trading interest was comparatively light, with operations for the most part being attributed to professionals. Transactions amounted to 790,450 shares, the smallest volume for a full session since June 29.

Price changes in the general list were mainly of the fractional variety. While outside interest in the market was small it was apparent to observers that many in the financial district held the opinion that the recent selling had placed the list again in position to respond to normal bullish influences of business and trade.

Speculators Keep Eye on Europe.

Youngstown Sheet and Tube rose more than a point, but gains in the rest of the steel group were fractional. United States Steel closed unchanged after being up a large fraction.

Farm implement shares firmed up after yesterday's spell of weakness on disturbing drouth news but failed to display any great amount of rallying power. Mesta Machine rose 2 points to a new peak price. With sales of the company still maintaining their record breaking pace, Sears-Roebuck moved up in early trading, but reacted to close with a slight loss. Spiegel, May, Stern jumped a point in a thin market and Montgomery Ward was firm.

Rail Issues Mixed.

Rail shares were mixed. Union Pacific and Atchison, hardest hit by the drouth, lost ground, as also did Great Northern. Pennsylvania, softened for some other reason. Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Chesapeake and Ohio, and New York Central improved on expectations of good July earnings statements.

Motor shares moved up but showed little activity. Chrysler slipped after being up a point at one time. Coppers improved slightly, although hopes decreased for a rise in the price of the metal.

Douglas climbed more than a point in the airplane sector and United Air Lines registered an advance of a major fraction on its good report. Du Pont tacked up a gain of 2 points, but Allied Chemical receded.

Utilities firmed up. Shipbuilding shares were strong under the spur of war preparations. Eastman Kodak, Owens Glass and Underwood-Elliott-Fisher were among the issues to finish with losses of a point or more.

Drouth Expected to Boost Food Prices Still Higher

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—With the great middle west and western farm lands parched by the drouth, food prices may be expected to move still higher, according to estimates on the farm situation made today by various governmental agencies. At the same time those farmers whose lands have not been parched by the drouth may expect to see their income for the last half of this year reach a level far above that for the same period of last year, it was stated.

Experts, both governmental and private, were estimating that a basket of food which now costs $10 a few months hence will cost $11 or $12. Their estimates bear out the opinions of the army's purchasing department, which buys food in large quantities both for the army and the CCC enrollees. The army buyers recently predicted an upturn in food prices.

Food Bill Already Higher.

The housewife is already paying more for her milk, butter, and eggs in many sections of the country as the drouth has burned pasturage and reduced the feed available for poultry.

By an anomaly prices of meats have not risen as rapidly as have dairy products and fresh vegetables because live stock raisers have been rushing their animals to market as the scorching sun burned grazing lands and pastures to a crisp and at the same time reduced the corn and hay crops used to fatten the animals. Present large receipts at live stock markets have held meat prices in check.

However, experts here predict that when the supplies to market begin to fall when the drouth animal liquidation is completed meat prices will soar. The full effect of this is expected to be felt in late winter and early spring of 1937. Products of hogs are expected to show the greatest increases as the nation's corn crop diminishes.

Predict Farm Income Gain.

The bureau of agricultural economics predicted today that farm income for the first half of this year will greatly exceed that for the first half of 1935 because of the soaring prices caused by the drouth. The full force of the increased prices for foods will be felt on the farm income in the second half of the year, it was predicted.

The bureau said the general rise of farm commodity prices which began in May appears to have continued during July.

It is expected that the small production of vegetables that are canned will increase prices in this division of the nation's food store, while canned fruits also are expected to increase.

The department of agriculture predicted that prices of this year's apple crop will be the highest since 1929.

BOARD OF TRADE BOOSTS MARGINS IN GRAIN TRADE

Margin requirements on corn required by the clearing association of the Chicago Board of Trade, which deals with brokers and individual members of the grain organization, will be boosted from 3 to 4 cents a bushel this morning, following action taken yesterday.

At the same time directors of the exchange ordered an increase in the minimum margins required of brokerage house customers from 150 per cent of clearing house requirements to 200 per cent, on all grains. In effect, the customer increase boosts the minimum margin on wheat, rye and barley from 6 to 8 cents. Corn is increased from 4½ to 8 cents and oats from 3 to 4 cents.

The action is expected to have little effect except on professional speculators, as most brokerage houses for several weeks have been requiring customers to post from 8 to 10 cents margain on wheat, corn, rye, and barley and a slightly lesser amount on oats. The new customer requirements do not apply to hedging or spreading trades.

Canadian Armament Firm Reduces Explosives Prices

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

MONTREAL, Que., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Canadian Industries, Ltd., which is said to have sold much armament during the Italian-Ethiopian war, announces a reduction of 25 cents per 100 pounds in the prices of all types of explosives, effective Aug. 15 last. With this reduction the price of explosives in Canada is lower than at any time during the last quarter century.

STEEL SCRAP HIGHEST SINCE 1930 AS PRICE RISES AT PITTSBURGH

Steel scrap sold yesterday in the Pittsburgh district at the highest price since 1930, bringing $16.50 a ton, according to reports in trade circles. This was an increase of 25 cents over the previous level and a boost of $1 a ton from the price quoted last week. No. 1 heavy melting scrap is now quoted at $16.25 to $16.75 a ton.

The well maintained rate of production in the steel industry, which currently has been operating at about 70 per cent of capacity, is said to have been an important factor in the upturn in steel scrap prices.

In addition to the advance in the Pittsburgh area, prices in the St. Louis market yesterday were reported to have gained 25 cents a ton, bringing quotations to $13 to $13.50 a ton.

BUILDING BEGUN IN JULY LARGEST SINCE JUNE, 1931

New York, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Construction work started in 37 states east of the Rocky mountains during July was larger in volume than for any month since June, 1931, the F. W. Dodge corporation reported today.

The July total amounted to $294,833,800, compared with $233,054,600 for June and with $159,257,500 for July, 1935. Of the July, 1936, total, $72,093,600 was for residential building; $96,125,200 for nonresidential buildings of all descriptions; and $126,615,000 for civil engineering jobs of all types.

CORN OUTSELLS WHEAT; FIRST TIME SINCE 1930

Coarse Grain Soars Limit to $1.16.

Cash and September corn soared to a premium over wheat yesterday for the first time since 1930, marking one of the few occasions in the history of the Chicago Board of Trade when such a condition has prevailed. September corn closed at $1.16 per bushel, a new high since 1928 and 4 cents over Monday's finish, the maximum change permitted for one day under exchange regulations.

September corn at $1.16 was 2 cents above September wheat, which was quoted at $1.14 per bushel when trading ceased. No. 2 white corn in the sample market sold at $1.32½, a new high since early in 1925 and 6 cents above the highest quotation for cash wheat.

Commission Houses Buy Corn.

Aggressive commission house buying of September corn disclosed a market honeycombed with orders by short sellers in order to limit losses. Deferred deliveries advanced 1¾ cents to new highs for the season, with the December new crop delivery crossing the dollar mark for the first time since 1929.

A forecast for temperatures far above the 100 degree mark in Iowa and an official report indicating that the condition of the Illinois corn crop had dropped to 40 per cent of normal, compared with 48 per cent on Aug. 1, had some effect, but the pronounced strength in the cash market overshadowed all other influences.

Report Corn Hard to Buy.

A Springfield, Ill., report yesterday said Missouri truckers were paying $1.15 per bushel for cash corn in that section and finding the grain hard to buy.

Since July 1, when the crop scare started, September corn has advanced approximately 50 cents per bushel, one of the greatest advances within such a short period in market history. The September delivery at Buenos Aires yesterday was nearly 62 cents per bushel under Chicago, leaving a margin of 37 cents to cover shipping charges to this country after paying the import duty of 25 cents per bushel.

Other grains were affected by the action of corn. Wheat gained a small fraction, oats were up nearly a cent, and rye was as much as 1⅝ cents higher. September rye was nearly 31 cents under corn at the close. Distillers were said to be showing considerable interest in rye, due to the attractive price difference.

ERIE REPORTS 217 PCT. GAIN IN OPERATING NET

Road First to Announce Results for July.

The Erie railroad yesterday reported a 217 per cent increase in net operating income for July over the same month last year. The gain over 1935 is the best recorded since the Van Sweringen road began showing improvement in earnings a year ago.

Gross revenues rose 25 per cent to $7,286,527, compared with $5,871,838 in July, last year, and net operating income increased to $1,458,984 from $460,896 in the like 1935 month. The road is the first to report July results.

July operating net set a new peak for this year and was the highest for any month since October, 1935. A study of past records indicates that July is usually one of the smallest income months for the road.

Passenger Trafic Factor.

Financial circles were interested in the Erie report because it covers the first month in which the new 2 cent flat passenger rates went into effect. As the Erie is a leading carrier of commuter trafic from suburban New Jersey into New York, it was felt that some of the increased income was a result of improved passenger trafic since the lower rates went into effect.

Heavy shipments of coal and continued demand for movement of manufactured and unfinished products, however, were held to be the chief reasons for the large pickup in operating income for the period.

For the first 7 months of 1936 the carrier had gross revenues of $47,215,865, an increase of 12 per cent over the $42,137,174 total for the corresponding 1935 period. Net operating income for the period totaled $8,694,646, against $6,445,233 a year ago, an increase of 35 per cent.

B. and O. Reports Gain.

The Baltimore and Ohio railroad reported net income of $201,393 for June, sharply ahead of the $73,986 net income for the corresponding month a year ago. For the first six months of this year the reailroad had a net loss of $1,981,278 against net loss of $2,496,158 in the first half of 1935.

Irregular trends were shown in additional car loadings reports for last week, released by major railroads. However, freight trafic continued to run well ahead of 1935 figures. The North Western's total were the highest since 1931, amounting to 32,234 cars.

Grain company, that the three Canadian provinces might harvest 240,000,000 bushels this year. Recent estimates have ranged down to 180,000,000 bushels.

The trade had unconfirmed rumors that the Canadian government might place a minimum price of $1 per bushel on this year's crop. A minimum of 87½ cents was guaranteed for the 1935 harvest. Winnipeg closed fractionally higher, while Minneapolis was somewhat unsettled. A strike of grain elevator employés was scheduled to start today in the latter market.

September oats and rye sold at new high levels for the season yesterday. No. 2 white oats brought 48½ cents, also a new high.

ILLINOIS CORN PUT AT 40%

The Illinois corn crop probably has deteriorated about 20,000,000 bushels from the Aug. 1 estimate of 197,000,000 bushels, according to Nat C. Murray, Clement, Curtis & Co. statistician. His estimate is based on an official report indicating the condition now is 40 per cent of normal, against 48 per cent on Aug. 1.

Calling attention to the extremely spotted rainfall in the leading states during the last ten days, Murray said the moisture reports suggested a possible reduction of 50,000,000 to 75,000,000 bushels in the aggregate crop for the country from the 1,439,000,000 bushels indicated by the department of agriculture on Aug. 1.

Cut Corn for Fodder.

An abnormally large amount of corn is expected to be cut for fodder, hogged down, grazed, or placed in silos this season as the result of damage to the crop by intense heat and record dry weather. Revised estimates on the corn acreage during the last three years utilized for various purposes, as given by the department of agriculture, in thousands of bushels, follow:

	1935.	1934.	1933.
Hogged down, grazed fodder	7,865	23,969	9,220

Total, acres	95,333	92,133	105,724
Crop, grain	2,002,000	1,147,000	2,100,000
Corn, all	2,292,000	1,478,000	2,397,000

Fear for Fall Seeding.

Lack of surface moisture and slow progress on fall plowing in the southwest are causing apprehension regarding the start of the new winter wheat crop in that section. A Wichita, Kas., message to James E. Bennett & Co. yesterday said there was more talk of irrigation on a larger scale than before in that community, since water can be reached in most places 10 to 15 feet below ground level. It was thought there might be some attempts this fall to irrigate wheat land.

Italy has raised the price of native soft wheat to $2.53 per bushel and hard wheat to $2.85 per bushel on account of the relatively small crop this year. Fair imports are expected later in the season.

BANKERS TO WOO PUBLIC WITH RADIO PROGRAM

Symphony to Sell Story of Stability.

Moved by a desire to improve their "public relations," a group of leading banks, including the Chase National of New York and the First National of Chicago, yesterday announced a series of big radio broadcasts in which talks on banking will be sweetened by the strains of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra's music.

Beginning shortly after the presidential election in November this group of banks, whose combined resources total more than five billion dollars, will go on the air one evening each week to persuade the public that bankers perform a highly important and useful function in the national economy and that there are sound reasons—other than the guaranty of deposits by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation—for public confidence in the nation's banks.

Will Use Radio Network.

The radio network to be used is that of the Columbia system. The contract arrangement, as set up by the Wessel company, of Chicago, calls for the exclusive services of the Philadelphia orchestra for the next three years, although the program as presently arranged calls for only 39 weekly programs.

Each program will consist of a 25 minute concert followed by a 3½ to 4 minute talk by "leading commentators." W. M. Kiplinger, manager of a weekly business letter agency in Washington, will be one of the "commentators." Bankers themselves will be put on the program only if they qualify as effective radio speakers as well as authoritative experts on finance and economics. At the close of each program the local announcer will deliver a brief peroration on the institution in that locality sponsoring the program.

Join in Comprehensive Plan.

Although financial institutions have gone on the air before, this venture is believed to be the most comprehensive national undertaking of its kind. It is the outgrowth of a feeling that bankers have had ever since the moratorium that they should do a job of selling themselves to the public. An earlier manifestation was the series of forums on the public relations of banks held in Chicago and other cities a few months ago by President Robert V. Fleming of the American Bankers' association.

Harassed for three years by political attacks and worried by the uncertainties engendered by financial nostrums advanced by the "banker baiters," the financiers have been probing around for nearly two years in search of a way to educate the public in matters of finance and combat the panaceas of irresponsible and self-appointed monetary "experts."

Fear Inflation Due to Deficit.

Although every effort will be made to prevent the injection of politics into the job of "public relations," it is admitted that one of the chief worries of the banks is the inflation of their deposits resulting from the continuing federal deficits.

Besides the Chase National of New York and the First National of Chicago, the group sponsoring the radio programs will include the big Pennsylvania company of Philadelphia, the Marine Midland chain in New York state. The First National bank of St. Louis, Fifty-third Union Trust company of Cincinnati, Ohio City Trust company of Toledo, Bankers' Trust company of Des Moines, Lincoln National Bank and Trust company of Fort Wayne, Ind.; American National bank of Indianapolis, Marshall & Ilsley bank of Milwaukee, and the Detroit bank of Detroit.

LARD REACHES NEW HIGH; CHECKED LATER BY HEDGING

New high levels for the season were established on all deliveries of lard yesterday with the exception of the September. Commission house buying, based on the decided strength in corn and hogs, lifted lard futures 2½ to 12½ cents per 100 pounds with the close practically the top. Hedging pressure and profit taking checked the upturn. December lard at the high point yesterday was 90 cents per 100 pounds above the low level on Aug. 5.

Clear bellies [salt pork] showed more actvity and closed unchanged to 7½ cents higher. Cash lard closed at $12.45 per 100 pounds; loose, $11.80; leaf, $11.62½; clear bellies, $13.52½. Range of futures per 100 pounds follows:

Five Closed Banks Repay $178,600 to 13,700 Depositors

A total repayment of $178,606 to approximately 13,700 depositors in five closed state banks in Chicago and Cook county was authorized yesterday by Edward J. Barrett, state auditor. Checks were mailed last night.

The banks are the Reliance Bank and Trust company, First State bank of Barrington, Commercial Bank of Chicago Heights, Lyons State bank and the Proviso State bank, all under the receivership of Charles H. Albers.

The largest repayment was made to depositors of the Reliance Bank and Trust, where a 5 per cent return of $116,277 brings the total paid out to 20 per cent.

Other Credits Met.

In addition $1,355,505 has been paid on bills payable and $278,435 to preferred creditors. There are approximately 8,050 depositors. The payment authorized yesterday is from funds acquired through a stockholders' liability suit.

A 5 per cent return, amounting to $14,112, was made to 1,200 depositors of the First State Bank of Barrington, bringing the total amount paid back to 45 per cent. The payment was made from ordinary liquidation of assets. Preferred claims of $2,775 and bills payable of $127,981 have also been met.

The Commercial Bank of Chicago Heights paid 5 per cent on deposits to 2,100 depositors, amounting to $22,965 and bringing the total return to 65 per cent. Funds were acquired through ordinary liquidation. Preferred claims of $22,549 and bills payable of $139,630 also have been paid.

Maks 5 Per Cent Return.

A 5 per cent return, or $10,661, was made to 1,125 depositors of the Lyons State bank through the ordinary process of liquidation. The total return to depositors, including this payment, amounts to 30 per cent of deposits in the closed bank. Preferred claims of $23,852 and bills payable of $88,478 also were paid.

Proviso State Bank of Maywood paid 5 per cent, or $14,591, to 1,225 depositors, the first payment since the bank closed. Preferred claims of $9,894 and bills payable of $88,607 also have been paid. Of the repayment, 3¼ per cent was derived from funds received through ordinary liquidation and 1¾ per cent from a stockholders' liability suit.

ORDER RECORDS OF FOX FAMILY TRUST EXAMINED

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—Hiram Steelman, trustee in the bankruptcy case of William Fox, former film magnate, was authorized today to examine and audit the books and records of the Fox family corporate vehicle known as the All-Continent corporation.

The authorization was given by Robert E. Steedle, federal referee in bankruptcy. Notice of appeal is expected. Although the mere fact of transference of property to his family is not of itself evidence of fraud, where the transferer subsequently seeks benefit of the bankruptcy act, such transfers deserve scrutiny and investigation, the referee declared.

In 1930 William Fox had more than $18,000,000. Late that year he turned over to the All-Continent corporation for $6,000,000 securities which had cost him $14,000,000 and, in the following year, deeded the new corporation over to his wife and daughters as a trust.

Creditors with claims of $9,000,000 insisted, however, that this action was in effect a sham and that the All-Continent corporation is a Fox asset which should be available for distribution to his creditors.

NEW PROTECTIVE GROUP IN PACIFIC MUTUAL FORMED

Formation of a new committee to protect the interests of Chicagoans holding noncancelable accident and health policies in the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company was announced last night by E. B. Tilton, president of the Central-Illinois company, chairman of the committee.

A similar committee had been organized and dissolved last week, declaring that it lacked adequate support from policy holders in this area.

The new committee also includes in its membership Wilber G. Katz, professor of law in the University of Chicago law school, and Frank L. Stebbins of Graham & Co., who is secretary of the committee with offices in the Board of Trade building.

The local committee announced that it has retained counsel in Los Angeles and proposes to be represented actively in all ensuing hearings, the next one of which is scheduled for Thursday.

RAIL HEADS CAN JOKE AGAIN AS PASSENGERS AND FREIGHT GO UP

Passenger trains loaded to capacity and increased freight business—after six years of lean revenues—are bringing so much cheer to the railroads that executives of the roads are now getting back their sense of humor.

On June 1 the eastern lines cut passenger rates to two cents a mile in coaches, three cents in Pullmans. The New York Central and Pennsylvania opposed the move, asserting it would reduce their passenger revenues. The Chesapeake and Ohio and Baltimore and Ohio lines favored the reduction, figuring it would give them a break. Since the lower rates were put into effect all of the lines have been reporting larger passenger revenues.

Yesterday Chicagoans on the mailing list of the C. & O. were chuckling at a gentle "rib" that is being circulated by that road kidding its competitors who opposed the rate reduction. It is in the form of an engraved announcement as follows:

"The eastern railroads are grieved to announce that their passenger revenues have increased under the reduced fares. They regret that, for money, they have permitted a horde of total strangers to invade their privacy."

LARGER INCOME SHOWN THIS YEAR BY SPERRY CORP.

The Sperry corporation, a holding concern controling subsidiaries engaged in the manufacture of precision instruments for marine and air navigation, and other equipment, yesterday reported for the six months ended June 30 consolidated net income of $1,657,305, including profit of $1,055,204 on sales of securities. For the first half of 1935 net income was $809,751, including profit of $57,183 on sales of securities. Principal plants are in New York and England.

The Pet Milk company with plants throughout the country and headquarters in St. Louis, reported for the June quarter net profit of $529,898, after provision for federal income and undistributed profits tax, equal after preferred dividends to $1.17 a common share. This compares with $169,449, or 33 cents a share, in the like 1935 quarter.

U. S. TO EXPAND DROUTH BUYING OF LIVE STOCK

Plans to Bolster Prices; Will Also Buy Seed.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 18.—[Special.]—The necessity of expanding its live stock purchase program to include market stabilization operations in sheep and lambs was conceded today by the Agricultural Adjustment administration. At the same time, it ordered immediate completion of a $10,000,000 seed purchase program on which experts have been working for nearly a week.

Although equipped with a $30,000,000 fund for the purchase of drouth distressed cattle, the AAA has thus far acquired relatively few. Its activities on live stock markets have been confined to preventing severe price declines resulting from liquidation of large supplies.

Hoped to Avoid Purchasing.

The agency until today had hoped to avoid stabilization purchases of sheep and lambs. Recent information from the middle west and northwest drouth areas has been so compelling, however, that it has been decided expansion of the live stock program can no longer be avoided. Accordingly, a series of conferences with processors was launched to determine what charge should be made. Actual beginning of the sheep and lamb purchases awaits official word from the office of the controler general.

Because of the imminence of fall planting and the desire to prevent purchase by farmers of low grade seed, it is understood, the AAA high command has prodded its experts and demanded completion of the seed purchase program in the next few days.

Food and Feed Are Shipped.

With the addition of fifteen more counties in Arkansas, Missouri, and Nebraska to the list of officially designated drouth areas, the AAA said that 1,547 carloads of food and feed had been shipped or ordered shipped into 19 drouth states since early June.

Of the total food and feed shipments, 1,171 carloads, or 54,645,000 pounds, were foodstuffs for human consumption, and 376 carloads or 15,040,000 pounds consisted of millfeed for livestock. Millfeed is a by-product from the milling of flour for relief use from wheat purchased by the government in the Pacific northwest states.

The announcement said shipments to Illinois, West Virginia and Wisconsin had "not been increased because of drouth, as emergency drouth areas in these states were first designated only within the last ten days."

Give Jobs in Drouth States.

The Works Progress Administration announced today that 99,405 farmers in the 13 designated western and midwestern states had thus far been assigned to such jobs. Howard O. Hunter reported to national headquarters here from his Chicago office that at the close of the books today a total of 88,878 farmers were actually at work in these states.

Wisconsin and Illinois, more recent additions to the "emergency" drouth area are getting under way this week, with their drouth relief program, he said. Tentative employment quotas of 10,000 for Wisconsin and 2,500 for Illinois have been authorized subject to change depending upon drouth conditions.

Vote to Reduce Par Value of Calumet-Hecla Shares

Boston, Mass., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Stockholders of the Calumet and Hecla Consolidated Copper company at an adjourned meeting today voted to reduce par value of the authorized stock from $25 to $5 and credit to surplus the amount of capital represented by the decrease. Stockholders also directed officers to procure a relisting of the shares on the New York and Boston stock exchanges, and a reregistration with the Securities and Exchange commission.

HOGS SET NEW 1936 PEAKS ON FAMINE SUPPLY

Packers Boost Prices to Attract More Stock.

New 1936 highs were established in the hog market yesterday when packers were driven by famine supplies to bid up prices in the hope of bringing more stock to Chicago. Receipts during the first two days of this week are below any corresponding period on record and well below half of the normal volume in the period just prior to the pig killing program of the AAA in 1933.

Only 23,400 hogs arrived here Monday and yesterday, compared with 29,778 a week ago and 35,981 two weeks ago. The five year average for these two days, 1929-'33 inclusive, was 53,940, the trade here experiencing its first taste of starvation supplies in 1934. The Monday and Tuesday total a year ago was 24,505 and two years ago was down to 29,016.

Farmers Hold Back Supplies.

Yesterday's hog run was cut to 12,000 as farmers continued to hold back supplies in anticipation of higher prices later on. Advances of 10 to 20 cents were scored during the early rounds of trading, with practically all of the meager offerings of strictly choice 190 to 230 pound averages selling at the upturn.

The new $12.05 top was paid by Vette & Zuncker, north side Chicago packers, for a consignment of Clinton county, Ia., stock averaging 224 pounds. This price showed an advance of 20 cents compared with Monday and was 80 cents higher than early last week.

Only Top Grades Benefit.

Only top grades benefitted by the upturn yesterday, however, other classes selling mostly steady later in the session, with some underweights off as much as 10 to 25 cents near the finish. The average for the day at $10.50 indicated a gain of only 5 cents.

No marked changes were recorded in other live stock. Yearlings and light steers were in broad demand again at stronger rates, others averaging about steady, with spots in plain unfinished weighty stock a little weaker.

Top steers again reached $10 and the bulk sold at $7.50 to $9.50. Beef cows were slow and a shade lower. Fed hefers sold stronger, but grassy kinds displayed some weakness and discounts in places. Calves advanced 25 to 50 cents.

Lambs brought mostly steady rates, top natives to city butchers at $9.75 and to packers at $9.50, with the bulk of good kinds at $9.25 to $9.50.

Lion Oil Acquires Simms Refinery in Arkansas

Lion Oil Refining company yesterday announced it had purchased for an undisclosed consideration the refining plant of the Simms Oil company at Smackover, Ark. The refinery, closed for some time, has a capacity of 150,000 barrels a month. It will be reconditioned.
